OPERATION GIVES SIGHT TO MUSICIAN

Man Blind From Birth Frightened by His First Glimpse of People

LANSING (Mich.) Dec. 16. (Exclusive)—The miracle of sight, a commonplace to normal humanity, was revealed today for the first time to Merwin Jenkins, 25-year-old musician and radio star.

Jenkins, blind from birth, underwent an operation at St. Lawrence Hospital last Friday which permitted him today, when bandages were removed, to catch a glimpse of the visible world for the first time. Frankly frightened by the sight of his two doctors and some nurses who were in the room at the time, he has not yet been given the opportunity to see his young wife and their 2-year-old daughter. He said, however, that he wants to look upon his wife more than anyone else in the world.

As yet, the one eye to which vision has been summoned does not provide normal sight, the specialists in charge of his case said.

The eyeball, anesthetized, was sliced almost in two, leaving a flat surface to which must be fitted a glass lens, now being properly ground. Until this lens is adjusted, it was explained, Jenkins will not be able to see with normal perspective.

Nice Pieces of Paper Turn Out to Be $1150

PARKERSBURG (W. Va.) Dec. 16. (AP)—Shucks! The kids at the Union Mission could have had a lot of fun playing with the nice pieces of paper Ernie Lee found yesterday.

Ernie, 8 years of age, an orphan at the mission home, discovered the papers in a little book in the street, hurriedly summoned his companions and a good time was about to be had by all when a mission worker happened by, took one look, gasped, scooped up the papers and counted—

Ten $100 bills; three $50 bills—that's $1150!

Today the money was returned to the owner—a Parkersburg woman who reported her loss to the police.

Radio Plant to Test Television

NEW YORK, Dec. 16. (AP)—The Columbia Broadcasting System, with the granting of a license by the Federal Radio Commission for a short wave television transmitter atop its New York studios, today made preparations to take its place beside the National Broadcasting Company in conducting test transmissions.

The license calls for the use of the band 2750 to 2850 kilocycles with a power of 500 watts.

STRAIGHT SHOOTING PEACE OFFICER DIES

TULSA (Okla.) Dec. 16. (AP)—Mont Grady, one of the last of the hard-riding, straight-shooting peace officers of Oklahoma's early days, best remembered as the slayer in 1924 of Ed Lockhart, bank bandit, died here today. Grady was also among the possemen who captured Al Spencer, outlaw gang leader.

SPAIN'S RULE TREMBLES

Republic Move Reported

Light Sentences Expected for Captured Rebels; Martial Law in Force

HENDAYE (France) Dec. 16. (AP) All along the Franco-Spanish border today spread reports Northern Spain is in a state of insurrection, with the fires of revolt smoldering.

The strict censorship has caused information to go through roundabout channels and thus the accuracy may be doubted, but enough has come in to indicate Spain is at a critical point despite optimistic assurances from Madrid.

REPUBLIC PROCLAIMED

The town of Logrono is said to be in the hands of rebels who have proclaimed a republic. While San Sebastian was somewhat quieter today following the riots and general disorder yesterday in connection with a general strike, rich Spanish refugees are fleeing to the safety of France. The city is strictly under military control.

From Perpignan came word republican airplanes flew over Barcelona today and dropped proclamations inviting republicans of the great Catalonian seaport to bide their time. Other large cities of Catalonia were visited similarly.

STREETS PATROLLED

Barcelona still was tied up by a general strike with thousands of troops and civil guards alertly patrolling the streets to prevent disorder.

Gibraltar told of persistent reports the Spanish naval forces at Cadiz are supporting the revolutionary movement.

The French frontier guards have been reinforced in the vicinity of Can Franc and are refusing entrance to the republic unless fugitives carry regular passports bearing French visas.

TROOPS ENFORCE ORDER IN SPAIN

MADRID, Dec. 16. (AP)—Spain was outwardly calm tonight in spite of a revolutionary aftermath in the form of an extensive general strike that affected, during the day, almost every section of the country.

Order was enforced by the presence of 75,000 troops and thousands of civil guards called out yesterday under Premier Berenguer's proclamation of a state of siege. They clashed in a number of cities today with strikers, but official reports received in Madrid denied there was bloodshed.

Martial law was still in force, and a strict censorship prevented the circulation, by regular channels, of any news that might serve to alarm the population. Reports that the situation is much more critical than appeared on the surface are denied by officials.

It was known, however, that strikes broke out in Barcelona, center of Catalonian unrest, Cuenca, Orense, Gijon, Saragossa, Lerida, Zamora, Ferrol, Huelva, San Sebastian and Santander. For a time a food shortage was feared in some important cities, but later, through the efforts of troops and policemen who assisted in the protection of reopened shops, restaurants and bakeries, this condition was alleviated.

BUSINESS RESUMED

Nevertheless, heavy patrols of troops are maintained tonight in the important centers of unrest. In most of the points affected, according to government authorities here, business was resumed normally in the afternoon and public services were maintained.

A number of arrests were made

Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, Dec. 16. [To the Editor of The Times:] There must be an awful lot of actors and firms and individuals that have always shown some kind of appreciation to their folks on Christmas, who perhaps this year on account of conditions are not able to do all they would like to and are at a loss just what to do. Wouldn't this be more welcome than a gift? Send each one a note, and tell 'em that they are not going to be fired, that their position is secure. I believe that will be a mighty acceptable Christmas present to everybody that is on salary. It will beat any present you can send to relieve their anxiety and let them go out and do some shopping on their own and thereby help everybody. We are bad off but the world ain't coming to an end yet.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

COLD CONGEALS NORTHEAST

Atlantic Seaboard to Newfoundland in Zero Grip; New England Rivers Frozen Over

NEW YORK, Dec. 16. (Exclusive)—All the eastern seaboard down to the northern part of South Carolina suffered from biting cold today. New England was gripped in many parts by subzero weather and in the Canadian Maritime Provinces and Newfoundland there was a twelve-hour blizzard that killed four seamen and scattered shipping.

One death from exposure was reported at Boston. The official minimum there at 7 a.m. was 4 above, but many of the suburbs reported readings of from 1 to 3 deg. below zero.

NEW ENGLAND FREEZES

The lowest early morning temperatures were reported from Vermont and New Hampshire. White River Junction, Vt., was shivering to the tune of 15 below zero; Northfield, Vt., on the other side of the State, was one point warmer, and a little to the south in Berlin, N. H., thermometer readings stood at 10 below zero.

Several New England cities and towns recorded zero and near-zero temperatures. Woodsville, N. H., with a temperature of 6 below, and Rochester, N. H., with thermometer readings of 3 below, reported the colder of the runners-up in the below-zero contest.

In Western Massachusetts the Connecticut River was frozen over this morning, the earliest freezing date in years, while below-zero reading were common throughout the Berkshires.

NEW YORK SHIVERS

In New York, after a drop to 9 deg. above zero at 7 a.m., marking a new low level for the season and approaching a fifty-six-year record there was a gradual rise in the temperature today although the mercury remained well below the freezing point. At noon the thermometer registered 19 deg. The temperature at 7 a.m., however, was a full 26 deg. below normal for the season and was within four degrees of the record of 5 deg. above zero recorded on December 16, 1874.

Shivering New Yorkers hurried to work through wind-swept streets, sharp, biting blasts from the north and northwest, making the temperature seem even lower than the thermometer indicated.

At Harrisburg the Susquehanna River was frozen over and the temperature was 12 deg. above zero.

Newfoundland and the Maritime Provinces of Canada are under deep snow following a blizzard which yesterday played havoc with communications. The lowest temperature reported was 26 below zero at White River, Ont.

Wintry temperatures prevail as far south as the Texas Panhandle.

RECEDING COLD WAVE LEAVES ONE MAN DEAD

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 16. (AP)—A cold wave, accompanied by snow, which gave many parts of the Southwest a pre-Christmas sheen of white, began a retreat today.

One death was definitely attributed to the cold. Ira C. Crab, 74 years of age, was found frozen to death on his farm near Oklahoma City, Okla.

ANGELENO NAMED AIDE TO ROLPH

Governor-elect Selects Attorney F. C. Cochran as Executive Secretary

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 16. (Exclusive)—Governor-elect Rolph today named Francis C. Cochran, Los Angeles attorney, his executive secretary. The appointment was announced shortly before Rolph was given a farewell dinner by the Chamber of Commerce, attended by hundreds of his fellow-citizens.

Cochran is a graduate of the University of Southern California and of the law school of that institution. He was recommended for the appointment by Warren Bovard, controller of the university; William May Garland, Louis B. Mayer and others. Frank Tetley of Riverside and James Alexander, San Diego Councilman, were named today as likely to be given two of the five State Highway Commissionerships in the new administration. Only one Commissioner, Earl Lee Kelly of Redding, has been named to date.

The Sacramento Chamber of Commerce today asked the Governor-elect to name a Northern California man State Director of Natural Resources, saying 90 per cent of the director's work is in this section of the State.

Rolph will submit his resignation as Mayor January 3, to be effective the same day he takes the oath of office as Governor.

TONOPAH (Nev.) Dec. 16. (AP)—Mrs. Claire Fahy, Los Angeles flyer whose skull was fractured when her airplane crashed here yesterday, had not regained consciousness tonight and hospital attendants said her chances for recovery are small.

An X-ray examination today disclosed the skull fracture and a broken upper jaw, Dr. Robert R. Craig, attending physician, said. He plans to consult a San Francisco specialist by long-distance telephone on a method of treatment.

FATE OF FLOOD-SWEPT VILLAGES NOT KNOWN

ISTANBUL (Turkey) Dec. 16. (AP) Floods in Southern Turkey receded today, but telegraph lines are down and the fate of twenty-five villages in the vicinity of Adana is not known. Thirty are reported dead and at least 1000 homeless in Adana. At Mersine the property damage is estimated at $250,000.

POINCARE'S CONDITION IMPROVED

French Rejoice at News After Paris Report Former President Had Expired

PARIS, Dec. 16. (AP)—Paris sighed with relief tonight on learning officially the condition of former President Poincare is improved slightly.

Throughout the day there had been conflicting reports on the illness of the war-time President.

Awaking to hear M. Poincare was dead, the population of Paris listened all morning to rumors which finally reached the Chamber of Deputies, and many politicians and statesmen immediately left for Rue Marbeau to pay their respects.

Later an official denial of M. Poincare's death was printed, and visitors emerging from the little house on the edge of Paris after talking with Mme. Poincare and other members of the household all agreed his condition was improved.

Although the doctors have maintained the former President's illness is of the nature of a general breakdown with a slight congestion of one lung, the patient experiencing some difficulty in breathing, reports from other sources close to the statesman say he is suffering from the beginnings of partial paralysis.

In spite of reassuring news from the statesman's bedside, the realization M. Poincare is lost to active French politics for all time has caused a feeling of deep regret.

Possible Storm Forming at Sea

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 16. (Exclusive)—The trough of a low pressure area in Central Canada, extending southward into Arizona and New Mexico, caused rain to fall at Eureka today. The Weather Bureau reported .10 of an inch.

Although a new disturbance appears to be forming at sea, lack of ship reports leaves its exact status indefinite. In the absence of such reports the forecast is for fair weather.

DRY AMENDMENT INVALID, NEW JERSEY JUDGE SAYS

Jurist Holds Ratification Should Have Been by Conventions, Not by State Legislatures

NEWARK (N. J.) Dec. 16. (AP)—The adoption of the Eighteenth Amendment, United States District Judge Clark held today, was invalid.

He ruled that only by constitutional conventions, and not by State legislatures, can such amendments, which transfer to the United States powers heretofore reserved to the States, be ratified.

The only immediate effect of his decision, Judge Clark explained, will be in New Jersey, and any arrests for the retail sale of intoxicants in that State will have to be made under the State prohibition enforcement act pending appeal of the ruling. Appeal will stay the effect of the decision until it can be ruled on by a higher court.

Philip Forman, Federal District Attorney for New Jersey, said the decision will affect only Judge Clark's district and that the Volstead Act will continue to be enforced in New Jersey until the remaining three judges on the Federal bench in this State either decide in agreement with Judge Clark or until a decision of the higher courts is reached out the opinion.

Other attorneys concurred with reached on the opinion.

The ruling will be effective only in those States in which United States District Court judges concur in the findings.

TEST CASE DECIDED

Validity of the manner in which the prohibition amendment was adopted was tested before Judge Clark by a group of attorneys—all members of the New York County Lawyers' Association—after a study of two years. The group represented William Sprague, a township clerk in New Jersey who had been indicted for transporting beer. By today's decision the indictment was quashed.

Judge Clark is 38 years of age, an heir to millions, who served in the ranks of the American Expeditionary Forces during the World War. He is the youngest member of the Federal judiciary, but has been called a leading scholar of the Constitution. In a 15,000-word opinion he discussed the proposition that prohibition of intoxicating liquors is a question of government and a problem in political science.

UNSULLIED QUESTION

He called upon nearly 100 authorities in support of his ruling and quoted from their public and private writings at length.

The jurist declared the question involved has never been presented to any court and said he is not bound by any earlier or higher authority.

In national prohibition cases before the Supreme Court of the United States the only matters argued concerned the substance of the Eighteenth Amendment and whether or not an amendment changing the distribution of power between the States and the United States reduced the police powers of the former.

On other issues than that upon which Judge Clark ruled today the Federal courts, including the Supreme Court of the United States, have held the Eighteenth Amendment to be valid.

CHALLENGE VOICED

"The traditional method of adopting amendments to the United States Constitution" he wrote "is challenged. Upon the outcome of the challenge depends the disposition of the case at bar. Even if this opinion meets with a cold reception in the appellate courts, we hope it will at least have the effect of focusing the country's thought upon the neglected method of considering the constitutional amendments in convention."

The court related that in Massachusetts the first Constitution was rejected because it had not been framed by a body chosen for that one purpose. He also pointed out that of eight Constitutions prior to 1787 which provided for amendments, five required that the process be undertaken in some form of convention.

THOUGHT TRACED

"It seems indisputable that local self-government, popular sovereignty and the convention system of drafting and amending constitutions were the 'very warp and woof' of the political thought of the whole period prior to the drafting of the Federal Constitution," he wrote.

Declaring the thought processes of President Lincoln have come to "typify so much the spirit of our institutions," he quoted the Civil War President as follows:

"I will venture to add that to me the convention seems preferable

DRY CHIEFS CONFIDENT

Faith Placed in Supreme Court

Anti-Saloon League Lawyer Says New Point Once Ruled On

No Effect on Enforcement Except in New Jersey Anticipated

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16. (Exclusive)—Federal Judge William Clark's decision in Newark, N. J., that the Eighteenth Amendment is invalid because it was ratified by State legislators and not by constitutional conventions caused a flurry of excitement in the Capitol today but little real apprehension on the part of those friendly to prohibition.

Although a majority of those in authority expressed astonishment over the ruling, they are skeptical of its force in the face of previous rulings by the United States Supreme Court, which have upheld the amendment. Most of them declined to comment upon it without the complete decision at hand.

IMMEDITE EFFECTS

Two points, however, were emphasized. First, it was agreed that the case will undoubtedly be carried to the Supreme Court and compel that tribunal again to go over the question. Secondly, the view was general that Federal enforcement may be temporarily affected in the State of New Jersey.

Officials of the Department of Justice said privately they are positive the decision will not interfere in any way with enforcement outside of New Jersey pending the appeal of the case.

They seemed confident that the Supreme Court will reverse the ruling of the lower court.

According to these officials, virtually all constitutional lawyers contend that there are two distinct and legal ways of amending the Constitution, one through ratification of an amendment by the legislatures and the other through ratification by constitutional conventions. The Eighteenth and other amendments were ratified by legislatures and, apparently, if Judge Clark's decision were upheld, it would threaten all of the amendments now in the Constitution.

DECISIONS CITED

Dry lawyers cited various decisions handed down by the Supreme Court in contending those arguing the case are "threshing old straw," and the court itself already has defended the method of ratifying the Eighteenth Amendment against several previous attacks.

Edward B. Dunford, general counsel of the Anti-Saloon League, quoted arguments he said were advanced before the highest tribunal ten years ago by Elihu Root in contending the amendment was not valid because it had not been ratified by constitutional conventions instead of by State legislatures. He cited the Supreme Court decision in this case as follows:

"The prohibition of the manufacture, sale, transportation, importation and exportation of intoxicating liquor for beverage purposes, as embodied in the Eighteenth Amendment to the Federal Constitution, is within the power to amend reserved

HALF-TON OF DOPE SEIZED

Narcotics Worth $1,000,000 Taken by Customs Men From Boat, but Smugglers Avoid Trap

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16. (AP)—A net spread by customs officers in New York was opened today to disclose $1,000,000 in narcotics, but the smugglers slipped through its meshes. The narcotics—1074 pounds concealed in twenty-five crates of furs—were landed from the steamer Alesia on the 5th inst. Since that time officers with machine guns trained on the pier at Thirty-first-street, Brooklyn, waited in closed motor cars for the narcotic peddlers to appear.

Apparently, however, they became wary when officers of the Alesia searched that vessel for a legitimate shipment which disappeared from the ship's strong box on the voyage from Constantinople. Deciding they had escaped the trap, the Treasury Department today announced the seizure of the narcotics.

The half-ton was reported to be the largest single seizure ever made in this country. Commissioner F. X. A. Eble of the Customs Bureau and Commissioner Harry J. Anslinger of the Narcotics Bureau recently planned a campaign against such smugglers and the seizure came from co-operation between the departments.

Agents who rounded up a gang of smugglers along the Atlantic Coast a few months ago heard rumors of the consignment which was to come from Turkey, origin of many illicit shipments. That country is not a signatory to Hague conventions which prohibit narcotic shipments without permits.

The Alesia, Fabre Line steamer, was met before she touched the United States and followed into Providence, R. I. Agents were watching everyone who left or went to the steamer after she docked.

TALE OF THEFTS IN TRANSCRIPT

Grand Jury Given Details of Beesemyer Deals

He Asserts State Examiners Accepted His Totals

Detection Declared Easy; Money Payment Denied

The remarkable story of the financial dealings of Gilbert H. Beesemyer—how he claims to have been able to abscond nearly $8,000,000 from the funds of the Guaranty Building and Loan Association despite the fact that the company's books were under the scrutiny of State examiners and Beesemyer's employees—was revealed in detail yesterday when the grand jury's transcript of testimony that resulted in Beesemyer's indictment, was released.

The transcript contains the testimony of Beesemyer, Mary A. Wilmer, his private secretary, and Rupert L. Fleury, vice-president of the loan company. A summary of each witness's testimony follows:

SUMS IDENTIFIED

Beesemyer, when sworn, declared that he was willing to waive his constitutional rights and testify. He described himself as secretary and one of the chief organizers of the Guaranty Building and Loan Company, and almost immediately identified various sums on a ledger sheet as amounts he had stolen from the company's funds and diverted to his own uses.

The items he identified were largely listed to the Elmer Oil Company or "G. H. B.," Beesemyer's initials. In the latter instance, the witness declared, the money was used by him for various interests exclusive of the oil development.

BEESEMYER'S STORY

"I want it distinctly understood that the Elmer Company was not in collusion in any way with me in this transaction," the witness told the jurors. "They didn't know where the money came from."

"Now you were secretary of the company throughout this period?"

"Yes, sir."

"And did you manage all the affairs of the company?"

"Yes, sir."

"Did the directors take any part in the management?"

"Well, we held the customary directors' meetings, but I didn't give them any knowledge of this at all."

CHARGED AS OVERDRAFT

"I didn't cover them. I have been charging them to my account as an overdraft."

"Weren't the board of directors aware of the amount of your overdraft?"

"No, sir."

"Did you ever have an audit of the company?" asked Dep. Dist.-Atty. Hammon. "How did you avoid an audit?"

"Never did have one."

"Didn't the board of directors require an audit?"

"No."

"Doesn't the State law require an audit?"

"They haul the books downstairs once a year——"

NOT QUESTIONED

Hammon interrupted here to ask if any official or clerk of the company ever raised any question about the overdraft.

"No," returned Beesemyer, "they just took it in the ordinary course of business. They were told to do it by me and they just simply did it, that is all."

Beesemyer admitted, under questioning by Chief Deputy District Attorney Stewart, that he kept a record of all of his overdrafts and that the figures appeared in red figures on his personal ledger.

"Now, this naturally occurs to the grand jurors," continued Stewart. "You are a State building and loan association and subject to their laws; can you explain how, upon these occasions of examination which I assume were made, the examiners for the State failed to discover that you were overdrawn?"

DIDN'T SEE ACCOUNT

"Well, in the first place, the department has not had an appropriation sufficient to have enough examiners."

"When the examiners would come into the office of the loan association, how many examiners would come?"

"Usually two."

Beesemyer was asked if the examiners ever perused his personal account, and he replied in the negative.

"How do you explain that?" he was asked.

"For this reason: That they were so busy getting through their routine that they would take our control totals, you see, of the individual ledger. For instance, we would have about a dozen controls. Well, the way this was carried, this was just deducted from the control and they would take the tapes, and with the deducting, it would agree with the general ledger, and that was all there was to it."

TELLS OF JUGGLING

Beesemyer was asked further about his account juggling.

"For instance, if your total would show deposits aggregating, say $10,000,000; now what would that reflect—the actual amount that you had on hand, or would that reflect the amount you had on hand, less overdraft?"

"The amount that you state, less the overdraft."

"Then there would, as a matter of fact, if the amount of the overdraft was $5,000,000, and the totals were $10,000,000 or resources, of deposits, there would be actually $15,000,000 deposited?"

"That is right."

"But they never went back of your total of $10,000,000 or $11,000,000, as the case may be?"

"That is right."

"You realized they were negligent in their examination, didn't you?"

HURRY TO GET OUT

"Well, I did, of course, but I also realized that the reason for it was that—they would come in and be in such a hurry to get out because they couldn't get through the State."

"How long would it take them to make the examination of your institution?"

"Well, about four or five days to a week."

Beesemyer said that the loan company at first put out only a yearly financial statement, but more recently had put one out each quarter.

Beesemyer said he owned 65 to 70 per cent of the stock of the Guaranty Building and Loan Association and that the directors were the same that were originally elected.

ACCOUNT IN BANK

"What was your connection with the Bank of Hollywood?" he was asked.

"I was on the board."

"Now what monetary relationship was there between the Bank of Hollywood and the Guaranty Building and Loan Association?"

"Not any at all outside of the ordinary routine business that we would transact with them such as using them for a bank account."

"You kept a current checking account there?"

"That is right."

"In the name of the Guaranty Building and Loan Association?"

"Yes."

"Do you know approximately the amount of money that was in the bank at the time of its closing its doors—of the Guaranty Building and Loan Association?"

"Somewhere around $270,000 and $280,000."

"Mr. Beesemyer, the question has been asked by a juror, approximately, in your best opinion, what will the salvage be?" asked Dist.-Atty. Fitts.

"It depends on how they liquidate it, Mr. Fitts. If they force a liquidation, why you might not get so much out of it, but if they are careful—"

"I know, but assuming they would be—"

"My net worth, according to the way they figure it, was about $2,000,000, but there was a whole lot more than that turned over, I know."

SALVAGE ESTIMATED

"More than that turned over?"

"Yes, everything I have. I haven't held a scrap of paper back. Every share of stock, every piece of real estate, every mortgage, and everything that I own has been turned over to them."

"The approximate loss then will be around $5,000,000?"

"Oh, I doubt that very much."

"$4,000,000."

"I don't think so."

"Would you say $3,000,000?"

"Mr. Fitts, that is just impossible to say until they make an inventory there."

Beesemyer was shown the ledger sheet from his personal account and asked:

LEDGER IN FILES

"Was that—the ledger sheet we have here, was that open to inspection by anybody in the bank, or did you keep it confidentially?"

"Well, I had it—it was down there with the regular — all the other cards."

"Office files?"

"Office files."

"So it would be accessible to anybody?"

"Surely."

"And it would be equally accessible to the State Building and Loan Commissioners, had they chosen to look at it?"

"Surely."

"There surely might be raised in the mind of some employee a question?"

"Yes, there may have been, but they didn't question it, because I was their managing director and they would go ahead. You know how people are afraid of their jobs these days."

ACCEPTED TOTALS

Beesemyer was again pushed for an explanation of how the State examiners could have missed the defalcation. He answered:

"The best way to explain it is that the examiners were always in a hurry because they are pushed for time all over the State. The State never has appropriated enough money to make adequate examinations, and they have always had trouble getting appropriations through. Now they were supposed to examine each association once a year. Sometimes they would get to it and sometimes they wouldn't. Now, you can see it is a great business to run 25,000 accounts, so they get our last reconciliation and just check the totals—with the general ledger, and took our word for it. In other words, they had implicit confidence in me, and I was the one who was at fault."

Beesemyer was asked again if there were any accomplices in the theft and he again denied that there were. He declared that the members of the board of directors also had confidence in him and had never asked for an audit, although at one time there was an audit committee in existence.

EASY TO CATCH

The witness admitted that if the State Building and Loan Division had ever conducted a thorough audit during the five years past the theft would have been discovered.

"Mr. Beesemyer, did the Guaranty Building and Loan Association under your direction ever make any loans to any official, inspector or examiner of the State Building and Loan Commissioner's office?" asked a juror.

"I don't believe we did."

"Did you personally make any loan to any of the inspectors or examiners?"

"No, sir."

"Did you ever pay them any money for their service?"

"No, we have never tangled up with them in any way at all."

Beesemyer was asked if he ever made any attempt to reduce the overdraft, and he replied that it was impossible; that it just grew all the time, in spite of his intentions to replace it when he could. He said he expected to make tremendous profits out of oil and the stock market.

KNEW OF OVERDRAFT

Mary Adelaide Wilmer, secretary to Beesemyer, testified that she had been with the loan company nearly eight years, and that she and Rupert Fleury and Miss Ethel Flanigan, the book-keeper, had knowledge of the overdraft for some time, but just how long she could not recall.

"Have you ever discussed it (the overdraft) with Mr. Beesemyer?"

"Yes. I asked Mr. Beesemyer if he didn't think we ought to try some other way of handling his affairs, rather than overdrawing the Guaranty Building and Loan Association."

"And Mr. Beesemyer said—"

"'Yes, I am going to have that all fixed up in just a little while,' and I think he would have, too."

BEESEMYER GOT MONEY

Miss Wilmer declared that as far as she knew no one but Beesemyer profited by his embezzlements.

"Was there anyone connected with the company, any director, officer or employee, that received any of the money?"

"No, not one, Mr. Fitts. It may sound funny, but we have all been loyal to Mr. Beesemyer, and I will say that of every member of our association."

Miss Wilmer said her salary was $325 per month and that she once borrowed between $8000 and $9000 from Beesemyer to build on some property in the San Fernando Valley, but could not keep up the payments and deeded the property back to him. She said that the loan came from his personal account.

DEFICIT APPARENT

The girl witness admitted that she thought it was remarkable that the examiners had not found the deficit, as Beesemyer's personal card was kept in the regular files.

"Why wasn't an audit made by a private company of these books?"

"Well, they were getting around to it."

"Who was getting around to it?"

"Mr. Beesemyer, I heard him discussing it with the commissioners."

"Had the commissioner demanded it?"

REVOKED AUDIT ORDER

"The Commissioner demanded our association to have the private audit, and later revoked it."

"That is, revoked the order of the examination?"

"Yes."

"What about—when was the order made, if you recall."

"Gee, I don't remember. I saw the letter."

"Approximately how long ago?"

"And when was the order revoked?"

"It was revoked about three months later. Mr. Whitmore said the reason for that was that the accountants felt that they were losing business by doing this business for the State that rather than for the associations themselves."

TERMED EASY MARK

At one point Miss Wilmer stated that various borrowers from the outside of the firm who sought Beesemyer's support in their promotion schemes regarded him as an easy mark.

"What caused his principal losses; Mr. Beesemyer's, I mean," questioned another juror.

"I think oil. You know what oil is like, you keep putting in and sometimes it blows and you get it back in one big piece and I think Mr. Beesemyer had that in mind, that it would cover the whole thing."

FLEURY QUIZZED

Fleury, also under arrest in connection with Beesemyer's defalcations, apparently aroused the suspicions of Dist.-Atty. Fitts by giving testimony before the grand jury that was contradictory to other witnesses.

Fleury asserted that Beesemyer's private ledger showing the $7,661,000 debit was not kept in the regular files, but was kept locked in Beesemyer's private safe where the State examiners or directors of the firm could not have access to it.

"Then if Mr. Beesemyer says the account was kept in the front office, if Miss Wilmer says it was, they are not telling the truth?" he was asked.

"No."

Fleury was told bluntly that his statement was not believed and then asked:

"With whom have you talked since yesterday morning?"

"No one."

"You have talked with Mr. Shaw, haven't you?" (Shaw is an examiner for the State Building and Loan Commission.)

"Not relative to anything relative to this."

"Who told you to tell the grand jury that the account was kept in Beesemyer's office?"

AMONG RECORDS

"No, one."

Fleury shortly after recalled that the ledger in question had only been kept in Beesemyer's safe for a week previous to the last State audit and that before it had been among the savings account records, where it could have been examined.

Fleury admitted that at Beesemyer's behest he had falsified records from the beginning of his employment about five years ago, but said that because of loyalty and an opinion that Beesemyer's investments were in the interests of the company that he had never entertained the idea of reporting the matter to the police.

SIGNED CHECKS

Fleury testified that it was he who signed practically all the checks for money that went to Beesemyer.

"You knew that Guaranty had no interest in the Elmer Oil Company, yet you signed checks payable to that concern?"

"Yes."

"You knew that Beesemyer, when you signed these checks, was using the funds of the Guaranty in his own business."

"Well, yes."

"You knew that was embezzlement, then, didn't you?"

"I didn't consider it in that light."

The witness admitted that his activities amounted to falsification of records, and that when a balance was made for the directors or a stockholders' statement, the overdraft was deducted from the liability statement to make the balance.

WHITMORE HUNTS RECEIVER

"If I do select a receiver for the Guaranty Building and Loan Association he will be a man of outstanding character in the community who will be acceptable to all parties concerned. I am conducting a search for such a man," State Building and Loan Commissioner Whitmore said yesterday. He pointed out that under the State law he may suggest to the State court a receiver to be appointed to untangle the knot into which the association was tied by the admitted defalcations of its manager, Gilbert H. Beesemyer.

Three Federal court actions asking for a receivership are fixed for hearing before United States District Judge Cosgrave Saturday at 10 a.m. Whitmore said that naturally he is proceeding under the State law governing his department. He said that he opposes the Federal proceeding which would throw the association into bankruptcy because, in his opinion, a receivership under that method would not work out as satisfactorily as under the State law. He said he has no such opposition to either of the two other Federal proceedings aimed at an equity receivership except that he believes action should take place under the State law.

Attorney S. S. Hahn announced that he has been authorized by Guaranty Building and Loan Association Depositors' Protective League directors to take legal steps to oppose any bankruptcy or receivership proceedings and further control of the situation by Whitmore. The league, he said, was formed in his office by a group of depositors. He said it is proposing that directors of the association be placed under bonds aggregating $8,000,000, the reported amount of losses, and then be left alone to untangle the organization's affairs.

A civil suit asking $424 from Beesemyer and association directors was filed in Municipal Court yesterday by Paul McAllister through Attorney C. A. Stice. McAllister asserts that he and his wife deposited $530 in the institution of which $424 was embezzled and misappropriated. Directors of the association include O. L. Routt, Harry E. Jones, Charles R. Stuart, Oscar Bishop, Frederick G. Leonard, A. Z. Taft.

In yesterday's account of State court suits filed against the association it was erroneously stated that officers of the association included Sam Kress, Charles Lumpkin, K. J. Koebig and Clifford Gillespie, vice-presidents. These men are vice-presidents of the Bank of Hollywood but not of the association and are not involved in the litigation affecting the association, some of whose officers are also officers in the bank. There are no suits against the bank's officials as such.

MOORE REVIEWS VENTURE IN OIL

Beesemyer's Field Chief "in a Whirl"

Company Had Hard Luck; Paying Now, He Says

Figures on Deals With Loan Company Refused

Hands thrust in his pants pockets and his hat on the back of his head, Earl N. Moore, chunky, genial oil promoter and operator who was sought several days for questioning in the Guaranty Building and Loan crash, paced the floor in a downtown office and wondered how his former financial backer and friend, Gilbert Beesemyer, was getting along up in the County Jail.

Half way in his stride across the room he swung about on a pair of reporters and asked, "What does he say—how does he feel—did he say anything about me?"

When assured that Beesemyer appeared to be in good health and that he repeatedly insisted that Moore knew nothing of the defalcations, Moore nodded his head.

"Yes—" he said, "that's just like him. He's a square shooter. Of course, I knew nothing about this building and loan trouble. Why, I didn't even suspect it. It has come as a shock to me—a shock. I'm in a whirl, fellows. It is everything to me.

TELLS OF MAIL CHARGE

"You see," he continued, "I went to Beesemyer in 1927 and we formed a partnership on picking up and developing sick wells—wells that weren't doing very good and I knew could be improved. I had no money. He knew all about my past history. You know, they had charged me with misusing the mails in an oil deal, although I drilled a deeper hole than any of them. Beesemyer had the money and I had the experience. And we went to work. That's the whole story of it."

Moore said that from 1927 until in 1928 when the Elmer Oil Company was organized by him and Beesemyer, most of the activity was getting leases, particularly in the Huntington Beach field. Their operations became so extensive, he explained, that they could not carry along as partners, and so organized the company. There was no stock. Beesemyer was furnishing the money and Moore was out in the field doing the work.

Their first well was up in Ventura field.

"It was a dry one—very dry," said Moore.

"How much money had Beesemyer put up for that well?" he was asked. Moore said he preferred not to say—he could not say accurately. But it was an expensive well, he admitted. Nor would he say how much money had been advanced up to that time by Beesemyer. In fact, he declined to state any sums at any time.

"Didn't Beesemyer ever say anything to you that led you to believe he was being crowded to furnish money to you for these operations?"

SILENT ON RACE TRACK

"Never. I used to have breakfast with him two or three times a week. I was out in the field all the time, you see. And these were the only times I had a chance to talk to him on our oil work. Or I would call him up and tell about a bad 'break' we had just had. And that was the part about him that I wondered at. He was great! He would just say, 'All right, just fight on with it!'"

Moore said he had not been associated in a business way with Beesemyer before the formation of the partnership in 1927. He declined to affirm or deny reports that he had been associated with Beesemyer in a race-track promotion in Culver City in 1924.

How about his home in Beverly Hills? Yes, sure, he has a home which he built himself in 1920. Yes, there is a mortgage on it from the Guaranty Building and Loan Association. Why not? He was associated with Beesemyer, what more natural than that he would deal with his company on a mortgage?

"I'm telling you this is a great shock to me," he continued. "This means everything to me. I've worked hard and will have to work harder. I have nothing to hide. And I have not been hiding. My attorney notified the District Attorney I would be available whenever wanted, and I will tell all I know."

DEATH THREATS SENT WHITMORE

tioning Dexter during the morning session Beesemyer with Attorney Le Compte Davis appeared before Superior Judge Wood and was arraigned. Davis requested and obtained until Friday morning to enter a plea.

"At this time," declared Davis after the brief court session, "I have nothing to say regarding the future course of my client. I have just been retained in this case. I have not read the transcript. I have not talked to my client or his family and friends and I don't know just what will be done regarding the plea next Friday morning."

STOCK DEALS TOLD

From Beesemyer in his cell in the County Jail where he is being held in default of $250,000 bail, came the announcement, however, that he has no intention of changing his mind and that he intends to enter a plea of guilty.

"I shall plead guilty Friday morning," declared Beesemyer. "I have been instructed by my attorney not to talk, but I can say that I have not changed my mind; that I am going to plead guilty."

It was early yesterday morning that officials searching for Earl N. Moore, business associate of Beesemyer and vice-president and general manager of the Elmer Oil Company, located the oil man in the law office of Richard Kittrelle and took him to the District Attorney's office.

After some questioning by Stewart Moore was ordered to return for examination by the grand jury today. He will be asked to explain the huge sum of money which passed through his hands, according to Stewart, and also his early deals with Beesemyer before the formation of the Elmer Oil Company early in 1928.

COMPLETE RECORD

The course of Beesemyer's embezzlements was further traced yesterday by Milton O. Shaw, State building and loan examiner, who first discovered the plundering of the loan company, and Stewart announced that the little red-ink "theft ledger" kept by Beesemyer disclosed a complete record of the sums taken by him.

At the end of December, 1922, the red ink showed $3201 as the full amount of the theft at that time. In 1923 it had reached $4822.37. During 1924 and 1925 it grew and in 1926 reached $107,051.53. It was once during 1922 that the entire loss was wiped out and a $50 credit shown. This, according to the experts, is the only credit in the ledger.

More than half a million dollars showed against Beesemyer in the "theft ledger" during the early part of 1927 and with the end of the year the account read $657,325. In 1928 the million mark was passed with $1,544,319.88. The next year, according to the experts, is missing, but the grand total up to the crash of the company reaches almost $8,000,000. The huge increase from 1928 to the date of the crash in a great part went to pay for expensive drilling operations of the Elmer Oil Company, according to the auditors.

More than $300,000 worth of checks written on various banks by Beesemyer and carried by the loan company as assets, according to the investigating auditors and experts, have been uncovered in the Guaranty accounts. The checks which are worthless are thought to have played a part in the many deals conducted by Beesemyer with his loan company funds.

A deal in which Beesemyer borrowed $250,000 through a dummy from his own company while Andrew Falch of San Francisco, former Building and Loan Commissioner was in office, and which was supposed to have been returned by Beesemyer after George Walker, also a former commissioner, was in office, is under investigation, it was announced.

TRANSACTION CAUGHT

Falch, according to a statement issued in San Francisco, caught the transaction and ordered Beesemyer to adjust the matter. A short time later he went out of office in favor of Walker and now he says he was informed that an adjustment was made.

Another deal in which the capital stock of the Guaranty company was involved and in which Beesemyer reported that he had purchased $175,000 worth of the stock, but is thought to have paid for it with a worthless check, which was carried on his books as cash, is now being traced by the authorities.

Witnesses to be questioned by the grand jury today are headed by A. Z. Taft, Jr., C. R. Stuart, Harry E. Jones, Orville Routt and Frederick G. Leonard, all directors of the wrecked loan company. Others who will be called are Earl N. Moore, Roy Hiatt, a real estate man; C. W. Lilja, State examiner; Mary Wilmer, private secretary to Beesemyer, Barney A. Rosselle, an auditor; Milton O. Shaw, the State examiner who discovered the loss, and Commissioner Whitmore.

NEW EXCLUSION PROPOSAL GAINS

Passage of Immigration Bill Grows More Probable

Measure to Aid Unemployed Rigid in Restrictions

Bars Would Operate Against All Nationalities

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16. (Exclusive)—Rigid restriction of immigration at this session of Congress as a means of aiding the unemployment situation became increasingly probable today.

The House Immigration Committee approved a resolution for a two-year suspension of immigration from both quota and nonquota countries. Besides classes admitted as visitors and others exempted by the present law the only immigrants during the two-year period ending July 1, 1933, would be fathers, mothers and husbands of American citizens and wives and children of legally domiciled aliens and the number of these limited.

The measure hits at immigration from countries of the Western Hemisphere including Mexico and Canada which are not at present under the quota system. During the two-year period, immigration from these countries would be restricted to the exempted classes.

Hearings on a similar resolution sponsored by Senator Reed of Pennsylvania are in progress before the Senate Committee on Immigration, which is expected to report it favorably.

The House and Senate resolutions both provide for the exclusion of natives of the Philippine Islands.

GERMANY MAY LOSE EINSTEIN

Scientist's Plan to Move to Quieter Country if Hitlerites Win Reported

BERLIN, Dec. 16. (AP)—The Jewish Telegraphic Agency says Prof. Albert Einstein, now on his way from New York to California, may take up his residence in some country other than Germany if the Fascists obtain control of the fatherland.

Dr. Boris Brutzkus, close friend of Einstein, said tonight the professor told him he would prefer to settle in some quiet resort in Southern France, where he could carry on his work quietly if the Hitlerites ever gained the upper hand.

EINSTEIN FAILS TO DENY REPORT

S. S. BELGENLAND, Dec. 16. (AP) When the Jewish Telegraphic Agency's correspondent showed Prof. Albert Einstein a copy of a Berlin report saying he might not return to Germany but would settle in another country if the Fascists should take over the German government, the professor did not deny it but authorized the following statement:

"One should not speak publicly about conditions which he hopes will not come to pass. Still less should one under such circumstances make any decisions in advance or even make public such decisions."

Ten years ago Einstein was offered a professorship at Columbia University but he rejected it because he said his country needed him. In 1925 he was offered a professorship at the California Institute of Technology, at Pasadena, Cal., whither he now is bound, but he declined this offer, too.

MILLIONS IN PROSPECT FOR SPOKANE CEMETERY

SPOKANE (Wash.) Dec. 16. (AP)—A perpetual trust fund that will transform the Peone Prairie burying ground into the most richly endowed cemetery in the world is being arranged here.

John Atkinson, a farmer, made frequent trips to the plot to plant and care for flowers on his wife's grave, and he often wondered who would carry on when he occupied a grave beside his wife. He solved the problem with his $14,000 estate.

His will directed that his money be placed in trust forever, with all the earnings except 10 per cent to be spent in beautifying the cemetery. The 10 per cent is to be added to the principal.

Officers of the bank said they have not figured how many millions of dollars will be in the trust in, say, 200 years.

Atkinson died a week ago.

CONGRESS MAY GET NO RECESS

Relief Dispute Continues to Delay Bills

Leaders Table Plans for Holiday Vacation

Hoover Replies to Senate on Unemployment

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16. (AP)—With the emergency relief program snagged by disputes at both ends of the Capitol party leaders tonight put aside any discussion of a date for a Christmas recess.

President Hoover late today informed the Senate, in response to its request, he had no report to submit from Col. Arthur Woods, the chairman of the emergency commission on employment.

Senator La Follette, Republican, Wisconsin, then introduced a resolution requesting the Senate Appropriations Committee to call Woods and other heads of agencies connected with the employment situation before it to ascertain their views.

Republicans of the House Agriculture Committee rejected a Democratic motion to consider the Senate's $60,000,000 drought relief bill as a substitute for the $30,000,000 measure favored by the President.

HYDE TO BE CALLED

However, the committee decided to call Secretary Hyde to establish the attitude of his department.

Chairman Jones of the Senate Appropriations Committee will ask the Senate tomorrow to recede from some of its amendments to the $116,000,000 emergency construction bill to which the House conferees today refused to agree. Some Democrats announced they would oppose elimination of these amendments. One would take away from the President the power allowed by the House bill to allocate the money as he saw fit. The other, by Senator Couzens, Republican, Michigan, would require that local labor be employed at the highest prevailing wage scale.

PRESIDENT'S REPLY

Replying to the resolution of Senator Shipstead, Farmer-Labor, of Minnesota, which the Senate adopted early in the session, President Hoover said:

"The President's emergency committee has made no report on unemployment. I have received notes and verbal suggestions from Col. Arthur Woods from time to time, and from the departments in the government on this subject. These were confined to guidance in formulation of the recommendations which I have already laid before Congress. Such notes are necessarily passing and tentative, and they represent that confidential relation of the President with government officers which should be preserved."

FILIBUSTER CHARGED

Both Democratic and Republican leaders decided after conferences to put aside temporarily any discussion of a date for a Christmas recess.

Charges of filibuster were leveled against the administration in both branches. Representative Garner, Texas, Democratic leader, in announcing he will consider no Christmas recess until the drought relief bill is enacted, said:

"There is every evidence that the Republican leadership in the House is attempting to filibuster any action on drought relief and it looks as if they have the support of the administration."

After a conference with Representative Tilson of Connecticut, the House Republican leader, Senator Watson, Indiana, majority leader in the Senate, announced "we cannot and will not agree to the Christmas recess until this relief legislation is enacted."

PROGRAM CRITICISED

Senator Robinson, Arkansas, Democratic leader, joined Representative Garner in opposition to any recess until these measures are at the White House.

Senator Shipstead, Farmer-Labor, Minnesota, criticised as inadequate the administration's relief program and argued that President Hoover was filibustering against the increased drought appropriation. He said Mr. Hoover's accusation that sponsors of added relief measures were "playing politics at the expense of human misery" had provoked debate and a week has been required for the Senate to deny the President's accusations.

TAX ON SALARIES FOR RELIEF PROPOSED

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16. (AP)—A blanket tax of 5 cents weekly on employees and 10 cents on employers was advocated in the House today by Representative La Guardia, Republican, New York, to provide relief to those out of work. He said he has prepared a bill to that effect which will include other forms of taxation.

Sizes of Cards Result in Sighs

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16. (AP)—Individuality at Christmas time is one reason for that $56,000,000 Postoffice Department deficit.

Some people send tiny Christmas cards and some huge ones. All this costs the government money, for odd sizes cannot be canceled in the ordinary way and must be sorted separately from the usual "Merry Christmas and Happy New Year" communications.

The Postoffice Department today renewed its yearly plea for the conventional-sized greetings.

Heflin Fights Margin Trading

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16. (AP)—A resolution to prohibit trading in margins on the stock exchanges was introduced today by Senator Heflin, Democrat, Alabama, after a speech blaming economic conditions to manipulations on the New York exchanges.

Bank Bandits Take $50,000

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 16. (AP)—Flourishing revolvers and sawed-off shotguns, six bandits held up the Manchester Savings Bank and Trust Company here today and escaped with plunder estimated at $50,000. The robbery was the third bank hold-up in the Pittsburgh district within ten days.

House Hears Fierce Attack on Reserve Board Head

McFadden Outlines Fears of International Bankers

Garner Accuses Secretary of Tax Refund Misdeeds

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16. (AP)—Tax refunds and international banking aroused a double attack in the House today on Secretary Mellon and Eugene Meyer, newly nominated chairman of the Federal Reserve Board.

Chairman McFadden of the Banking Committee expressed strenuous opposition to the confirmation of Meyer by the Senate while Representative Garner of Texas, Democratic floor leader, asserted Mellon has misled the public on tax refunds.

McFadden's remarks were termed an indictment of the administration by Garner who added if given an opportunity to investigate he can show tax refund irregularities.

"If you want to turn the Federal Reserve system over to international financiers, place Mr. Meyer in that particular post at this time," McFadden declared. "He has a very close connection with J. P. Morgan & Co."

McFadden said international bankers are planning to float bonds issued through the Bank of International Settlements in the United States during the present economic depression to pay off European debts.

ANNULMENT DENIED PAIR IN COMPANIONATE UNION

WHITE PLAINS (N. Y.) Dec. 16. (Exclusive)—Young moderns who practice companionate marriage and birth control were roundly denounced by Justice Bleakley in Supreme Court here today in commenting on a suit for annulment brought by Mrs. Viola Murphy, a Larchmont matron.

The suing wife, who charges fraud, told the court that her husband promised her he would raise a family, but announced after the marriage he would not have children.

The young husband, a sales manager, admitted to the court that he practiced birth control, but added that he began this practice after three months of marriage when he was "tired" of his mate.

"This is one of those afterthought cases," Judge Bleakley said with some heat. "You married this woman and then you tired of each other and you want the court to dissolve the marriage in this easy way. I don't propose to do it.

"It is through cases like this that the Supreme Court is being used to make companionate marriage the law of the land. I don't propose to be a party to legalizing any such home destroying measure. I believe in the sanctity of the marriage bond and I propose to uphold it wherever I can against corrupting modernisms."

LIGHT SENTENCES

Officers involved in yesterday's revolt attempt were under court-martial today and it is expected their sentences will be promulgated tomorrow. The general expectation is they will suffer little more than a reduction in rank.

It is believed the government will not demand the extradition of Maj. Franco, Gen. Quepo De Llano and their companions who escaped by airplane to Portugal yesterday. Theirs being a political offense, it is pointed out, they are entitled to the right of sanctuary in a foreign country.

WIRE COMMUNICATION WITH SPAIN THROTTLED

PARIS, Dec. 16. (AP)—Spanish censorship throttled the telephone service between here and Madrid today. Direct telegraph communication also was impossible. Telephone operators informed callers wire communication was "suppressed." Telegrams were accepted subject to long delays and with no guarantee of delivery.

WEALTHY REFUGEES CHOKE ROADS TO FRANCE

SAN SEBASTIAN (Spain) Dec. 16. (AP)—Private cars and taxicabs today choked the highway along which King Alfonso motors to Biarritz in more peaceful times, for the wealthy of San Sebastian were flocking out of Spain across the French frontier.

Most of them were headed for St. Jean De Luz, France, where already many others have taken refuge. The cab drivers from Hendaye, on the other side of the border, were doing a rushing business.

JUVENILE REBEL KILLED AT DIJON

MADRID, Dec. 16. (AP)—One member of a band of juvenile revolutionists who caused a disturbance in a church at Dijon was killed by a shot fired during the disorder.

A government communique said tonight the outbreak began with the youth's attempting to tear down a marker for Primo de Rivera street on the church facade.

The communique added they then stormed inside, made a bonfire with benches and hymn books and threw two images into the flames.

War Film May Defeat Cabinet

BERLIN, Dec. 16. (AP)—Nationalist indignation at the film "All Quiet on the Western Front" exploded again today in one of the bitterest sessions the Prussian Diet has had in years. It began with a no-confidence motion against Carl Severing, Minister of the Interior, who approved the film, and it ended in a harsh debate between members.

The vote was postponed until Friday.

VIENNA, Dec. 16. (AP)—Scenes of violence which marked the debut of the motion picture "All Quiet on the Western Front" at Berlin may be repeated here if the national Socialists carry out their threats against a theater which plans to show the film in Vienna next month.

FRANCO TELLS FAILURE CAUSE

Spanish Pilot Quits Revolt in Nick of Time

Chased Across Border in Hail of Shrapnel

Blame Miscarriage of Plans on Executed Leader

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS]

MAFRA (Portugal) Dec. 16. (AP)—Ramon Franco, Spain's tempestuous young trans-Atlantic aviator, came into Portugal on the run with shrapnel bursting about him and a squadron of army planes on his tail, but he left behind none of the blazing emotion which led him yesterday into a brief revolt against the Spanish throne.

Today he sat in the officers' quarters of the Alverca Airdrome, his fervor unabated and his round face grave, talking about what led up to the Spanish revolution and explaining why it failed.

"They probably think of me," he said, waving his cigarette in the general direction of Spain, "as an exiled rebel. I tell you I am a patriot, fighting for the freedom of my country. Who says the revolt in Spain is something started by the Communists is lying."

Then for the first time he revealed that all during the time since his recent escape from a Spanish prison where he was being held for a political offense, he had been on the outskirts of the capital.

LOYALTY TO KING

"If Spain could be free under King Alfonso tomorrow," he cried, "I would be a monarchist. We are not fighting against the King. We are fighting for the freedom of Spain. I escaped from a prison because I am a man of spirit and while they looked for me I was never farther from Madrid than a little place on the outskirts of the city. I knew trouble was in the wind and I would not leave my King."

That was as far as he would go about those adventures he must have had beginning with the night when he sawed his way out of the old convent near Madrid which the army has turned into a prison for political offenders.

"They came to me one night," he said, "and asked me to join in their revolution. Understand, I was not the leader of this thing. I was one of the rank and file.

"Well, I said I would join them. I would join any movement, I told them, which would bring freedom to Spain. It was to have begun at 6 o'clock yesterday morning, and it would have succeeded.

TOOK AIRDROME

"But that fellow, Galan," continued he, referring to Capt. Fermin Galan Rodriguez, an officer at the Jaca garrison who was executed at Huesca for the Jaca revolt last week, "he was always a hothead. Always wanted to be out in front. He was too quick. There should have been nothing at Jaca until the time we agreed upon."

He shrugged and went on.

"That gave the government warning. Nevertheless we took the Cuatro Viente airdrome yesterday morning, according to schedule, but from then on our plans went wrong.

"We counted on the support of the artillery. They gave their word of honor they would come in with us, especially the Madrid garrison. I can't understand why they broke their word.

"We took them by surprise at the airport," he said, "and when some of the officers resisted, we just made them prisoners and locked them up in an office. Then we rolled three planes out of a hangar, loaded them with proclamations of the republic and bombs and sent them out over Madrid.

FLIGHT STARTS

"There was enough ammunition aboard to blow up the whole city but we never would have used it. We dropped circulars warning the garrison to surrender and urging the people to join us.

"Well, they didn't. We held the airdrome for half an hour, but when the artillery opened fire we had to quit. We hoisted a white flag and got out three more planes. I climbed into one and the rest of us took the others.

"We had to get away fast, and before we had climbed high somebody opened up with antiaircraft guns. By the time they got the range we were out of danger, but a squadron took off behind us and we headed for the frontier."

"We were over Alverca soon enough. One of our men got lost and headed for Lisbon, looking for Alverca.

"Capt. Tartaro (of the Portuguese air force) spotted the Spanish colors from Amadora Field, took off and waggled his wings at our man, then swung around and led him into Amadora. When they found out we were over at Alverca they joined us right away."

PORTUGAL PONDERS

Franco grew serious again.

"If things had gone on schedule," he said, "I would not be here now. I am not the only one in Spain who will fight tyranny. There are others who make it a point of life and death to rid the Spanish people of cruel oppression, of the aristocracy, of the clergy, of the capitalists, who ride the nation now.

"The time is coming, it is near at hand. We will guide the people along the road to freedom."

Franco and the eleven other men who fled with him into Portugal are quartered in a military ground school here while Portugal ponders the delicate question of what to do with them. Spain and Portugal have a sort of working agreement about returning political offenders who cross the border, and the government here is not anxious to harbor revolutionary spirits.

The "guests" appear to be dissatisfied with their accommodations here, however, and have asked they be permitted to live at Lisbon during the period of their interment. Thus far the Minister of War has refused their petition.

INDUSTRIAL CHINA VISIONED

NANKING, Dec. 16. (AP)—A plea for utilization of foreign capital on a large scale to effectuate the Nationalist government's plan for China-wide industrialization was made today by Sun-Fo, Minister of Railways, in an address to the Cabinet.

INDIA RULE PLAN MADE AT PARLEY

Round Table Committee Favors Responsibility to Provincial Legislature

LONDON, Dec. 16. (AP)—Responsible government for the Indian provinces, with certain safeguards, was recommended today in a draft report of the subcommittee of the Indian round-table conference. The report suggests all provincial matters, including law and order, be administered by the governments of the provinces "in responsibility to the Provincial Legislature."

Nine of the Indian delegates dissented from a provision special emergency powers be given the provincial Governors in regard to legislation and finance in event of a breakdown of the government.

The report also recommended provincial ministers be responsible to the Legislature and be drawn from members of the Legislature.

A difference of opinion arose today on the separation of Burma from India, which has been agreed upon in principle. Some delegates quoted telegrams they had received, contending Burmese opinion is not unanimously in favor of separation. Burmese delegates expressed the opinion Burma should be given full dominion status.

Two Bandits in Chase Die and Three Caught

SIDELL (Ill.) Dec. 16. (AP)—The pursuit of five bank robbers by a posse through the border line region of Indiana and Illinois ended dramatically today on a farm near Sidell, with two bandits dead and three captured.

One of the bandits committed suicide when capture appeared inevitable. Another was killed by the guns of the pursuers. One of the captives was wounded.

A deputy sheriff, Joe Walker, who tried to halt the robbers at Dana, Ind., was believed fatally wounded by the volley of machine-gun bullets poured from the bandit car as it sped through that town.

SCHOOL UPKEEP BY STATE URGED

Tax Equalization Group Sponsors Movement

Amendment on Total Cost Ready for Legislature

Removal of Public Utilities From Rolls Cause

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 16. (Exclusive)—A constitutional amendment designed to place the entire cost of elementary and high school education upon the State will be sponsored at the 1931 legislative session by the newly organized County Tax Equalization Association.

This announcement was made here today by J. H. Hunter, Lassen county Supervisor, and chairman of the association.

Hunter said if the amendment is turned down by the Legislature it will be submitted to the voters by initiative in November, 1932. The association sponsored an amendment at the 1930 election to reimburse counties for the loss of revenue through their inability to tax public utility property.

"Because the property of public utilities," said Hunter, "has been withdrawn from the local tax rolls, education costs must be met almost wholly by taxes upon real property."

In some counties, he declares, the cost of education represents approximately two-thirds of the total tax rate.

WHAT STORY LIES WITHIN THIS RUIN?

Mysterious Adobe Discovered Near Palm Springs

Another "Ghost of Yesterday" in Desert

No one seems quite sure how old these crumbling walls are, or whether they were once part of an adobe, a pioneer's home, a base of supplies or a fort. The ruins were discovered and photographed near Palm Springs by one of the contestants in the photographic and essay Desert Contest now being conducted by the Palm Springs Associates.

LIFE'S SECRETS TOLD BY PLANTS

Arizona Scientist Reports on Extensive Study

Cell Changes Much Similar to Human Beings

Electrical Difference Shows Advance of Age

TUCSON (Ariz.) Dec. 16. (AP)—Three of the mysterious steps that make life, death and old age in plants are shown in experiments made public today at the University of Arizona.

All reveal an electrical condition characteristic of protoplasm, the basic living substance which is found in every form of life, including man.

They are detected in a study of the growth of plant cells by H. L. Van De Sande Bakhuyzen, professor of plant physiology.

CELLS STUDIED

The living protoplasm is divided into two portions in a cell, he finds, one lining the inside wall and the other concentrated about the nucleus, or cell center. There is, he says, a difference in electrical charge on the particles which make up these two protoplasms.

"In some root cells," he says, "this difference exists on one side of the cell but not on the other. These cells act as a suction and pressure pump. In this way water may be pressed up the stem or trunk with considerable force, as can be observed in a bleeding sugar maple or grape vine in spring."

AGE CAUSES CHANGE

As long as a cell is young the difference in electrical charge between wall and center is slight. As maturity comes on, the outer protoplasm increases its negative charge, while the center becomes relatively more positive.

This electrical difference is maintained until old age sets in. With advancing age this tension diminishes and by its effect upon water in the plant seems connected with death. As the electrical tension drops the plant loses its power to retain water, until, when the water retention is very low, the plant dies.

In one and the same plant some cells live much longer than others and Dr. Bakhuyzen says this must be due to a force which keeps up the electrical charge in the longer-living cells. But the long-lived cells seem unable both to maintain continued growth and long life. Nature gives them their life extension after growth has ceased.

Brown Scored Over Vacancies

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16. (AP)—Representative Oliver, Democrat, New York, thinks Postmaster-General Brown "is earning the prize as the meanest man in the United States."

He said so today in announcing the House Postoffice Committee had agreed to his request that the Postmaster-General be invited to appear before that group and explain why he has not filled 5000 vacancies in his department.

"The Postmaster-General," Oliver said, "is out of step with, and actually defying, the general employment relief program."

Hunt for Traces of Giants Fails

TUCSON (Ariz.) Dec. 16. (AP)—Dr. Byron Cummings, dean of the department of archeology, University of Arizona, returned from the Yaqui River country tonight with information bolstering belief that ancient tribes of Arizona and Northern Mexico were allied, but without substantiation of reports of a prehistoric race of giants.

Dr. Cummings went to Soyopa, Sonora, last week, to investigate the reported findings by J. E. Coker, mine operator, of human skeletons eight feet tall. No remains of such proportions were found, Dr. Cummings said, although thirteen skeletons were excavated from an ancient Indian burial ground.

OTHERS TRY ON STATE PATTERN

Texas and Florida Prefer Demands on Congress

Citrus Experiment Stations Like Ours Sought

Large Appropriation Share Comes to Southwest

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16. (Exclusive)—While California receives a satisfactory share of the $221,597,476 carried in the Agricultural Department's appropriation bill for the fiscal year of 1932 presented to the House today, the State's major role is shown as that of a pioneer agricultural scientist.

In co-operation with the Federal government the State has carried a number of agricultural projects to success and now other observing States want the same things. This is particularly true of developments in the citrus industry.

AFTER OUR PATTERN

Both Texas and Florida want, and will get, under the newly reported bill, citrus experimental laboratories patterned after the Los Angeles and Whittier laboratories, which raised the price on cull oranges and lemons from nothing to $18 and $20 a ton. These laboratories were responsible for the development of processes which founded a $1,000,000 industry for the use of waste fruit for citrus by-products in Southern California. Texas also asked for a service similar to the California frost-warning service.

Of particular importance to Los Angeles, home port for three of the major transcontinental air lines, is the extension of the weather reporting service for aircraft. Under increased appropriations proposed more than $1,700,000 is granted for aerology in the bill, an increase of $305,000 over that of last year. Some $146,000 will be expended in extending and improving the weather reporting service between Dallas and Los Angeles, flown by Southern Air Fast Express; $71,000 over the Wichita-Los Angeles run, flown by Transcontinental and Western Air, and $56,000 for extension of the weather reporting service in the Southwest with the information center at Albuquerque.

ALLOTMENT RAISED

Through efforts of Representative Evans of Glendale, and Ivan E. Goodner, Washington representative of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, the soil erosion study appropriation for California was raised from $5000 to $20,000 and incorporated in the $280,000 total appropriation for this work.

The measure carries a total appropriation for Federal aid highway work of $125,000,000. On the basis of previous apportionments California's share of this sum will be in excess of $7,600,000. The State also will benefit by the $12,500,000 appropriation for forest roads and trails.

California will also receive $150,000 for the improvement of national forests within her boundaries. She will also share in the $120,000 appropriation for range investigation. Of this latter sum $20,000 will go directly to the California Forest Experiment Station while $14,000 is allocated the Southwestern Experiment Station, including $7120 for studies of western sugar pine.

A new bureau of agricultural engineering is established and financed by the bill. This new division will spend $10,000 for research work on the water requirements of citrus trees and water duty on irrigated crops. This money will be spent through three stations, including that of the Southwest.

More than $9000 was appropriated for tuna and mackerel packing inspection in California canneries.

Other items totaling more than $4,500,000, in which the State will share, include: Co-operative forest surveys, forest fire co-operation, chemical soil investigation, scale investigation, soil fertility investigation and investigation and control of deciduous fruit, subtropical, truck crop, forest, cotton and stored-up products, insects and the Mexican fruit worm.

Veterans' Bureau Quiz Under Way

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16. (AP)—Investigation of the machinery of the Veterans' Bureau for assigning medical officers was in progress today as a result of charges brought by Dr. Malcolm Cannon, son of Bishop James Cannon, Jr., of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South.

Veterans' Administrator Hines declined to make public details of the charges which came after Dr. Cannon had protested his proposed transfer from Charleston, W. Va., to Milwaukee.

Cannon contended the personnel division of the Veterans' Bureau is mismanaged and officials, in assigning men, use a "lottery" system.

Senator Asks Bread Inquiry

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16. (AP)—A Senate investigation whether existing bread prices are the result of a combination in restraint of trade was asked in a resolution by Senator Wagner, Democrat, New York, today.

The resolution cited wheat and flour prices have declined but that retail bread prices have not reflected such price drops.

BILL WOULD REPEAL I.C.C. POSTAL LAW

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16. (AP)—A bill to repeal the law by which the Interstate Commerce Commission can approve changes in parcel-post rates and regulations was introduced today by Senator McKellar, Democrat, Tennessee. McKellar also introduced a resolution asking the Postmaster-General to withdraw his request for changes under this provision. It would request the commission not to act on the proposal until Congress has had an opportunity to pass his repeal measure.

Child Sacrifice in Cuban Voodoo Rites Reported

HAVANA, Dec. 16. (AP)—The secret police are investigating reports that voodoo worshipers near Havana recently decapitated a small child to make a sacrificial offering to Chango, the mythical god of the cult.

Cuban voodoo worshipers are descendants of former African slaves who practice human sacrifice as a part of their religious ceremonies.

FLOOD BILL INTRODUCED

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16. (AP)—A bill to authorize $1,150,000 to be spent by the Interior Department in protecting the Palo Verde Valley of California from destruction by floods or channel changes in the Colorado River was introduced today by Senator Johnson, Republican, California.

MAIL CONTRACT ABUSES AIRED

Smoot Proposes to Amend Shipping Act

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16 (Exclusive)—An amendment to the Shipping Act prohibiting the awarding of ocean mail contracts to steamship lines operating in coastal or intercoastal trade was introduced in the Senate today by Senator Smoot of Utah, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee.

Senator Smoot said the purpose of the legislation is "to prevent unfair competition in the coastwise trade between lines which have mail contracts and coastal lines which do not have mail contracts."

This is the first move made in Congress to remedy a potentially unfair situation which for some time has seriously alarmed shippers engaged in the coastal and intercoastal runs. Already several fat mail subsidies have been granted steamship companies which qualify technically through touching as an incident of navigation at some foreign port such as Colon and then proceeding on in the intercoastal trade under a largess from the government which enables them to reduce their rates to a schedule below that upon which a competing line not having a subsidy can afford to operate.

Hawaii is in the intercoastal zone, but some lines running there have mail contracts, while others do not.

IF NONPAYING TENANTS STAY, HE WRECKS HOUSE

OLYMPIA (Wash.) Dec. 16. (AP)—A new effort to evict tenants who refuse to leave, after failing to pay rent, has been devised by Ed Henderson, real estate man. He simply removes the house from the renter.

Armed with an ax, Henderson went to two houses owned by him where tenants refused to pay overdue rent and proceeded to remove doors, windows and even walls by chopping them out. After wrecking both houses he surrendered to the Sheriff. He was remanded to police on a disorderly conduct charge.

The tenants have not yet moved, but Henderson believes the generous quantity of fresh air given them will make them change their minds.

ROLPH WILL TRY TO WIN ARIZONA

Governor-elect Plans to Achieve Dam Pact

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 16. (AP)—Governor-elect Rolph said today he will try to reconcile differences between California and Arizona over Boulder Dam when he becomes Governor.

After a conference at the City Hall here between Rolph and Gov. Balzar of Nevada, Rolph said he will attend the inauguration of Gov. Hunt of Arizona in January, and will at that time confer with him on the Boulder Dam issue.

Rolph said Balzar pledged co-operation of Nevada and Nevada officials in an effort to settle the issue amicably.

Order Made for Freight Refunds to Oil Concerns

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16. (AP)—Freight refunds totaling more than $100,000 were ordered today by the Interstate Commerce Commission on petition of eight oil companies.

The largest is to the Shell Oil Company against the Pacific Electric Railway and the Southern Pacific Company for $45,664.

The Seaboard Airline Louisville & Nashville, Georgia, Florida and Alabama and St. Louis and San Francisco railroads were ordered to pay the Continental Oil Company $29,604.

Sinclair Oil and Gas Company will receive from the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific and other lines $623.

DRY LAW VOID, JUDGE DECIDES

Amendment's Adoption Said to Have Been Invalid

Conventions Held Necessary to Cut State Powers

Lincoln and Others Quoted in Defense of Ruling

in that it allows amendments to originate with the people themselves instead of only permitting them to take or reject propositions originated by others not especially chosen for the purpose, and which might not be precisely such as they would wish to either accept or refuse.'"

POLITICAL SCIENCE

Judge Clark presented at length his theory that the United States frame of government is a problem in political science, to be solved as far as possible according to scientific principles.

"Political science," he wrote, "can given only one answer to the question presented by the alternative methods of ratification prescribed by Article V (of the United States Constitution.) If the amendemnt to be considered is one designed to transfer to the United States powers heretofore reserved to the States or, if there are any such, to the people, that answer must be in favor of the convention method.

"This follows from the character of such amendment and from the character of the delegates to, and deliberations in, a constitutional convention as compared with the corresponding character of the personnel of State legislatures and their deliberations."

ILLUSTRATIONS GIVEN

The jurist then pointed out what he considers pertinent illustrations to support his contention that constitutional conventions are preferable to State legislatures in dealing with amendments.

The ratification of the women's suffrage amendment in Tennessee, Judge Clark related, resulted in the last analysis "upon the change in the vote of a youthful legislator of that State who very sensibly declared he had always been in the habit of following the advice of his mother." Records showed, he went on, that the Missouri Legislature ratified the Eighteenth Amendment in fifteen minutes.

"It is possible to obtain as delegates to a constitutional convention a higher grade of men than on the average fill the halls of our State legislatures," Judge Clark said, and quoted Representative Luce:

"'When a man is out of office his sole object is to attain it; and when he has attained it his only anxiety to is to keep it. In his unprincipled dread of losing his place he will readily go to all lengths.'"

"Manifestly," the judge observed, "none of these influences can affect the delegate to a constitutional convention and he can be disturbed by no hope of political gain or fear of political punishment."

A convention, the court wrote, either because of directly instructed or abler delegates is a better vehicle for the expression of public opinion than a State legislature, and "its ultimate acts will, because of this fact, command greater popular support."

"DUE PROCESS" ANGLE

Judge Clark pointed out that his decision today should not affect other amendments ratified by State legislatures.

Judge Clark said in pondering the question before him he gave thought to why the Eighteenth Amendment had not been tested in relation to the "due process" clause of the Fifth Amendment, which is applicable to the United States. The Fourteenth Amendment, which is applicable to the States, has withstood two attacks in the Supreme Court, he pointed out. The attacks were concerned with laws permitting vaccination and sterilization.

"Equally we think the efficacy of the Eighteenth Amendment, its enforcing legislation in preventing the spread of intemperance, should be the criterion in deciding upon its validity under the due process clause of the Fifth Amendment," the court said. "We see no difference between improving the health and morals of the people by the application of serum or the knife and improving their health and morals by closing their mouths to drink. To determine this efficacy, we willingly admit, is a task in comparison to which the activities of Hercules in the Augean stables are child's play."

METHOD PRESCRIBED

Such determination, the court held, can be reached only by the method of testimony in open court with cross-examination and stenographic records.

"We do not consider it can be done in the halls of legislative bodies or in the chambers of executive commissions, both of whose proceedings are subject to political criticism and whose witnesses are bound to be the result of a more or less arbitrary selection," the judge said.

U. S. Atty. Forman represented the government and Frederic M. P. Pearse of Metuchen, Seldon Bacon, Daniel F. Cohalan and Julius Henry Cohen of New York were counsel for the defendant, Sprague.

DRY LEADERS NOT WORRIED

by the Fifth Article to such Constitution."

REFERENCE TO SLAVERY

Oliver W. Stewart, president of the Flying Squadron Foundation, contended that the amendment abolishing slavery had been ratified in the same way as that prohibiting liquor and that both are invalid if one is.

Other dry leaders declined to comment pending a study of the decision.

The most recent case involving the constitutionality of the Eighteenth Amendment to come before the Supreme Court was that of A. Stanley Copeland of Buffalo, N. Y., who challenged the amendment under nine different points. The court refused to assume jurisdiction of the case. The Newark case, however, differs from the Copeland case and others which have come to the Supreme Court in recent years in that the government is placed on the defensive by the decision of the lower court. In all of the previous cases the lower court has followed the earlier decisions of the Supreme Court and held the amendment valid.

The constitutional convention plan of amending the Constitution has been widely discussed recently as a quick way of repealing the Eighteenth Amendment and it was rumored recently that such a plan had been considered by the Wickersham committee. It also has been advocated by such wets as Representative Graham of Pennsylvania, chairman of the House Judiciary Committee. However, no prominent persons have recently challenged the equal validity of amending the Constitution by ratification of the State legislators.

SHEPARD STICKS TO STATEMENTS

Accused Wife Slayer Defends Himself on Stand

Tells How He Met Brandon Girl at Air School

Lack of Love in Home Cited by Army Officer

KANSAS CITY, Dec. 16. (AP)—Under cross-examination Maj. Charles A. Shepard insisted on the witness stand late today he did not propose marriage to Miss Grace Brandon, young stenographer, until approximately four months after the death of the wife he is charged with having poisoned.

The prosecution, which charges Shepard poisoned Mrs. Shepard so he would be free to marry Miss Brandon, had not completed its questioning when court adjourned. Shepard will go on the stand again tomorrow.

CLINGS TO STATEMENTS

Dist.-Atty. Brewster in conducting the cross-examination attempted to tear down Shepard's direct testimony that while he paid attentions to the San Antonio girl prior to Mrs. Zenana Shepard's death at Fort Riley, Kan., June 15, 1929, he did not become engaged to her until October, 1929.

Under the prosecution attacks Shepard clung to his statements that his sentiments were of "friendship and admiration" for Miss Brandon until love flowered after his bereavement.

In a long session on the stand in the hands of his own attorneys, Shepard emphatically denied he poisoned his wife; testified alcohol and narcotics, to which he said she was addicted, had wrecked her health and made her despondent, and related he had done all in his power to help her overcome the liquor habit and save her life.

TELLS OF GIRL'S KINDNESS

He said Miss Brandon, whom he first met while he was stationed at San Antonio taking a flight surgeon's course late in 1928, was the "first woman in years who had ever taken an interest in me." She was kind and sympathetic, he said, and he "admired her very much."

Replying to a question by the District Attorney as to the spirit which prompted him to write a letter with an endearing salutation to Miss Brandon the day Mrs. Shepard died, the defendant said:

"I loved my wife. She did not love me. We had not lived together as man and wife for six years. She told me several times she did not love me."

FARMER FILLS PREMIER'S SEAT

Ontario Cabinet Minister Takes Over Reins

Became Rich Despite Lack of Desire for Money

TORONTO (Ont.) Dec. 16. (Exclusive)—George S. Henry, the city boy, who reversed the proverb by going to the country and making good on a farm, today became Premier of Ontario.

Because he was not ambitious, had no desire to make money, he abandoned all thoughts of city life after he had graduated from college and started the study of law. Nearly forty years ago he went to the farm he has since occupied not as a country estate, but as an actual farm worked by the owner and the hired man. He still lives in the same house. He proposes to keep on living in his farm house and motor daily to the Parliament Building. His farm is only six miles from the city limits.

He drifted into politics without planning a political career. He had no desire to become wealthy, but is the wealthiest man ever to be Premier of Ontario. When dairy farmers were hard pressed years ago he took the lead in organizing a farmers' dairy company which made fortunes for its stockholders.

The new Premier, a strict teetotaler and for years a stanch prohibitionist, as head of the government will be responsible for a government-controlled liquor sales running into $40,000,000 a year. He now feels that government control is a lesser evil than prohibition.

As a Cabinet Minister for a decade he has not changed his frugal farm habits and still teaches a class in the cross-roads Sunday-school. As Premier he intends to keep on teaching the class.

Henry succeeds G. Howard Ferguson, perhaps the most popular Premier in the history of the Province. Ferguson has resigned to become Canadian High Commissioner to Great Britain.

Plane Flying Over Golden Gate Will Undertake to Communicate With Eight Countries

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 16. (Exclusive)—Flying at an altitude of 10,000 feet, a thirty-passenger plane of Transcontinental and Western Air will communicate with eight countries in an epochal interlinking of radio, telegraph and transoceanic cables, Friday. The demonstration will be conducted by Postal Telegraph-Cable Company and Transcontinental and Western Air jointly, the plane flying over the Golden Gate. There will be brought into play also the world-wide facilities of International Telephone and Telegraph Company and efforts will be made to obtain answers to the questions asked while the plane still is in the air.

During the tests, Bud W. Gerhard, Commander of the American Legion in California, will exchange greetings with commanders of posts in London, Paris, Shanghai, Buenos Aires, Honolulu, Guam, Manila and New York City.

Not only will the plane communicate with foreign countries through wire and cable connections, but it will seek to establish direct touch with ships in mid-Pacific and mid-Atlantic as a demonstration of the facility with which air passengers may keep in touch with business or home, from any part of the world.

Lenin Successor May Drop Reins

MOSCOW, Dec. 16. (AP)—The exigencies of soviet politics today indicated the prospects of another shake-up in administrative posts in the government which may reach even as high as Alexis Rykoff, president of the Council of People's Commissars, which post corresponds to that of Premier in other countries.

Because of severe criticism by various organizations throughout the union of his former "Right Wing" activities, Rykoff may soon request the Central Executive Committee to relieve him of his position.

FARM EXPERTS FORESEE GAINS

Advance in General Price Level Indicated

Western Conference Held in Salt Lake City

Evidences of Recovery Given in Report

SALT LAKE CITY, Dec. 16. (AP)—Farm economists and extension directors of the western States anticipate an improvement in the demand for farm products and a "slow but heartening" advance in the general price level during the next two years.

This opinion was expressed in a report today of the States' committee on the business situation and the demand for agricultural products to the western agricultural conference in session here.

The committee, headed by Dr. P. A. Eke, agricultural economist of Idaho, supported its view with statistical information on production, consumption and on the trend of depressions and recoveries in the past.

"The domestic demand for farm products," the committee report said, "is likely to be an improving one by the end of 1931 or the first part of 1932."

Dr. O. C. Stine of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics of the United States Department of Agriculture in a report to the conference listed three things which indicate a recovery. He said a larger amount of money was in circulation during November than the seasonal increase would account for; that the price of high-grade bonds is moving upward and that all commodity prices are down about to the bottom of the 1921 depression and some of them are beginning to show improvement.

He saw a logical argument for an upturn in the near future and said he anticipates some improvement in farm prices in the next few months.

The general world-wide depression was blamed largely for the present low prices by both the committee and Dr. Stine.

ONLY THREE IN HUNTING PARTY FINED

Hollywood Motion Picture Notables and Others Get Exoneration in Court

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 16. (AP)—Three men, described as professional hunters, were the only members of a Hollywood geese-hunting expedition to Willows who were formally charged and subsequently fined today when arraigned in the United States District Court on charges of violating the Migratory Bird Act.

The other members of the party, including J. L. Warner, motion-picture magnate; Raymond Griffith, actor, and Frank Dewar, undersheriff of Los Angeles county, were exonerated. On the motion of U. S. Dist.-Atty. Hatfield, who prosecuted the case, Judge Kerrigan ordered the guns and hunting licenses returned to all the hunters with the exception of the convicted trio.

Those found guilty are John H. Cavier, Lloyd Quinton and Hans Mason. Each was fined $50.

Prized Jefferson Letter Restored

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 16. (AP)—A faded but legible letter written by Thomas Jefferson, purchased at a cost of $23,000, today was added to the collection of Dr. A. S. W. Rosenbach, historian and art collector of this city.

It was found in a battered, old trunk at the home of Mrs. Raleigh Minor, Charlottesville, Va., and supplies a missing link to a collection of letters written by signers of the Declaration of Independence, which Dr. Rosenbach values at "more than $1,000,000."

WASHINGTON LETTER FOUND IN NEWPORT, R. I.

NEWPORT (R. I.) Dec. 16. (AP)—W. Norman Sayer, newly elected City Clerk, inspected the recesses of the City Hall vault today and found an original letter from George Washington. None of the present occupants of the City Hall was aware of its existence.

The letter was addressed to "the freemen of the town of Newport," and bore the date August 19, 1790. It thanked the people of Newport for their hospitality on the occasion of his first official visit as President. Historical records show that Washington was in Newport on August 17, 1790.

WEST LONG BRANCH (N. J.) Dec. 16. (AP)—Wilda Bennett, musical comedy star, whose appearances in court have been almost as widely heralded as those she made on the stage, had a third husband today after dropping a $20,000 damage suit she brought against him for injuries in an automobile accident.

DEFENSE WINS POINT IN SUIT

Secretary Wilbur and Smith Affidavits Stricken Out

Geologist Says State Plan to Save Gas Kills Well

Ratio of 10,000 Cubic Feet to Barrel of Oil Advised

HANFORD, Dec. 16. (Exclusive) Defendants in the State of California's gas wastage injunction suit, on trial in the Kings county Superior Court, scored a point today when Judge S. L. Strother ruled favorably on a motion to strike from the records affidavits of Ray Lyman Wilbur, Secretary of the Interior, and George Otis Smith.

These affidavits were read into the record of yesterday's session of the injunction hearing by Attorney James S. Bennett, counsel for the State. In substance they are an expression of the opinion of Secretary Wilbur and Smith in regard to gas wastage, being favorable to control thereof. The affidavits were stricken from the records on motion of Attorney Arthur Smiley, representing the Milham Exploration Company, who argued that their contents are immaterial and have no bearing on the situation in the Kettleman Hills oil fields.

Following the ruling of the court, Attorney Smiley asked the court to reconsider its decision rendered several weeks ago, overruling the demurrers of the defendants, and moved that the application for an injunction be dismissed. The court announced that it would reserve its decision on the dismissal motion.

In opening the defense today Attorney Wellborn read a number of affidavits, one of which was that of R. J. Pemberton, a geologist employed by the Petroleum Securities Company. The affidavit was a minute description of the structure of the North Dome of the Kettleman Hills, locating the various formations down to the temblor from which the oil is produced.

The gist of the affidavit was that it will be impossible to produce the amount of gas asked by the State without actually killing a well.

If any ratio of production is attempted by a court order, declared the affidavit, it should be on the ratio of 10,000 cubic feet of gas to every barrel of forty-two gallons produced.

B. & O. President Talks on Unemployment

The Times Forum, KHJ, at 1:30 p.m. Stuart Buchanan—Radio Playlet. "Bill" Rutherford, reader. World-wide News, 12:30, 4:45 and 10 p.m.

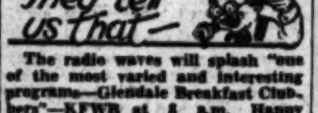
BY JOHN S. DAGGETT

Radio salutes the centenary of Simon Bolivar, the "George Washington" of South America—this will come to your dial at 12 noon over both the National and Columbia broadcasting chains, KHJ and KFI.

Included on this program will be an address by Secretary of State Stimson to the diplomatic representatives of the twenty-one American republics. He will eulogize the Liberator and place a wreath on his bust. An excellent musical program is promised by the United States Marine Symphony Orchestra and the George Washington University Chorus.

"Sunny Side Up" speeds out to you over KHJ at 7 tonight. It is replete with fast-moving musical numbers that came from the same song composers who turned "Good News" and "Just Imagine" upon the waiting world. Remember the story —"a little shop girl from the East Side of New York—a Swede clerk —and a hero, too." This is another highlight of KHJ's "On With the Show" series.

Besides these two outstanding programs—



They tell us that—

The radio waves will splash "one of the most varied and interesting programs—Glendale Breakfast Clubbers"—KFWB at 8 a.m. Happy Chappies, Manley and Sands, Albert Von Tilzer—Jose Arias and his Mexican Entertainers—Carlotta Cortez—contralto—Here Comes the Sun —and it must be good.

For skiing, the costume is warm and well tailored, with trousers slightly baggy at the ankles above fitted, knit ankle bands, with smooth-fitted hips and high collared, belted coat.

For skating, the costume with divided skirt is graceful and unrestricting. With bright harmonizing sweater, cap and scarf, heavy hose and gloves, an attractive and comfortable outfit is assembled.

Four-piece costumes, consisting of skirt, slipover sweater and beret of heavy tweed knit material and jersey blouse, offer warmth and smart appearance.

Many ensemble costumes, or individual garments from which to assemble one's own outfit, are presented in the Sportswear Section, variously priced.

LETTUCE CROP MOVEMENT ON

Imperial Valley Shipments Under Way Early

Average of Ten Cars Daily Rolling to Market

Grower's Society Secretary Tells of Conditions

Shipments of lettuce from the Imperial Valley are now running from nine to ten carloads daily, Chester B. Moore, secretary of the Western Growers' Protective Association, stated yesterday. According to quality, the lettuce is bringing from $2 to $2.50 a crate f.o.b.

The crop movement started about two weeks earlier than last year. A considerable part of the early crop apparently has been eliminated due to weather conditions, Mr. Moore said.

The total acreage planted to lettuce in the Imperial Valley was estimated by Mr. Moore at 44,000 acres which is about the same acreage as last year. Prices have been affected this year by market conditions due to the general business depression, but the Imperial Valley lettuce is coming to the market under fairly favorable circumstances, Mr. Moore pointed out.

Depending on the weather conditions and the market demand, the Imperial Valley lettuce deal this year will represent from 14,000 to 18,000 carloads, it is anticipated. The first carload shipments started about five days ago.

Headed by L. K. Small, a co-operative organization of eight growers controlling about 10,000 acres of lettuce, is planning to hold an auction at El Centro shortly. This represents the first co-operative movement on the part of the growers in conducting their own auctions, according to Mr. Moore.

Group of City Bonds Up for General Sale

Beet Grower in Utah-Idaho Hit

SALT LAKE CITY, Dec. 16 (AP)—Because of the present situation in the sugar market, causing the accumulation of large stocks, the Utah-Idaho Sugar Company will be unable to complete its payments to growers immediately, it was announced today by Willard T. Cannon, vice-president and general manager.

He said growers will be paid $2 a ton at this time and the remainder of the contract price of $7 a ton as soon as possible. The total amount owing to growers for their December deliveries, he said, is about $1,400,000 of which they will be paid about $400,000 at once. Three-fourths of this year's crop has been paid for.

WOOL MARKET

BOSTON, Dec. 16. (AP)—A demand is being received on several grades territory wools, including 58s and finer qualities. Strictly combing 58s brings 57 to 60c. scoured basis. Demand for this grade, however, continues very narrow. Demand for strictly combing 64s and finer territory wools is slightly better, owing to the restricted supply of choice Ohio and similar wools of equivalent grades. Prices of the best offerings of strictly combing 64s and finer territory wools are in the range of 71 to 73c, scoured basis.

FOREIGN TRADE IN SETBACK

Volume of Imports and Exports Sharply Lower for November

WASHINGTON, Dec. 16. (AP)—The United States had a favorable foreign trade balance of $84,300,000 in November.

Figures announced today by the Department of Commerce showed exports totaled $289,000,000 and imports $204,700,000. In November, 1929, exports were $442,254,000 and imports $338,472,000.

For the eleven months ending November 30, 1930, exports were $3,568,473,000, compared with $4,814,444,000, in 1929, and imports for the eleven months were $2,853,336,000 compared with $4,089,552,000.

Gold exports during November, 1930, were $5,008,000 and $30,289,000 in November, 1929, and imports were $40,159,000 compared with $7,123,000.

For the eleven months period in 1930 exports of gold were $115,931,000, compared with $44,036,000 in 1929, and imports were $363,275,000, compared with $283,526,000.

Imports of $204,700,000 were the smallest since October, 1921, when they dropped to $188,000,000.

Silver exports for November totaled $4,102,000, compared with $8,678,000 in November, 1929. Imports were $2,643,000 compared with $5,144,000.

For the eleven months ending November 30, exports of silver totaled $50,684,000 compared with $77,038,000 for the corresponding period in 1929. Imports were $40,091,000, compared with $59,461,000.

Price of Flour on Coast Off to Long-Time Low

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 16.—Sperry Flour Company, subsidiary of General Mills Corporation, today reduced prices of family flour 20 cents a barrel, making the Drifted Snow brand $5.80 a barrel with the weight of two ninety-eight-pound sacks. The price established a new low for the year and the lowest price quoted on the Coast for many years.

Gold Medal K. T. flour now sells at $6.10 and other brands correspondingly lower.

The recent drop in cash wheat prices on the Pacific Coast foreshadowed the present reduction in flour quotations.

The reduction made by the Sperry company was part of a general price reduction in which most California Flour Mills participated. Officials pointed out that it was not a price cut by any individual company, but was in line with the general decline of cash wheat prices on the Pacific Coast.

CREDITOR DIVIDEND VOTED

IDLE MONEY FLOODS BANKS

Year-End Statements to Show High Liquidity; Federal Reserve Facilities Not Used Here

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Around the end of this month, when the national and State banks report their condition in response to the periodical requests from the banking authorities, the liquid position of the nation's banks will unquestionably be the best in history.

For the last year idle money has been accumulating in the banks in enormous sums. Because of the international business depression the demand for commercial money is virtually at a standstill, while the once voracious stock market no longer consumes capital with its former appetite.

RESERVE CREDIT IDLE

With no place else to go, this capital now lies at rest in the banks waiting an opportunity for profitable employment. At the same time the Federal Reserve System, with its enormous resources for lending credit to the banks, stands in the background with its machinery idling along waiting for the banks to renew their demands.

In Los Angeles this situation is reflected in the weekly reports of the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco for the Twelfth Federal Reserve District. The banks in this city have so much money on deposit, for which the demand from borrowers is only negligible, that not a single member of the clearinghouse association is using the Federal Reserve facilities at this time.

A year ago at this time the Los Angeles banks were borrowing a few hundred thousand dollars from the Federal Reserve, and the commercial demand for money at that time was active. Banks in this city never have been large customers of the Federal Reserve because the constant drift of capital in this direction has enabled the banks to supply the borrowing demand without difficulty.

In the whole Twelfth Federal Reserve District the member banks are only making nominal use of Federal Reserve credit. Bills discounted by banks at the Federal Reserve as of the last report on the 10th inst. totaled $5,994,000, and practically all of this credit was for the account of the small country banks for crop-moving purposes. A year ago the bills discounted in this district totaled $64,000,000, or a decrease of about $58,000,000 in the use of reserve bank credit.

DEMAND QUIET

Bills discounted in the entire Federal Reserve System on the 10th inst. only amounted to $257,000,000, a decrease of $512,000,000 from the same week in 1929.

While banks are proud of high liquid positions that will be shown in the year-end statements, they will also make a relatively satisfactory report of earnings for the year. The high level of 1929 profits will not be reached, but the income from interest, investments, bond departments, trust departments, and various subsidiary activities will compare favorably with the average for the last five years.

Naturally the nation's banking institutions will be happier when their own tremendous resources are more fully employed, and when it will be necessary to call upon the $5,000,000,000 of auxiliary resources controlled by the Federal Reserve System.

A chain of forty high-class candy stores and restaurants are operated by this company under the familiar name of "Schrafft's." Most of these stores are located in the metropolitan area of New York, with the remainder divided between Boston and Syracuse. Retail outlets are supplemented by plants in all of these cities manufacturing the greatest portion of the ice cream, pastry, and confectionery sold. Sales of its quality confections account for about one-third the organization's total business, and the wholesale department has inaugurated an advertising campaign to further increase candy sales in the territory east of the Ohio River. A sales agreement with the American News Company gives the company's products distribution at all the former's news-stands.

Lower restaurant business in 1930 perhaps explains the moderate decrease in nine months' earnings to $1.34 per share from the $1.65 figure for the 1929 period. Full year net is estimated at about $2 a share.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Dec. 16. (AP)—An early advance in cotton on trade buying and covering promoted by relatively steady Liverpool cables was followed by declines in the market today.

After the early demand had been supplied, buying was apparently restricted by the action of the stock market and the reported bank closings in the Carolinas and prices yielded under comparatively small offerings.

After selling up to 9.86 early, March declined to 9.60, compared with 9.64 at the close yesterday, but steadied on a renewal of covering at this figure. The midafternoon market was quiet and about 4 to 6 points net higher.

HOPES DIM FOR SUGAR PACT

American and Cuban Envoys to Europe Face Uphill Task in Move for World Cut in Production

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

(Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance)

NEW YORK, Dec. 16.—Thomas L. Chadbourne of New York and his Cuban associates, meeting in Brussels, have been finding much more difficulty in persuading the beet sugar growers of Europe to agree to a reduction in acreage than they experienced with the Javanese producers at the conference in Amsterdam.

Java agreed to restrict exports to 2,300,000 tons in 1931, compared with the normal exportable surplus of 2,700,000 tons.

Of course, this is not the whole story, for Java is allowed to increase her exports at the rate of 100,000 tons each year until 1935, when 2,750,000 tons are allowable.

Thus Java will reduce its production by about 10.5 per cent for the five-year period. Cuba, on the other hand, has agreed to cut down her production to about 23 per cent and in addition to hold back 1,500,000 tons of sugar for marketing over the next few years, at the rate of 300,000 tons per year. So it is Cuba—not Java—where the real sacrifice is being made.

If the beet sugar groups of Europe can be persuaded to agree, it might work out, even though no world restriction program has yet succeeded in any industry.

Commenting on this subject the Brookmire Economic Service says:

"In a broad sense, we do not look with favor on artificial measures of bringing order to distressed industries. But we have felt for some time that the sugar industry has had more than its share of troubles and view the present attempt to rectify this condition as justified."

It's an experiment very much worth watching, for if it succeeds it may be the beginning of world agreements in other lines—such as tin, coffee, wheat and copper.

But the outlook at Brussels was pretty dark yesterday. Press reports indicated a break-up of the conference, which is being attended by the sugar representatives of Cuba, Java, Poland, Belgium, Czecho-Slovakia and Germany. If such a break-up occurs Germany will be blamed. She is in a ticklish position—one not exactly to be envied.

But what can Germany do? She needs, and must have, exportable goods to pay her huge debts abroad. When the Belgian conference asked her to make a drastic reduction in her beet sugar exports over the next five years, she agreed to co-operate, but Germany's minimum figure is 220,000 tons a year more than the one acceptable to the other members of the Chadbourne conference.

Without the co-operation of Germany, the conference must inevitably go on the rocks. As one observer puts it: "Just another good intention gone wrong."

Perhaps Germany will reconsider—maybe a compromise may be reached today. The next twenty-four hours should pretty well tell the story.

One by one, large industrial companies are adopting the thirteen-month calendar!

The real drive for this calendar was started by George Eastman, the Rochester camera manufacturer, who saw in its great possibilities for the simplification of the business structure, especially in the field of book-keeping and auditing.

The Kroger Grocery and Baking Company is the latest company to announce that beginning in January it will use this calendar in all its thousands of stores.

It is expected that the new arrangement will enable the various store managers to give a better comparison of sales and cost figures, because every month will be exactly four weeks of twenty-eight days each.

Has not the Christmas savings fund this year exceeded $600,000,000, and will not 38 per cent of this be spent this year?

True, automobile production for the first eleven months was down 23 per cent, with foreign sales off 43 per cent; gasoline refineries ran at two-thirds capacity; pig iron output was 30 per cent lower than a year ago; steel mills operated at two-thirds capacity, and new capital issues floated were 31 per cent less than last year.

All true—but retail trade shows up well—off only 7 per cent; collections are good, according to Mr. Barnes, and installment buying is on the decrease.

The conference is watching closely to see when consumption in the various industries equals or exceeds present production. Then the dig into surplus stock begins. And when this is out of the way business will again become normal.

Loan Unit Mails Interest Checks

Mercantile Building and Loan Association yesterday mailed out interest checks to a large number of its investors as prepayment of interest which would normally fall due in January. The directorate voted this action to enable its customers to use these funds during the Christmas season.

Earnings of the association reached a new high record this year and its resources showed the largest gain, it was reported. Mercal Guaranty Corporation, the holding company, declared its twelfth consecutive semiannual dividend on the preferred stock and the twelfth consecutive dividend on the common at the rate of 10 per cent per annum.

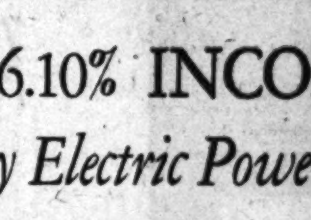
CHICAGO, Dec. 16. — J. I. Case Company plans to have completed by February 1, next, a shipment of 4000 tractors, involving about $5,000,000, to the soviet government. This is a part of the order received early in the fall through Amtorg Trading Company.



A 6.10% INCOME

Secured by Electric Power Revenues

Salt River Valley Water Users' Association, composed of land owners in the highly fertile Salt River Valley of Arizona, operates under United States Government supervision vast irrigation and hydro-electric developments, including the famous Roosevelt Dam. We offer:

SALT RIVER VALLEY WATER USERS' ASSOCIATION

6% Refunding Gold Bonds, due 1956

Price 98½ and Interest, to yield over 6.10%

These bonds are the direct obligation of the Association and are secured by the pledge of revenues from the sale of electric power. Net power income is over 1½ times all bond interest requirements. The Association sells power wholesale to the Central Arizona Light and Power Company serving the City of Phoenix and to other substantial industrial concerns.

Principal and interest requirements may also be met by the levy of unlimited assessments against all lands in the Salt River Project which alone have an appraised value of more than $56,000,000.

These bonds combine, we believe, sound security and decidedly liberal return. We shall be pleased to furnish detailed descriptive circulars on request.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, Dec. 16. (AP)—The curb market was pounded further into new low ground in the first 1,000,000 share day since November 10 today.

The oils were conspicuously weak, several issues breaking sharply, in sympathy with petroleum issues on the big board. Total transfers aggregated 1,030,500 shares.

Vacuum oil tumbled 11⅛ points to 45⅝, and closed at 47⅛. As this carried the stock far out of line with the exchange agreement for merger with Standard of New York, which amounts to one Vacuum for three Standard, some apprehension was arroused over the prospect of concluding the merger, which has been questioned by the Department of Justice. Standard of New York closed on the big board at 20.

Cities Service dropped to a new low at 13⅞, and closed at 14¼, off 1½. Gulf and Standard of Nebraska dropped about 3, and Humble 5 points, to a new bottom price. Indiana sold off a point, and closed off ⅝, net.

In the utilities American Gas tumbled 5 points, but held about a point above the year's low. Electric Bond and Share dropped 2 points to a new low at 37⅝, and closed at 38.

Deere was a weak spot in the industrials, tumbling more than 8 points to a new low at 29⅛, which compares to the year's peak of 162⅝. Aluminum of America dropped 5½, but recovered 5 points. Aviations were heavy. Western Air Express breaking 4¼ to 9⅝. Goldman Sachs touched 5½, and closed at 5⅝, off ½.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low, and both low and close when same as the high.

MOODY'S COMPOSITE PORTFOLIO RATING "A"

853 investment houses and banks offer and recommend Corporate Trust Shares.

ON December 31st holders of Corporate Trust Shares will receive another semi-annual cash distribution. This payment will be made against coupon No. 4, by The Chase National Bank of the City of New York, Trustee, and by 38 banks acting as Paying Agents in principal cities throughout the country.

Including the forthcoming semi-annual payment, which will be in excess of 40c per share, as against the coupon base rate of 35c, Corporate Trust Shareholders will have received for the calendar year 1930 over $1.70 per share. In 1929 holders received $1.96-2/3 per share.

Thus, Corporate Trust Shareholders will have received total cash distributions amounting to more than $3.66 per share.

Three main factors contribute to this result: (1) the strength of the Corporate Trust Shares portfolio, (2) the fact that holders receive all earnings of the trusteed stocks plus interest on the cash reserve fund, and (3) the "maximum distribution" plan of operation, wherein all stock dividends, rights and extra shares from split-ups are sold and proceeds returned to holders of the trust shares.

Reinvestment Rights

Through the exercise of rights coupons attached to Corporate Trust Share certificates, holders who desire to reinvest that part of their distributions which may represent return of principal will be entitled to purchase additional Corporate Trust Shares at a discount during January, 1931. In other words, shareholders can either use their entire distributions for current needs or build up their invested capital in the trust by purchase of more shares at an advantageous price.

Thus Corporate Shareholders are always in a position to choose the "maximum distribution" plan or the "capital accumulation" plan to suit their needs from time to time.

New Selling Wave Hits Local Stock Market to Mark Several Record Bottom Prices

While Transamerica continued to feature with steady strength, a vigorous renewal of selling swept through the balance of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday and plunged the market to new record depths. Liquidating operations, well spread over the list, gained momentum as the session progressed and with one or two exceptions there was no recovery from the bottom levels before the close. The majority of final prices, however, were only fractionally under the previous day's close.

Unprecedented low marks were chalked up for such issues as Security-First National Bank, Citizens' Bank, Pacific Finance, Southern California Edison, Pacific Gas and Electric, Pacific Public Service, Standard Oil of California, Union Oil, Richfield, Pacific Western Oil, Macmillan Petroleum, and others. The exchange index of thirty common stocks, the 100-base of which represents January 31, 1929 prices, fell off 1.3 points for the day to a new bottom at 43.6. The bottom for 1929 was 73.1.

Transamerica again traded rapidly with a turnover of more than 23,000 shares. The stock achieved a new high for the rally at 14 and closed at 13 1-4, up 1-2 net. Security-First National sold off 1 1-4 points to 84 3-4, and Citizens' National, 1 point to 84. Pacific Finance broke 1 1-2 to 12 3-4 and ended at 13. Pacific Mutual Life lost a point to 55.

Edison dropped 2 points to 41 1-2, Pacific Gas, 1 3-4 to 42 1-4, and Pacific Public Service, 1-2 to 19 1-2. Los Angeles Gas and Electric preferred hit a new low at 100 1-4, down 3-4.

Goodyear Textile preferred, which has not been traded since last month, toppled 24 1-2 points to 70.

The oils all weakened. Standard of California, however, recovered from a bottom at 42 5-8 to end at 43 3-8, off 1-4 net, and Union closed at 21, off 5-8 net, after having hit 20 1-2. Richfield sunk 5-8 to 4 1-2 and Macmillan, 2 points to 3, closing later at 3 1-8. Bolsa Chica reacted 1 3-8 to 12 1-2.

Sales aggregated 56,419 shares, valued at $1,215,983; previous day, 59,436 shares, valued at $1,163,062.

WE believe that the most opportune time has arrived for the permanent investment of funds in long term Public Utility Bonds. Such bonds may be acquired to yield the investor 6½% to 9% over a long period of years.

LOS ANGELES CURB

With net declines running from a fraction to 8 1-8 points, the active dollar issues on the Los Angeles Curb yesterday reflected the weakness of the eastern security markets. Capterpillar Tractor dropped 8 1-8 to a new low at 25 1-4, Bank of America, N.A., declined 3 to 57, a new bottom, while Detroit Aircraft off 1-4 to 1 3-4 and Pacific Associates down 2 to 10, also penetrated new low territory.

Intercoast Trading gained 3-8 to 7. Chapman Ice Cream at 18, Pacific Indemnity at 20 and Security Company units at 48, were unchanged.

General Motors was down 1 to 32 1-8, Universal Consolidated Oil eased 1-2 to 11, and Mexican Seaboard dipped 3-8 to 10.

Three issues in the cent list made new lows. Bandini Petroleum declined 25 cents to $2.25, Consolidated Steel common dropped a similar amount to $2.75, and Exeter Oil was down 10 cents to 55 cents.

Claude Neon of New York declined 15 cents to 3.35. Lincoln Drilling was off 2 1-2 cents to $1.67 1-2, and Tom Reed Mining was down 5 cents to 65 cents.

Break of Corn Hits Futures in Wheat Pit

CHICAGO, Dec. 16. (AP)—Corn led a downward slide of grain today in sympathy with acute weakness of securities. Corn collapsed nearly 3 cents a bushel, with July delivery of wheat dropping 2 cents to new low-price records since 1903. Earlier deliveries of wheat were steadied by purchases for Farm Board allies, who were estimated to have bought 2,000,000 bushels deliverable here in May.

Corn closed heavy, 2¼@2⅝ cents a bushel lower than yesterday; wheat unchanged to 1⅝ cents off; oats, 1¼@2 cents down, and provisions unchanged to 15 cents decline.

Besides stock market weakness, a further bearish factor was announcement that North American available corn supplies had increased 2,912,000 bushels the last week, and now were nearly twice the total at this time last year.

Oats gave way with corn and wheat.

Mid-West States Utilities Co.
Class "A" Common Stock
Listed on New York Curb

FAR-SIGHTED investors are accumulating the strong listed stocks of rapidly growing telephone and electric light and power companies that are selling out-of-line, due to present market conditions. This issue, we believe, is particularly attractive, since it is selling at around five times 1929 earnings, to yield 7½% in cash or 10% in stock.

Two meetings which may develop a turning point in efforts to further curtail daily production of oil throughout the various oil fields are scheduled to be held today in the assembly rooms of the California Oil and Gas Association.

For the first time since last September, the general committee on state-wide oil curtailment headed by Paul Boggs, will go into session to discuss three propositions that have been suggested to bring down the daily production. There is strong possibility that the State's allowable may be slashed from 540,000 barrels to as low as 505,000 barrels. This is one of the propositions before the committee.

The other meeting is that of the Kettleman Hills oil and gas conservation committee, headed by William Reinhardt, vice-president of the Shell Oil Company. Frequent sessions have been held by this group to prepare a draft for unitization of the Kettleman Hills oil field and it is believed that some plan has been agreed upon whereby the Kettleman Hills oil field may be developed in an orderly manner. The suggestion that operators reach an agreement as to the field's operation was made some time ago by Secretary of the Interior Ray Lyman Wilbur and it is understood that the plan is expected to be in operation by Feb. 1, 1931.

Wharton Watched

Although the top of the oil sand has not been reached by the Mohawk Petroleum Company's Wharton No. 1 in the Weed Patch district, five miles southeast of Bakersfield, field scouts believe it is only a question of hours before the project will find the same productive formation discovered by the Shell Oil Company's Porter-Day No. 1.

Wharton No. 1 is located on property originally leased by Shell, but which was later turned over to Mohawk to drill on a fifty-fifty basis. Shell's Porter No. 1-1 in the same area is making progress with the drill below 4650 feet and is expected to core top of the oil sand soon. The company's Porter-Day No. 1 is drilling below 6450 feet and has not penetrated a deeper oil sand since completing considerably higher several weeks ago.

Flow Steady

Daily production from the Sunset Pacific Oil Company's No. 31 in the Rosecrans area at Athens has settled down to about 700 barrels of oil from a depth of 5350 feet. Completion of this project occurred considerably higher on the structure than wells brought in by the Barnsdall Oil Company about seven blocks south in the Rosecrans field. As a result of the Sunset Pacific completion, Union, General and Getty are deepening several wells from a shallower zone and will try for the lower sand.

Preparing to Spud

With a steel derrick up and boilers installed, the Prairie Oil and Gas Company is preparing to spud in its El Capitan No. 1 located on a portion of the El Capitan ranch adjoining the General Petroleum Corporation's Erburu lease nine miles west of the Elwood oil field. Prairie Oil's El Capitan No. 1 is due east of General's Erburu No. 8 which is drilling below 3800 feet and is making a deep test of that district.

Resumes Drilling

Drilling operations have been resumed in the McKeon Oil Company's Sunnyside Heights No. 1 at the southwest corner of One Hundred and Sixth street and Denker avenue, midway between the Potrero town-lot area and the Athens field. This project has been idle a month with eighteen and five-eighths-inch casing cemented at about 500 feet.

Recements to Test

George Wolfe recently recemented the Huntington Land Company No. 1 well located 350 feet west of the Ascot race track, and will make another water shut-off test with bottom of the hole at 1269 feet. Thirteen and three-quarter-inch casing is set to 1114 feet. Wolfe has derrick up for Construccio No. 1 due east of his first test and expects to be drilling within a few days.

Drilling Out

Early today the Universal Consolidated Oil Company's No. 49 at Lost Hills is scheduled to start drilling out the cement for a water shut-off with bottom of the hole at [illegible] feet. Interest in this project is based on frequent showings of gas and oil sand and the fact that it is endeavoring to develop deeper production in an area that has had shallow-zone production for many years.

Brings One In

One new producer was completed yesterday in the Venice oil field. William Crawford's No. 2 came in for an initial yield of 400 barrels daily. Daily production at Venice has declined to approximately 44,000 barrels of oil.

Nearing Completion

Having swabbed down to 3070 feet in its Murphy-Coyote No. 105 at Coyote Hills, the approval of a water shut-off is awaited before this project is brought in by the Standard Oil Company. The Murphy-Coyote No. 105 is down 5176 feet. Standard's Irvine No. 1, located on a portion of the James Irvine ranch in the upper reaches of Newport Bay, is making progress with the drill below 3076 feet in gray sand and shale.

TUNA PACK HITS NEW HIGH MARK

Total Reported in Excess of 1,600,000 Cases

Figures Revealed by Packers at Harbor Meeting

BY WAYNE B. CAVE

More than 1,600,000 cases of tuna, the largest output on record, have been packed by canneries of Los Angeles, Long Beach and San Diego during 1930, it was disclosed yesterday at a meeting of the packers at Fish Harbor. More than 44,000 tons of the fish were used in this pack, most caught by Southland fleets all the way from California to Panama, but including 3000 tons of frozen albacore imported from Japan.

Packers yesterday reaffirmed their new conservation policy of not accepting any fish weighing less than ten pounds nor more than 150 pounds. They also reasserted their indorsement of fishermen's agreements to lay up boats during December and January to preserve firm markets and to avoid the smaller fish.

Incidentally knowledge of new banks, said to assure supplies of tuna for generations, was disclosed following the meeting. The extent of the prodigal new Morgan bank discovered this year off Magdalena Bay has not yet been determined, but its potentialities are declared enormous.

The Hokuroku Maru, fifth of the six new freighters, will sail from Yokohama on her maiden trip today and is due here on the 30th inst.

O.S.K.'s around-the-world liner, La Plata Maru, was in from Buenos Aires yesterday, bringing fifty passengers and 600 tons of freight. Sailing Thursday, she will load twenty passengers and 703 tons of cotton and borax.

First attempt on the Pacific Coast to transfer mail from plane to ship will be made off Los Angeles Harbor on January 24, next. Lieutenant-Commander Earle Ovington, U.S.N.R., will take off from the local Grand Central Airport at noon on that date and an hour later will attempt to drop his mail load to the deck of the Lassco liner City of Los Angeles, which will then be in the Catalina Channel en route to Honolulu.

All flying arrangements are in charge of Maj. C. C. Mosely, west coast head of Curtiss-Wright Flying Service, which is co-operating with Los Angeles Steamship Company in the enterprise.

The little motorship Camina is due to limp in the 20th inst., from near Boca de la Tomates, Mex., where she struck a submerged rock the 10th inst. Leaks in the forepeak and starboard side developed more water than pumps could handle and the craft was beached, pumped out and the holes cemented. The cargo of bananas being brought here, was abandoned on the beach. The Camina will go to a Wilmington boat yard for repairs.

Tony Esposito and associates left San Pedro for Santa Barbara yesterday in an effort to identify a body found in the ocean, believed possibly one of the members of the San Pedro purse seiner Fidelity which disappeared at sea following the storm November 22. Eleven men were on the Fidelity, three of them brothers of Esposito.

A full cargo of rice, totaling 7450 tons, passed through port yesterday on the Fern Line motorship Sangstad, en route from French Indo-China to Cuba. Capt. En Reinertz discounted several cyclones he passed through en route, as though they were mere Southland zephyrs.

Mrs. Harry S. Allen, wife of the veteran purser and concessionaire on Wilmington Transportation Company liners, died yesterday in a Long Beach hospital after a long illness. Funeral services will be conducted at 11:30 a.m. tomorrow from Mottell parlors, Long Beach. She is survived by Mr. Allen and their three children at 1201 Barracks avenue, Wilmington.

With all departments represented, employees of the Pacific Steamship Company were guests at a holiday dinner staged last night aboard the Dorothy Alexander at the Admiral Line docks in Los Angeles Harbor. R. B. Schutten, assistant general passenger agent of the organization, arranged the event in accordance with the company's policy maintained for the last ten years staging a Yuletide fete for their workers. Simultaneously similar holiday dinners on other vessels were being held in Seattle, Portland, San Francisco, and San Diego, other major ports served by the company's steamers.

After a seven-months' absence, the battleship Colorado yesterday rejoined the battle fleet, arriving from New York via the Canal.

The Colorado has been at the Brooklyn Navy Yard where she underwent repairs costing nearly $800,000 as result of a fire in her plotting room while she was transiting the Panama Canal last June. She will run off her delayed gunnery practices before again sailing for Panama with the fleet on February 7, next.

Another Coast Guard pursuit of a rum-runner off San Diego to the San Pedro base yesterday, but all the pursuers got were two men in a skiff and sixteen cans of alcohol. The fugitive boat, A-2297, was set fire and the two men abandoned it in the skiff. As it burned and sank several cans aboard floated away and were picked up. The seized men, G. Carr and G. Emmers, are held at San Pedro for investigation and the alcohol was turned over to the customs officials. Name of the patrol boat was withheld to prevent disclosure of the Coast Guard's plans of operation.

LAST OF NEW FAST JAPANESE LINERS DUE

Formation of Osaka Shosen Kaisha's eleven-ship trans-Pacific fast express service from Los Angeles Harbor direct to Yokohama will be completed on January 12, next, when the motorship Kwansai Maru, last of the six eighteen-knot express freighters being built by O.S.K., arrives here from Yokohama on her maiden voyage, it was announced yesterday by Shigeyo Mimoto, O.S.K. district manager.

Completion of the modern Diesel fleet gives O.S.K. four westbound sailings from Los Angeles Harbor to Yokohama, Kobe, Shanghai and Hongkong per month. In addition to the six new express freighters, operating from Japan to New York via this port, O.S.K. also operates five motor liners in around-the-world service. Westbound from Los Angeles Harbor, the line will thus have eleven vessels in service; the world-circling ships making Yokohama in sixteen days and the new freighters running from this port to Yokohama in fifteen days. Eastbound the six freighters arrive here from Yokohama in thirteen days, running near their top speed to expedite arrival of silk consignments for which they were specially built.

News of Ships and Sailings at Pacific Ports

SEATTLE, Dec. 16. (AP)—The Coast Guard cutter, Tallapoosa, on her way to Seattle from Baltimore, will serve as mother ship for the Alaska halibut fleet during the heavy weather of February and March, Capt. H. D. Hinckley, commander of the Northwest Division of the Coast Guard, said today. The cutter is due here January 15 via Los Angeles. The Tallapoosa will take station at Juneau.

A cut in rates between Seattle and Japan and China was announced by the Nippon Yusen Kaisha Line today, accomplished by designating the first cabin accommodations of two ships as tourist class and applying tourists fares. The fares also apply from Tacoma and Vancouver and Victoria, B. C. They will become effective with the sailing of the Yokohama Maru from Kobe January 10 and from Seattle February 7.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 16. (AP)—Word that the four new liners for the intercoastal trade of the Panama Mail Steamship Company are to be built on the east coast, was received in San Francisco shipping circles today.

The report said the contract was awarded to the Federal Shipbuilding Company of Newark, N. J., on a bid of $15,[illegible] submitted on October 31. The Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation at San Francisco submitted a bid of $15,[illegible],000. Local civic and business organizations offered to absorb the difference in bids in order to bring the contract to the west coast, but the offer apparently failed.

Confirmation of the award of the contract is expected when Edward T. Ford, president of the Panama Mail Company, returns here from New York Sunday.

Local officials of the Dollar Steamship Company today announced the liner President Hayes is to be switched to the round-the-world service of the company. For the past seven months the vessel operated in the direct service to Manila and Singapore. This service was recently discontinued. The Hayes will sail from here December 26 in place of the President Johnson.

NOTICIAS MUNDIALES DE ULTIMA HORA

NOTAS TELEGRAFICAS

ESTAMBUL (Turquía) Diciembre 16.—Han ido menguando hoy las inundaciones en el sur de Turquía; pero siguen por el suelo los alambres telegráficos y se ignora hasta la fecha la suerte corrida por veinticinco pueblos de las cercanías de Adana. En esta última población hubo treinta muertos y, cuando menos, 1000 personas se han quedado sin hogar. En Mersine se estiman las pérdidas materiales en $250,000.

Amenaza Nuevo Reajuste en la Administración Soviética

MOSCU, Diciembre 16.—Parece ser que, por exigencias de la política soviética, va a haber otra serie de cambios en los puestos administrativos del gobierno, y no sería remoto que las remociones alcanzaran al propia Alexis Rykoff, presidente del Consejo de los comisarios del pueblo, cargo que corresponde al de primer ministro en otros países.

A causa de las severas críticas que en toda la Unión se han hecho de su política del "Ala Derecha", tal vez pronto tenga Rykoff que solicitar del Comité Ejecutivo Central que se le releve de su cargo.

Caso que tal determinación sea un hecho, lo probable es que ya haya sido designado nuevo primer ministro; pero se guarda la mayor reserva acerca de su identidad. Antes de Rykoff, sólo Lenin ha ocupado el puesto de primer ministro; a la muerte de éste fue elegido aquél para dicho elevado cargo.

Sigue Provocando Escándalo "No Hay Novedad en el Frente Occidental"

BERLIN, Diciembre 16.—En una de las más violentas sesiones que ha habido de algunos años a esta parte en la Dieta Prusiana estalló de nuevo la indignación nacional contra la película "No Hay Novedad en el Frente Occidental". Comenzó la cosa por una moción de censura contra Carl Severing, ministro de lo Interior que aprobó la cinta en cuestión, y terminó con un reñido debate entre los diputados.

Ludwig Schwecht, capitán de artillería, que llevaba la voz de los nacionalistas germanos, declaró la vista escandalosa, casi tanto como la publicación de la novela alemana en que está basada. La película, dijo "ha sido una explotación por parte de los negociantes yanquis, de los heroicos sufrimientos del pueblo alemán en la guerra mudial".

"Lo cierto es", dijo Schwecht, "que se hallan aquí en conflicto dos filosofías de la vida. Al espíritu pacifista de la nueva Prusia juxtaponemos el verdadero espíritu alemán de Federico el Grande."

Descúbrese una Carta de Jefferson

FILADELPHIA, Diciembre 16.—Una carta descolorida, pero legible, escrita por Thomas Jefferson, y comprada en $23,000, fue hoy a engrosar la colección del doctor A. S. W. Rosenbach, historiador y coleccionador de objetos de arte en esta ciudad.

El documento en cuestión fue hallado dentro de un viejo y estropeado baúl en la casa de la señora Raleigh Minor, de Charlottesville (Virginia), y viene a ser el eslabón faltante de una colección de cartas escritas por los signatorios de la declaración de la Independencia, colección que el doctor Rosenbach estima en más de un millón de dólares.

La carta, escrita en esta ciudad con fecha 1 de Julio de 1776, está dirigida a William Fluming confidente de Jefferson y miembro de la comisión de Independencia. En la época en que fue escrita, se sospechaba en algunos círculos que Jefferson era tibio en lo referente a emancipación de Inglaterra, a pesar de que se sabía en general que estaba redactando el documento que le valió a los Estados Unidos su libertad.

"Si alguna duda ha surgido respecto a mí", escribía Jefferson, "mi patria recibirá mi credo político en la forma de una declaración. Ello será prueba decisiva de que mis propios sentimientos coinciden con el voto que el congreso nos indicó que diéramos."

NOTAS LOCALES

El Palacio Municipal se Viste Hoy su Traje de Gala

El Palacio del Ayuntamiento se pondrá hoy sus adornos de día de fiesta, consistentes en dos enormes árboles de Navidad iluminados, guirnaldas y coronas de acebo, y un macizo rótulo dorado que proclama la "Paz sobre la tierra y la buena voluntad para con nuestros prójimos".

Este decorado fue puesto ayer por el Departamento de Recreo y Terrenos de Juego en la fachada del edificio que ve a la calle Spring, a fin de que éste luzca adornos adecuados en la tercera fiesta anual de Navidad de la Comunidad de Los Angeles. Esa fiesta se verificará la noche del sábado, y en ella figurarán seiscientos de los niños que hacen uso de nuestros terrenos de juego.

Mañana comenzará a transformarse la calle de Spring en un auditorio al aire libre.

P.E. SAYS BUS LINES OPERATING ILLEGALLY

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 16. (AP)—The Pacific Electric Railway Company and the Motor Transit Company charged in a complaint filed with the State Railroad Commission today that the Pacific Greyhound Lines, Inc., is operating certain lines in Los Angeles, San Bernardino, Riverside and Orange counties without legal right. The companies asked the Railroad Commission to reopen for further hearing all decisions issued by the commission affecting the operating of Pacific Greyhound lines in those counties and to define the co-operative rights of the company.

TIGER'S SON REPORTED IN CUPID'S NET

"I'll Return Soon," Says Clemenceau as He Denies Engagement to Widow

Michael Clemenceau, son of the "Tiger of France," will leave Los Angeles today after having passed what he terms "two very delightful weeks" here and with the expressed intention of returning shortly, possibly in three months. M. Clemenceau returns directly to Paris, via New York, from which city he came to Los Angeles.

While here Clemenceau attended a number of social functions with Mrs. Annette Aiken and they were so much in each other's company that friends gossiped of a possible engagement, but this the two laughingly denied to the press. The two met last summer while Mrs. Aiken was in Europe, where she spends about as much time as she does in this country.

Mrs. Aiken, an attractive young widow, came here with her husband, Friend Martin Aiken, ten years ago. He was a wealthy retired oil operator once, with extensive relations with Standard Oil Company. He died at 74 years of age in June of last year. The Aikens were of New York and Detroit.

M. Clemenceau is about 50. He is a widower. His last social function was yesterday noon when Lucien N. Brunswig entertained him and a number of men at a luncheon in California Club. At the affair were Henry Didot, William Gibbs

BAN ANNOUNCED ON GRAND JURY

Judge Fleming Decides to End Continuous Session

Year's Respite Will Save County $300,000

If Called for Emergency Politics Will Be Taboo

There will be no grand jury in 1931 unless some imperative public need arises, or it is found advisable to arrange for the annual independent audit of certain branches of county finance; and the present grand jury will be dismissed at the end of this year.

This announcement was made by Superior Judge Fleming, newly elected presiding judge of the Superior Court, after conference with Dist.-Atty. Fitts yesterday. It definitely establishes as court policy Judge Fleming's plans for abolishing the continuous session of the grand jury.

Judge Fleming announced that the new policy regarding the grand jury will save the county $300,000 to $400,000 a year, according to his calculations. He stated that Dist.-Atty. Fitts and he are in accord on this move; that he has ample authority in law to force a discontinuance of the system of keeping the grand jury continuously in session.

LITTLE ACCOMPLISHED

"The District Attorney told me he could accomplish all necessary investigation and commitment of accused criminals without the aid of the grand jury," said Judge Fleming. "During the past three months the grand jury has done nothing except indict three Negroes. This has cost the county $50,000, and could as well have been done by a deputy District Attorney on a few sheets of blank stationery in ten minutes.

"I have written the present grand jury a letter, which, without criticising them severely, points out that the presiding judge of the Superior Court has authority to dismiss the grand jury whenever he deems it advisable and that he felt under the circumstances, in view of the length of time devoted to certain investigations, it would be well if the present grand jury would wind up its affairs and prepare to be dismissed at the end of the year.

"I am advised that the grand jury has voted to follow this suggestion, and complete its inquiries by the 31st inst.

POLITICS TABOO

"It is the statutory duty of the presiding judge of the Superior Court, to appoint a presiding judge of the criminal division of that court, who, under rules of the Judicial Council, empanels the grand jury. I will appoint as such presiding judge only one who agrees not to call a grand jury unless the presiding judge of the court agrees that it is necessary. If and when that grand jury is called, its tenure of office will last only so long as it confines its activities to criminal cases under investigation. As soon as it meddles in politics it will be dismissed.

"For the past six or eight years grand juries have been a costly burden to the county, and have accomplished little, except advancement of the political fortunes of certain members. I think the time has come to put a stop to this tremendous leak in the expenses of the county government."

Judge Fleming said he could not nominate the presiding judge of the criminal courts next year until after assignments are made at a meeting this afternoon.

Observers at the Courthouse believe the selection will be confined to Superior Judges McComb, Schauer and Tappaan.

COUNCIL DENIES PROTESTS

Protests were denied by the City Council yesterday against the improvement of Shelley street at Lowell avenue and against the lighting of Fletcher Drive between San Fernando Road and Riverside Drive. The hearing of protests against the improvement of Gardner street between Sunset Boulevard and Fountain avenue was continued until January 13.

MAJ. CANNON SURRENDERS ON CHARGES

Bishop's Son Released on Bail and Hearing Set for Friday in Money Cases

Ending a search of several months, during which he had been reported variously in Virginia, Washington and San Francisco, Maj. Richard M. Cannon, 38-year-old son of Bishop James R. Cannon, militant leader of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, yesterday surrendered himself to Capt. Fox of the Sheriff's office fugitive detail on check and wage charges growing out of his conduct of a military academy at El Monte. He was accompanied by an attorney.

Maj. Cannon's voluntary surrender followed prolonged negotiations Capt. Fox had carried on with him through relatives and friends and which involved numerous telegrams and long-distance telephone messages, it was learned. In reporting the surrender, however, Capt. Fox did not disclose when or whence the fugitive major had arrived in the city. It is believed he came directly here from some point in the South.

The wage claims filed against Maj. Cannon are for $64.13 and $31.23, and bear the names of S. Crawford and I. A. Smith, respectively, as complainants. The worthless check named in the third charge assertedly was issued to W. Bishop. All three were preferred against Cannon on the 12th inst.

Until yesterday, Maj. Cannon had been sought by the Sheriff's office on two other warrants. One of these charged issuance of a bad check in San Bernardino and another in San Francisco. With Cannon's surrender, however, Capt. Fox announced the San Bernardino matter has been withdrawn and he is expecting similar information from San Francisco authorities.

Maj. Cannon figured about a year ago in other check charges in connection with payments to laborers which the banks declined to honor. These cases were dismissed, when the laborers testified that they had been paid after the claims were filed. This dismissal followed a visit here from Washington of his father, who said that he came prepared to aid his son in the difficulties.

MAKERS OF SOAP SHARE PROSPERITY

Los Angeles Company to Divide $125,000 Profits Among Employees

Sharing with employees in the most successful of its business years, announcement was made yesterday by the management of the Los Angeles Soap Company that the 1930 profit-sharing dividend will be $125,000. This amount exceeds the figure of the 1929 dividend by a considerable amount.

This profit-sharing dividend plan for employees, which was inaugurated by President F. H. Merrill in 1915, makes provision each year for the distribution of company earnings in excess of normal operating obligations. All employees on the pay roll for two years or more participate in the earnings of the company under this plan, which is based both on service and salary.

Of the several hundred employees, more than 60 per cent will receive the 24th inst. checks averaging two months' salary. Each year finds an increasing number of participants in this plan. The company now has its products and distribution in twenty-two States west of the Mississippi River. The year 1930 has proven the most successful of the seventy years of the company's operations, officers said.

WILSHIRE SIGNALS ACTION CONTINUED

Due to the addition of some detailed specifications as to the housings for the master signal boxes, the opening of bids for a flexible, progressive traffic signal system for Wilshire Boulevard was continued yesterday until the 29th inst.

Wedding Party

MRS. KATHLEEN BURKE PEABODY McLEAN, wealthy Santa Barbara widow, yesterday became the bride of Girard Van Barkaloo Hale, mural painter, the civil ceremony being performed by Superior Judge Collier in his court chambers. After the marriage ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Hale left for New York, where they will remain until January 10. From there they expect to go to Paris and Rome, in one of which cities they will go through the Catholic church wedding ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Gibson of Santa Barbara, stood up with the bride and bridegroom during the ceremony. Mrs. Frank C. Collier, wife of the jurist, and Mrs. Gibson, signed as witnesses. Katherine Crofton of Santa Barbara was the only other person present at the marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. Hale first met on the battlefield of Soissons, France, during the World War, when they were engaged in ambulance duty. For her services the bride, then Kathleen Burke, was awarded many distinguished war decorations.

Mr. Hale is a direct descendant of Stephen Girard, early American financier, and is a member of a prominent New York family. His mural paintings include the decorations of the Utah State Capitol at Salt Lake City. The Hales plan to make a four months' tour of Morocco and Northern Africa.

Lions to Fete Boys of Home

Following its custom, the Lions' Club of Los Angeles will give the boys of Lark Ellen Home a Christmas party at the Biltmore Friday noon. This will be followed by a party at Loew's State Theater.

Lark Ellen Home, named for Mme. Ellen Beach Yaw, who sponsored it, has been under the care of the Lions for some time, W. L. Stevens being the active head of it. Every Christmas, the fifty-odd boys there are the special wards of the Lions. Friday they will be picked up at the home, transported to the hotel, given a Christmas dinner and entertainment, with a tree, and then, as guests of Loew's State and its manager, Ray J. Deusern, will see "The Princess and the Plumber," and other features. A Santa Claus on the mezzanine floor will have gifts for each boy.

FARNUM IN INDIAN CAMP ON DESERT

Stray Burro Starts Hunt for Theater Man Thought Death Valley Victim

Ralph Farnum, widely known New York theatrical agent, mysteriously missing for several days and believed to have perished in the desolate wastes of Death Valley, is alive and safe and living as a guest of the Piute Indians in the northern edge of the valley, according to word received here last night from Sheriff Harry Goper.

The wire, dispatched from Death Valley Junction, quoted Farnum as expressing extreme regret that he had caused worry to his friends and had caused police of Los Angeles to launch a search for him. He stated he knew his burro was missing, but believed it would find its way back to the Indian camp at which he is quartered.

Farnum declared also that he likes the Indians and intends to remain in their midst for some time before returning to civilization.

Search for Farnum was instituted when word came from Sheriff Goper several days ago that one of the theatrical agent's pack train burros had been found wandering aimlessly in the vicinity of Furnace Creek.

Accompanied by his wife, Farnum came to California for a vacation in November. Mrs. Farnum continued on to Los Angeles, but her husband stopped at Death Valley Junction and obtained the pack train, declaring his intention of seeking health in the desert areas.

When local police yesterday failed to receive any word of Farnum's whereabouts or explanation of the roaming burro, they discussed plans with Leo Morrison, a close friend of the agent, to organize an airplane searching party to fly over Death Valley in an effort to find some trace of the missing man.

NATION'S PERIL TOLD TEACHERS

Dr. Bohn Says Democracy Faces Death Struggle

Declares Immigration Must Be Prohibited

Notable Speakers on Last Day's Program

American democracy can continue to function only by steering a middle course between the two dangerous extremes of Communism and Fascism, it was declared yesterday by Dr. Frank Bohn, New York publicist and journalist, at one of the two general sessions which opened the second day of the annual Teachers' Institute.

Dr. Bohn spoke at Philharmonic Auditorium and his address was entitled, "The Great American Adventure." Aside from charting a general course for American democracy, in which endeavor he analyzed the weaknesses of Communism and Fascism, he made the specific suggestion that the time has come to stop all immigration to this country.

"Our democracy in America," he said, "is confronted by three challenges. Our bill of rights is challenged by the Fascists of Italy, by the Communists of Russia, together with a third menacing group, the 'intelligentsia' within our own borders. This third group challenges with a sneer and a jeer the achievement of the common man who has made our democracy for the past 150 years.

MIDDLE COURSE

"Democracy must walk the middle of the road between Fascism and Communism. In Russia the middle-of-the-road crowd is beaten from every side. In Germany the Communists and Fascists would prefer to see either party win than to see democracy win. The two extreme parties appear to gather strength through hatred.

"Our people carved out of a wilderness a government which was founded on the sayings of Jesus. We must give our citizens a right to work and to eat, but not in the terms of Russia or Italy. We must create a new organic state, but it must be a middle path between the raw brutality of the Communist and the cold efficiency of the Fascist.

"It is hard to keep to the middle of the road, but in America there is a chance for progress. The great middle classes of America will find success when they do not try to turn back to the regime of 100 years ago or to go 100 years ahead, as has been attempted in Europe."

STOP IMMIGRATION

The remarks of Dr. Bohn on immigration were greeted with prolonged applause by the audience of teachers. He said:

"The time has come to stop immigration and to stop it utterly. The addition of another million to be added to our population from Europe and Asia would mean the downfall of our society. We are at the beginning of a new organic state and we must recognize it as our duty to give work to the Americans in our country.

"A man's first task is in his own home. His first duty is to his own people. And he must bear this in mind: That if we are to build up a new organic state on the ruins of our American yeomanry, since the old-fashioned farm home has disappeared, it must be done by providing work for our people."

BEAUTY IN LIFE

The other general session at Trinity Auditorium, heard an address on "Beauty in American Life," by Lorado Taft, noted sculptor of Chicago. While there is beauty in abundance in America, he told his auditors, there is not enough of beauty in American life.

"We live in a world of beauty, which most of us are missing," he said. "We are the heirs of the ages and we Americans are particularly unconscious of our inheritance."

It was while he was lecturing to the soldiers in France during the war and after the armistice, Mr. Taft said, that he was impressed with the minor place which beauty and its handmaiden, art, occupy in the consciousness of the average

UPON investigation I begin to doubt the validity of some of these Hollywood tears.

Anguished gents come to weep upon my shoulder—telling me about the "$25,000 I lost in the Hollywood crash," when I know perfectly well that they not only never saw $25,000 but never saw anybody who ever saw $25,000.

GOOD IDEA

It seems a little cool on the part of Gilbert Beesemyer to suggest that we change the subject, but it is sound financial advice—in spite of its source.

ASSESSMENTS

If you come right down to it, the machinations of the street paving trust, in plastering assessments on private property to the suffocation point, is a situation much more serious for prosperity than this $8,000,000 swat.

TREAT 'EM ROUGH

Moss Hart, author of "Once in a Lifetime," need not practice dodging bricks on this his first visit to Hollywood.

One delightful thing about the film colony is that they are always willing to pay good money for slams against themselves.

The group psychology of Hollywood is all girl. It has a feminine soul—has Hollywood. Hence "Treat 'em rough and make 'em like it" is—as Mr. Hart will by this time have discovered—the way to get along.

DOUG AND THE ELEPHANTS

I feel anxious to know whether Mary Pickford intends to observe her family rule of "no separations" when Doug Fairbanks goes to Cambodia with John Monk Saunders and Victor Fleming to hunt elephants and tigers.

What would become of our lovely Mary while Doug is leaping from back to back of wild elephants and using their infuriated tusks as a gymnasium bar to "skin the cat."

FORBIDDEN KISSES

If Mary stays at home and allows Doug to wander around among the rajahs there is one that she should sternly cross off the list.

He is a frolicsome old party who buys up all the pieces of motion-picture film that have been thrown out by the censors. He sits up in his rajah palace on tropic nights and runs off 100-foot kisses that all but set the roof on fire.

THE DEAD DIRECTOR

Although not much was ever heard about him in Hollywood, Dick Jones had put over more box-office successes than any other director who ever toyed with the movies.

"Mickie," which he made for Mack Sennett years ago, is still known to the trade as the "mortgage lifter."

Dick had sentimental yearnings for a movie life. When he graduated from college somewhere down South he and his mother sat down and talked it over. They agreed that all the professions were

Superior Judge Scott and Group of Babies

SANTA CLAUS dropped into Juvenile Judge Scott's court yesterday, paying an unofficial visit far in advance of his scheduled arrival just to make certain that a Merry Christmas should be enjoyed by twelve small children and twelve foster-parents.

When the invisible spirit of St. Nicholas faded out eight little girls and four small boys were endowed with homes through final adoption proceedings and a dozen childless families left the Hall of Justice in search of Christmas trees for their new-found children.

Homes for ten of the children were found by the Children's Home Finding Society of Los Angeles and two were arranged directly by the parents. The names of all concerned were withheld by the court.

The ages of the foundlings ranged from 1 to 5 years. Adoption of those brought from the Children's Home Finding Society was arranged by George A. Hooper, attorney for that organization.

PENAL CODE REFORM URGED

Bar Association Proposes Many Radical Changes; Life Segregation of Vicious Criminals Sought

Proposed changes and amendments to the statutes, including an ambitious plan of scientific penology, as recommended to the board of trustees of the Los Angeles Bar Association by a committee of attorneys and jurists appointed to study and report on matters of criminal law and procedure were made public yesterday by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Beecher, chairman.

The plan of scientific penology, which the report states has received the committee's unanimous approval, has been submitted in outline form apart from the proposed statutory amendments, and lists as the objects to be accomplished the following:

(1.) Segregation of dissolute criminals from contact with society; (2) Correction of mental and physical defects in criminals and alleviation of same; (3) Restoration of criminals to society with improved opportunity to become useful citizens; (4) Preservation from contact with dissolute criminals of persons committing felonies without intentional or conscious transgression of the law; (5) Salvaging and restoring to citizenship those criminals who may be so restored with benefit to society, and permanently segregating all others.

The major means suggested for the accomplishment of these objects is the appointment of a board of penology to succeed the present State Prison Board. It would be composed of individuals "whose experience and training will enable them scientifically to admin-

American. Seeking for causes, he found them, he thought, in the following circumstances:

"That the percentage of illiteracy, if the test be an ability to understand the content of what one reads and an ability not only to write words but string them together in sentence, is fully 25 per cent of the inhabitants of this country.

WITS ABOVE HANDS

"That we have no traditions of beauty. Our national traditions, which derive primarily from the Puritans, are of a people who turned their backs on beauty, a people who were filled with a vision of the beauty of holiness but not concerned with the holiness of beauty.

"That our rapid material development and flair for mass production both are inimical to the cultivation of beauty.

"That as a people we cannot use our hands. This is due to the fallacious philosophy so long popular in America which set the use of the wits on a higher social plane than the use of the hands. We cannot achieve an appreciation of an art which is created with the hands until we have tried to employ our own hands in such creation."

"I know of nothing more important," the famous sculptor told the teachers in conclusion, "that you can do than to aid in the development of the esthetic consciousness of America. There is nothing sweeter and more gracious that you can do than to inculcate an appreciation of nature in your pupils, to point out its obvious beauties. Then you can teach them the inheritance of art from the past. America needs an awakening to a consciousness of what has been done. After all, it is these imponderables which matter most. Material things separate us; the imponderables, the ideals, unite us, for we can all share in them equally."

DANCING TO POETRY

A large number of disappointed teachers were turned away from the doors of the Figueroa Playhouse in the afternoon after the house had been packed to capacity with pedagogues anxious to hear Vachel Lindsay, noted American poet, in the second of his series of expository recitations of his poems.

Lindsay devoted the period yesterday to poems dealing with California and other western subjects, beginning with "The Golden Whales of California" and including "I Know All This When Gypsy Fiddles Cry," "Incense," "The Santa Fe Trail" and "The Doll's Arabian Nights."

The poet is noted for his very individual style of chanting rather than merely reciting his poems and in his explanatory remarks before he delivered the last mentioned work he made a plea to the teachers to foster dancing to poetry in the schools.

"I want to see poetry danced," he said. "I've done it myself over and over again. In every school of more than 1000 students there are at least ten students in the senior class who can write acceptable, even beautiful verse. Let those ten learn to dance their own poems. Let them learn to chant them and cave out the piano and musical notes."

OTHER EVENTS

Among the other events which attracted capacity audiences yesterday were a lecture at Barker Brothers auditorium on "The Basic Principles of Interior Decoration," by Edgar H. Wileman of the extension division of the University of California, and a resume and demonstration of a "Safety Lesson Plan," by Ettie Lee of Mt. Vernon Junior High School, which was awarded first prize for California in the 1929-30 "Teachers' Lesson Plan Contest on Street and Highway Safety." This was given in Room 351, Polytechnic High School.

The chief social event of the day was a luncheon at the Ambassador of the Los Angeles City Teachers' Club which was preceded by a swimming carnival. Mayor Porter and Dr. R. L. Lyman of the University of Chicago addressed the teachers at the luncheon.

LAST DAY PROGRAM

Today is the last day of the Los Angeles Teachers' Institute and beginning with the opening session at the Bible Institute Auditorium tonight of the convention of the California Teachers' Association, Southern Section, that organization will take over the sponsorship of the last two days of the institute. The sessions of the last two days will attract teachers from all over the Southland and it is expected at least 20,000 teachers will participate in them. At tonight's meeting of the association, the chief speaker will be Dr. Howard R. Driggs of New York University, who is also president of the Oregon Trail Association, and his talk will deal with the pioneering of the West.

The last day of the local institute will again open with general sessions at Philharmonic and Trinity auditoriums. At the former Dr. R. L. Lyman of the University of Chicago will speak on "The Place and Function of Literature in the Curriculum" and at the latter Dr. H. T. J. Coleman of the University of British Columbia will make an address on "The Philosophy of Leisure." Altogether the day's program comprises twenty-two sessions.

An item of especial interest on the program will be the showing of the motion picture, "Blazing New Trails in Old Mexico" in Manual Arts High School auditorium at 3 p.m. R. A. Goodcell of the Automobile Club of Southern California, which made the film in the course of its recent pathfinding tour in Mexico, will tell the teachers about this tour.

PROTEINS UNMASKED AS FOE OF FAT FOLKS

Proteins, long regarded by the great army of weight-reducers as among the few things left to them in which they might indulge with an easy conscience, were exposed in a new light yesterday by Dr Joseph A. Pollia at the morning session of the Teachers' Health Institute program in Patriotic Hall, when he told his audience that every pound of protein absorbed into the system attracts four pounds of water into the body tissue, making the total addition in weight five pounds instead of a mere one.

At the same time, however, Dr Pollia, speaking on "Obesity and Some Points in Its Management," sounded a distinct note of encouragement to those struggling against increasing poundage when he declared that no matter how obese the person might be, the situation is one which can be adequately handled. And the modus operandi for this control is found, he said, in the good old system of counting calories.

SECRET DISCOVERED

"We know," said Dr. Pollia, "that obesity is intimately associated with the retention of water in the body tissues. Starches attract one-half their weight in water, fats attract an amount equal to their own weight and proteins, which heretofore we have suspected the least, attract four times their weight.

"Furthermore, sodium products, such as salt, are the specific factors in the body tissue which retain the water, so the use of a great deal of salt or foods containing it is something to be avoided in the matter of working out a losing diet.

"The average obese person can lose safely and satisfactorily on 1500 calories a day, but there are some, about 40 per cent of the ones trying to reduce, who find that even on 1500 calories, which are approximately 1000 fewer than most persons consume daily, they continue to gain. For this type of patient we have found, after experiment, that a 700 calory average produces the desired result.

"But here the problem of keeping patients happy on 700 calories a day enters into the picture. This has been met by putting them on fourteen-day cycles beginning with 100 calories a day and increasing the amount an additional 100 every day for fourteen days. This makes the average about 700 and the psychological effect of that 100-calory increase every day keeps the patient in a happy frame of mind."

In answer to questions from members of the audience, Dr. Pollia explained that the advantage of low caloric diets is that in due time the walls of the stomach shrink until finally the patient has no desire for larger amounts of food. He also said that as a rule when a person is on a restricted diet the body is more alert and generates a greater amount of energy for work and other activities than taking care of food. It is rarely necessary to prescribe exercise, he declared, for the patient desires it of his own accord.

Dr. Pollia illustrated his lecture with lantern slides of persons suffering from the various glandular types of obesity and also presented a living example of the results of devotion to the calory-counting system.

MODERN PENAL CODE PROPOSED

becoming wards of the State, as the plan here submitted, and with authority and jurisdiction to accomplish the purpose hereinafter stated." Members would give their entire time to the work at hand and thus "be able to give this subject the attention its successful administration would require."

CRIMINALS CLASSIFIED

Substantially, the plan recommends that all convicted felons be classified as : (a) Dissolute criminals (persons of ascertained vicious character; ready and willing participants in crime;) (b) ordinary criminals (those of normal intelligence and emotional reaction, who have committed felonies because of environment or through circumstances;) (c) quasi-criminals (who have committed felonies not involving intentional transgression, but requiring disciplinary action.)

On being convicted and therefore becoming wards of the State, as hte plan suggests, all such criminals would be transported to a detention laboratory, one to be located in the northern and the other in the southern part of the State, and there, under jurisdiction of the board of penology, would be subjected to elaborate clinical, physiological and psychological examinations for the purpose of determining mental and physical defects and providing treatment.

Dissolute criminals, according to the outline, would be confined for life in the penitentiaries, with the provision that those who are not vicious but subnormal and otherwise inoffensive might be used to perform menial labor at prison schools, prison farms, detention laboratories or hospitals.

All ordinary criminals would be confined in the penitentiaries or prison farms or schools for a sufficient length of time to enable them to become skilled in a trade or calling with which they could earn a living upon being restored to society. Quasi-criminals would be confined only in a prison school or prison farm, but would have to obey the rules and regulations of the penology board. At the prison farms and prison schools military discipline would be enforced and physical exercise be compulsory to the end of development of minds and bodies.

Some two-score miscellaneous changes, amendments and new statutes are proposed by the committee in connection with the Penal Code.

CHANGES PROPOSED

Chief among these are that a series of similar misdemeanors be prosecuted as a felony where amounts obtained exceed $200; that narcotic addicts possessing firearms be punished; that misconduct of the District Attorney should be ground for a motion for new trial; that a court of appellate jurisdiction solely for criminal appeals should be established; that a method be provided for legal confiscation, sale or destruction of all means used in commission of a crime; that territorial jurisdiction of felonious homicide be clarified; that a husband or wife may become a competent witness where either attempts a crime of violence against the other and some third person is injured; that provisions limiting the power of the courts to grant probation be repealed; and that in cases of driving while intoxicated the jury be denied the power to designate the nature of the penalty and the place of imprisonment and that fines be not given as alternatives of imprisonment.

Besides Dep. Dist.-Atty. Beecher, the committee included Judges William T. Aggeler, Thomas L. Ambrose, Charles W. Fricke and James H. Pope, and Attorneys Robert A. Cushman, Jerry Geisler, Byron C. Hanna, Leo V. Silverstein and Frederic H. Vercoe.

AUTOS BOUGHT FOR POLICE

A contract for the purchase of twelve light Ford sedans for the police department to replace a similar number of old cars was awarded by the Police Commission yesterday to Walter Fowler, Ltd., of 1159 South Los Angeles street, as the lowest bidder. The amount is $7194, and an allowance of $1740 for the old cars was made by the bidder.

OLD-TIME SETTLER CALLED BY DEATH

Richard Garvey

CLUB WILL HAVE PARTY

The Hollywood Breakfast Club will meet for its second annual Christmas breakfast party tomorrow morning in the Sunset Fields Golf Club, with A. P. Entenza as guest of honor and principal speaker. The program will include vocal solos by Arthur Lang and music by the Los Angeles Playground Harmonica Band and the Lone Pine Rangers.

PIONEER OF CITY PASSES

Richard Garvey, California pioneer, widely known for his activities in financial and real estate fields and for his work in the development of Los Angeles, died yesterday at the age of 92 years, at his home, 2302 West Ninth street.

Mr. Garvey was born in Ireland, the son of a farmer. When 12 he came to America and in 1849 arrived alone at Savannah, Ga. From there he traveled to Cleveland, O., where he remained until his twentieth year.

In the belief that he would like the life of a soldier, Mr. Garvey left Cleveland in 1858 and went to Fort Leavenworth, where he fought under the command of Lieut. Hancock in the Johnson expedition against the Mormons. After receiving his discharge he decided to come to California.

Soon after his arrival in Los Angeles in 1858, Mr. Garvey was put in charge of a government storehouse. A year later he obtained a position carrying the military mails by pack mule from Los Angeles to Fort Mohave. In this 320-mile journey Mr. Garvey encountered only two dwelling-houses. He remained in this service until after the beginning of the Civil War.

Mr. Garvey's service in carrying the mail brought him into contact with many miners. He became interested in the development of the Moss Mine and other mines in what is now Mohave county, Arizona. He was interested also in mining in Nevada and in San Bernardino county. On account of Indian hostilities he was compelled to abandon his Arizona mines. One year previously he had sold his interest in the Moss Mines.

Later he acquired an interest in the Rancho Potrero Grande, the Rancho Potrero De Felipe Lugo and other lands nine miles east of what was then the city of Los Angeles. He established his home here in 1880, after improving the land and using it for grain-growing and stock-raising. Until recent years Mr. Garvey continued his work in the development of real estate in Los Angeles.

He leaves a son, Richard, who lives at the West Ninth street home. Mrs. Garvey died in 1885. Funeral services will be conducted at 10 a.m. Friday from the home. Mass will be said at the Plaza Church and interment will be in Calvary Cemetery.

Rolph Asked to Delay Selection of Farm Leader

Editors of California farm papers joined in a telegram yesterday to Governor-elect James Rolph, Jr., urging delay in appointing a director for the State Department of Agriculture until a choice can be made which will be a distinct credit to the incoming administration and acceptable to California agriculture.

The telegram to Rolph was signed by W. R. Wood, editor of the California Cultivator of Los Angeles; John E. Pickett, editor of the Pacific Rural Press of San Francisco; E. A. Street, editor of the California Citrograph of Los Angeles, and H. G. Rowley, editor of the California Fruit News of San Francisco. The telegram cited that the four farm papers collectively represent more than 125,000 farm homes of the State and every branch of California agriculture.

KEEP THE CHRISTMAS TRADITIONS

Rarely has there been a Christmas when the giving of gifts will carry the message of good will to so many outside the immediate circle of the recipients.

To a great number, unfortunately unemployed, this Christmas can only bring, as its sole gift to them, the heartfelt hope and encouragement that a quick return to normal buying will soon again provide the employment so vital to the support of themselves and their dependents.

Occasionally we hear people say that they do not intend to give anything this Christmas—that it is a panic year, and they do not wish to be extravagant.

Nothing could more surely add to the present distress than adherence to such an economic fallacy.

Prudence is an admirable trait, but strict compliance with the dictates of prudence alone seldom won a battle; and, paradoxical as it may seem, there are conceivably, times when it is prudent to be imprudent, for there are very few, no matter how strong may be their present sense of security, who can escape the adverse effect of the economic penalty imposed by a prolonged period of depression.

Happily, the spirit of Christmas has surpassed the significance of the day as a purely Christian festival, and we now find earnest groups, regardless of creed, laboring unsparingly to bring, in a practical and substantial way, the spirit of good will and helpfulness to all our people.

During the great World War, waged largely in the interest of humanity, America gave freely of its lives and its money—it would be inconsistent now to be less mindful of the well being of our own people.

For those whose choice of gifts leans to the practical and useful, we suggest something from our extensive assemblage of gift articles that would make suitable, lasting and pleasing contributions to any home. We invite you to visit our Christmas gift displays and shop promptly for the best selections.

Today's Bible Text

And I hear a great voice out of heaven saying, Behold, the tabernacle of God is with men, and He will dwell with them, and they shall be His people, and God Himself shall be with them, and be their God.—Rev. xxi:3.

STILL BOASTING

The regular off-year gains of the Democrats always produce the cocksure attitude displayed until the next Presidential election. It takes a Cleveland or a Wilson to upset the dope.

SOUTHERN CHIVALRY?

Oklahoma has declared women to be ineligible for the Governorship. Past history has shown that the gubernatorial chair in that State is an uncomfortable seat for an executive of either sex.

MOVIE LICENSE

The rich money rewards some authors receive for motion-picture rights must be poor compensation for the butchering of brain children by directors striving "to make a picture that will please the public."

LABOR-SAVING NOTES

"This government will be happy to continue with the new government of . . . the same friendly relations as with its predecessors."—Form note suggested for the use of Secretary Stimson in his dealings with Latin-American countries.

MANY DISAPPOINTMENTS?

New York shopkeepers are doing up Christmas gifts in containers simulating champagne bottles. If all the bottles were as harmless this year we wouldn't predict a Merry Christmas for "Scarface Al" Capone and his ilk. But the reports of offshore activities are ominous.

UP TO THE PEOPLE

Mayor Hefferman of Youngstown, O., in dismissing the police vice squad of that city, remarked: "I am sick and disgusted with the futility of trying to make policemen enforce laws to govern people who refuse to obey their own laws." He expressed some widely held sentiments.

FEDERAL-AID ROADS

More than 9300 miles of highway were improved throughout the United States and Hawaii during the fiscal year ended June 30, 1930, with the aid of Uncle Sam. The total cost was $193,648,148, of which amount the government paid $82,158,756. The appropriation for the present fiscal year is $125,000,000, assuring the building of highways to cost more than $250,000,000. California, spending more than $11,000,000, was aided to the extent of more than $5,000,000, and was second in the amount received only to Texas, the government quota in that State being more than $7,000,000 toward a $16,000,000 program. In August, last, the Federal aid program gave employment to more than 48,000 men and the number will reach nearly 60,000 this year. There are some phases of Mr. Hoover's plan to help the unemployed that his critics have overlooked.

SHORT SHRIFT FOR CULPRITS

Milwaukee, with its 570,000 population, seems to be leading all other big American cities in crime suppression. Its system of dealing with crooks is being held up by the eastern press as a model one. Gangsters and hold-up men generally fight shy of the place and only the exceedingly bold or unknowing ones ply their trade there.

It is said that Milkaukee has the lowest burglary insurance rates of any large city in America, because severe penalties are dealt out to robbers of every kind with no minimum of delay. One bandit who tried to loot a bank as soon as it opened in the morning was caught, tried, found guilty and locked up in a penitentiary cell in the afternoon of the same day, and this is but one of many similar instances of swift justice there.

One reason for the ability of the law enforcers to act so speedily in the punishment of crime is that there is comparatively little crime to punish. This would not be the case if crooked politicians ruled the city and if the Chief of Police were not given full sway. But it is the boast of Milwaukee that politics cut but a small figure there in this respect and that the city has had but two police heads in forty-six years.

It would not be a bad plan for delegates from all our large cities to visit the Milwaukee officials and find out just how they do it.

THE GUARANTY MESS

The scramble for what remains of the wrecked Guaranty Building and Loan Association, on the part of a hungry horde that has no claim on it, is like nothing so much as a flock of vultures fighting over half-picked bones.

With the revelations of Gilbert Beesemyer's $8,000,000 defalcations but five-days old, litigation is already piling mountain high about the ruins. Officials are squabbling among themselves over petty questions of jurisdiction and precedence, stockholders and depositors are forming themselves into embattled groups, each with its own legal battery, "experts" of every school are pushing forward with infallible schemes—all different—for salvaging the assets and from all points of the compass come other interested saviors with every possible variety of personal ax to grind.

This is not to say, of course, that the efforts being put forth by the actual victims of Beesemyer's thievery to recover at least part of their losses are not perfectly legitimate nor that all the lawyers engaging in the present free-for-all are actuated solely by the vision of fat fees. The fact is, however, that unless some practicable, co-ordinated salvage program is soon devised and put into effect, the chance of any loser to recover anything substantial will be slim indeed. The present chaos and confusion affords an excellent cover under which assets have a way of mysteriously evaporating, and the fees of an army of attorneys may be counted on to swallow up most of the rest.

In many respects the situation is remarkably reminiscent of that which followed the crash of the Los Angeles Investment Company some sixteen years ago. After the years of fantastic financing on the part of President Charles A. Elder and some of his directors had landed them in jail, there was a general sauve qui peut. Stockholders threw their holdings overboard at ruinous prices, shyster lawyers fed fat on litigation, banks suffered from dangerous runs and the whole financial structure of the city was imperiled. Dozens of "remedies" for the situation were advanced, each with its own group of champions. The confusion grew to alarming heights. Finally, as a last resort, the stockholders and the community united in drafting a group of prominent citizens, headed by the late Senator Frank P. Flint, to take hold of the situation and salvage the wreck. Going in as temporary and volunteer officers of the shattered company, for the period of the emergency, this group was so successful in calming the storm and bringing order out of chaos that most of them remained in the work for several years. How they put the Los Angeles Investment Company back on its feet, conserved and built up its assets and finally restored the company to greater actual prosperity than Elder's paper one had been, is a matter of history.

The parallel between that situation and this is close enough to indicate that it is only through some such concentration of the tangled affairs of the Guaranty Association in a few strong hands that the maximum can be saved for the Beesemyer victims. Whether this could best be accomplished by the unofficial drafting of such a group as functioned in the investment company case or through a regular receivership is not so important as that the men chosen for the salvage job shall be men of a character to inspire absolute confidence on the part of everyone and of a business ability to realize all that can be realized for the benefit of legitimate losers without delay, unnecessary litigation or waste.

Not less necessary, though outside the functions of the immediate salvagers, are steps to insure against any repetition of such rascalities as Beesemyer's.

In theory the investor is protected by severe State laws and by a rigid system of public inspection. Large sums of the taxpayers' money are expended to assure this system of inspection. It is money well spent—if well spent; if the inspection is in the hands of experts who are on the job and who know what it is all about.

The best that can be said of the present Commissioner of Building and Loan Supervision is that he is pathetic. As usual with incompetent officials, he sets up a piteous wail that he hasn't help enough. How many "expert accountants" does he require to perceive a hole where $8,000,000 has dropped through?

The danger in this case is an oblique danger. The loss of $5,000,000 or $6,000,000 (to which this loss will probably fall) is actually a comparatively small matter to a city of the wealth of financial Los Angeles. The danger is that it inspires a fear of all public financial institutions.

The Commissioner of Building and Loan Supervision should resign. He may have been a good private secretary to Gov. Young—although the Governor seems to have endured his loss with Christian fortitude. But in his present capacity, he is a washout and a failure.

In his forthcoming appointments, Governor-elect Rolph has a great opportunity to quiet the fears as to the queer noises that the nervous ears of the small investors hear going on behind the curtain.

Meanwhile, if Gov. Young has any more secretaries, it would be economy to pension them for life.

GENUINE HEROISM

Braving the danger of death and the certain disfavor of high officials of the country, Queen Elizabeth of Belgium has begun an investigation into the cause of the "poison valley mystery" which has caused several scores of deaths in her country. If such a heroic act had been performed in the middle ages the brave queen would have been canonized.

FAST

The earth is now running ahead of schedule a fraction of a second daily. While some attribute this to the moon and others to shrinkage, it is our conviction that Mother Earth, like all grandmothers, is just stepping out and becoming unreliable.

BUT HE MAY THINK

If past performances are any criterion, Mr. Hearst will, of course, be too modest to claim that the ousting of Tardieu was a reflection of the French attitude toward his own expulsion.

The
LEE SIDE O' L.A.
BY Lee Shippey

WHEN we were a boy our "Sunday clothes" were treasured best. On Saturday we got out the shoes reserved for state occasions and the can of T. M. blacking and put in a busy half hour blacking our shoes and face and hands and play-day garments. Then we put in another busy half hour washing, for no matter how carefully we handled that dauber, the possessed thing somehow found a way to smirch us back of the ears as we put up a thoughtless hand to brush back the hair from a perspiring brow, and we couldn't go out to play before those jobs were done, not even if that was the day the Grandview Reds were scheduled to play the Bucktown Sluggers for the grammar school champeenship of Smileyville. For in those days every boy had chores to do before he could be free for even such a historic encounter. And of all chores, the most religiously observed were those of the Saturday morning shoeshine and the Saturday night bath.

Why Father Was a Club Man

Grown-ups, too, took that Saturday night bath. It was not considered good form to let it go till Sunday morning, for Sunday morning one must be all ready to get up and dress in his best in honor of the day, and go to town, some miles away, to church. Even if he didn't go to church, he dressed up, for somebody was sure to come home to dinner with those who did go, and friends would drop in on Sunday afternoon. It was such an established rule that all possible preparations for the day of rest must be made the day before that father belonged to a club so that he might take his Saturday bath there and not have to stand in line so long for the family bathtub (tin.) He also brought us a thoughtfully selected book from the club library every Saturday afternoon and to the best of our recollection never spent an evening there. If we hadn't had such a large family that it was not always convenient for everyone to get his turn at the bathtub and to heat up all the buckets and kettles of water which had to be lugged up to the bathroom for those weekly events, father never would have shone as a club man.

Sunday Clothes

Of course, cold baths and sponge baths were frequent occurrences—one might say daily except on bitter cold days, for one baseburner was all the heat we had downstairs, besides a kitchen stove and a "drum" was alleged to take some of the iciness out of the atmosphere in the second story, though we never caught it doing it on any really cold day. But the Saturday night bath was as hot as you could stand it, a real soaking to get the coal grime out of chapped knuckles and make you feel you had some right to go to the church on Lord's day. We can recall no other household institution quite so sacred in our childhood days. Yet it was no whit more demanded by respectability than were "Sunday clothes," for all able to go outdoors on that day or receive visitors indoors. Anyone not dressed in his best on Lord's day was daringly affronting society, if not the Lord Himself.

These recollections came to us last Sunday as we were putting on our "Sunday clothes"—our oldest, easiest suit—the gray one with patched trousers and snagged elbows and spots no cleaner or presser has disturbed for a year. For Sunday is our one real day of manual labor. Then it is we mow the grass and dig around the shrubs and saw up wood for the grate fire and do any heavy jobs our helpspend has been saving up for us through the week. On Sunday we toil and sweat from cockcrow till 12:30 p.m. and then, when we stop to clean up for dinner, usually decide to put the old suit on again so we'll be all ready to take a hike up Bailey Canyon after dinner.

Sunday, Day of Labor

Now the purpose of this discourse (besides that of filling space) is to disclose what we believe to be a fact—that the "Sunday clothes" of Southern California are our old clothes. Each week day the average Angeleno dresses in his best and sallies forth into the world of men, but on Sunday he puts on any old thing for that is the day he greases the car or attends to some other job he hasn't time to do any other day and can't afford to do while dressed in his good clothes. Many a man who tries to be the glass of fashion and the mold of form each business day, when he is thrown into continual contact with the public, the boss and the blond stenographer, will arise on Sunday morn and don a costume his father wouldn't have gone fishing in. We even know retired gentlemen of wealth and high-powered execs who are so fond of their gardens that on Sunday they enjoy the liberty of clothes they really ought to give to the Goodwill Industries.

In fact, Sunday is the only real day of labor for thousands of us. All the rest of the week we stall around and have "conferences" and attend luncheon clubs and pass the buck and think of ourselves as tired business men. But on the erstwhile day of rest we really get busy and do something.

Joshua Little Says

The bore we have always with us.

The main complaint most of us have against the rich is that they won't encourage us to share their burdens.

I meet a lot of real successes, and they've all learned that time is so valuable they cannot afford to be hasty.

WHERE FARMING SUCCEEDS

By studying the methods and proceedings of the California Fruit Growers' and Farmers' Convention a good reason may be discovered for the general success of agricultural pursuits in this State, a success which is especially evident in the seven southern counties. Since the year 1881, when the present title was adopted, California's fruit and farm interests and enterprises have met in annual convention, to take stock of conditions, to discuss problems and to determine policies. It has been, in fact, a yearly clearinghouse for the agricultural industries of the State.

This year Los Angeles has been chosen for the 1930 convention. Today, tomorrow and Friday of this week the fruit growers and farmers hold their sessions at the Alexandia Hotel. In view of general conditions prevailing in other farming sections, and the necessity for California to uphold its present agricultural prestige, the convention this year will attract a more than usual attention.

The interest taken in the Los Angeles meeting is attested by the fact that twenty agricultural organizations, institutions and agencies, including the United States Department of Agriculture, the Federal Farm Board and the California Department of Agriculture in active co-operation are contributing to its program. In addition to the California Department of Agriculture, the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring and financing this important session.

The selection of Los Angeles for an all-embracing farm convention at this juncture is especially apposite, this city being the metropolis of a region which is today the agricultural white spot on the map of the United States. California has just completed an agricultural year of record production.

While it is true that the prices of farm commodities beyond the control of our individual farm organizations are still subnormal, 1930 has again demonstrated the State's ability to produce remuneratively the 180 staple and specialty crops of field, truck garden and orchard, which have made the slogan, "California Grown," famous the world over.

In a year like this of general farm depression the total returns for California's farm crops will exceed by several millions those of 1929. Last year the total farm gross returns were placed approximately at $800,000,000. Agriculture is still the State's basic business, upon which have been built transportation, trade, banking, manufacturing, merchandising and commerce.

In this record Southern California figures are outstanding. The irrigated area of our seven southern counties produces the highest average yield per acre known to agriculture. The gross cash returns of the five counties immediately adjacent to Los Angeles were this year $5,000,000 greater than for the former banner year, 1927. In these five counties the average return per acre, covering about 1,000,000 acres, is approximately $212. The yield for a few choice spots has been in excess of $2000 an acre.

Citrus fruit and walnuts, backed by the world's greatest co-operative marketing system, have, of course, contributed chiefly to the larger returns. But vegetable crops, such as lettuce, melons, asparagus, celery and spinach from the warm soil of Imperial Valley, not to mention such choice luxuries as dates and avocados, have all helped considerably to raise the average.

There was, therefore, ample reason for holding this year's meeting of our fruit growers and farmers in the distributing center for the best paying agricultural produce in the United States. And in return the successful growers of these Southern California crops have the opportunity of expressing how much they owe to the good offices of the California Fruit Growers' and Farmers' Convention.

We must continue to safeguard our crops from the invasion of pests and parasites. We must continue our worldwide search for bigger and better markets. We must continue our efforts to dispose of our surpluses and by-products. We must continue steps already taken to keep up our quality standardization. We must establish an even closer unity in the purposes and methods of our agriculture. We must mimimize too much overhead, duplication of effort and all unnecessary waste.

These are the objects for which the California fruit growers and farmers have gathered this week in the city of Los Angeles. In pursuing their labors they have the hearty best wishes of all our citizens.

UP IN SMOKE

Statistics show that more cigarettes have been smoked in the first nine months of the depression than ever before. We had been wondering what caused it.

A Suggestion

VALLEJO, Dec. 8.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Your editorial of November 23, entitled "A Problem for Civilization" attracted by attention. I have also observed comment thereon that followed. It seems to me that you expressed the problem very well and that the solutions offered so far will accomplish little or nothing.

Congress is simply overwhelmed. Shepherding our liquor alone constitutes a reasonable work load for this session.

May I suggest that the Los Angeles Times sponsor for the purpose of sending wheat to China, a movement similar to the one by which the procurement of a yacht race trophy was financed recently?

Apparently a considerable portion of our citizenry is convinced that the cause is a good one. Perhaps they would contribute to financing it. Private enterprise could effect shipment more expeditiously than the government. Speed will enhance the efficacy of whatever may be done toward relieving the glut at home and the suffering in China.

I am forwarding herewith a dollar. If you get the movement underway I will send more. If not, please give the dollar to one of your messenger boys for a Christmas present.

A READER.

[Editor's Note: Experimental efforts along the lines of the above suggestion, in somewhat similar undertakings, have demonstrated the impossibility of raising by private subscription anything like the enormous sum which would be needed. The Federal government is the only possible agency through which it could be handled, for this and other reasons. As no name or address was supplied by the writer of the foregoing letter, the dollar mentioned has been sent to the Community Chest.]

No Reason for Delay

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 12.—[To the Editor of The Times:] It is, indeed, gratifying to note the attitude of The Times on the World Court issue, now before the United States Senate for early action, as expressed in the leading editorial of December 12. Thoughtful citizens will heartily agree that there is no real need for spending further time in talking about this question, already fully argued in public and private and that the protocols should be ratified at the present session of Congress. There is a great and growing impatience at the unreasonably long delays in making official and effective a decision that has long since been reached in the minds of representative and public-opinion-forming citizens of the nation, as well as in the minds of the Senators themselves. By all means let us insist that our representatives in Washington shall give heed to the clearly expressed mandate of the citizenry of California. We should not brook delay caused by either partisan or personal reasons.

ROCKWELL D. HUNT.

To Protect Children

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 13.—[To the Editor of The Times:] May we call the attention of dealers in firearms, air guns, sling shots, etc., to the Los Angeles city and county ordinances relating to firearms, airguns, sling shots, etc., which specify that no person under the age of 18 years is permitted to have any such device in his possession, same being a misdemeanor, punishable by fine of $500, or six months in prison, or both.

We feel confident we may rely on their co-operation in carrying out these laws which were made only after many little children were rendered sightless through accidental discharge of these weapons by playmates.

We trust the time is not far distant when all who love children will see the sale of all dangerous devices forever stopped.

STATE COMMISSION FOR PROTECTION OF CHILDREN AND ANIMALS,
Herbert H. Hallett, Secretary.

Tough Experience

WEST LOS ANGELES, Dec. 11. [To the Editor of The Times:] In the issue of your valuable paper, under the above date, there appears a letter from C. E. Carter regarding the "Landlord's Side," which should meet with heartfelt response from everyone owning a house for rent. I have suffered losses untold from tenants that have met my demands for rent with the jocular remark: "Let's see you get it."

Recently, one of my tenants got behind so far that, finally, I told him if he would move out without further trouble I would wait until he "got on his feet" for payment of rents in arrears. He told me to come to the house on a certain day to check up on the furniture (a furnished house.) I went on the date only to find a quarantine sign for scarlet fever posted on the front door, which kept them there another month under the law, for which I could charge them nothing, or if charged "see me collect it." When they left at last the house was a wreck, with five broken windows, one of which cost me $13 to replace, and nearly every dish in the house smashed, not to mention other losses. It left me in arrears more than $350 by the time I got through paying for repairs. And our laws protect such tenants!

GOLDEN RULE

BY LANNIE HAYNES MARTIN

When the phraseology of that very just and logical command, known as the "Golden Rule," was formulated, gold was the most precious metal in existence. Gold today is the standard of currency. The value of paper money fluctuates. The buying power of a silver dollar varies. But the value of gold is always equal to its own weight and that value is the same in every country in the world.

So a golden rule is both a national and an international rule, but it is something which must first be learned at home before it can be practiced abroad. It is a rule which can be put into practice in the most trivial acts of life, just as gold can be changed into dollars, quarters, dimes and pennies and spent to good advantage for little necessities which make life easier; and it is a rule which can apply to the most heroic deeds of life, the most stupendous world events.

At a luncheon on the eighth of this month a movement was inaugurated in this city which one man has been working on alone for twenty-eight years. For five weeks preceding this public gathering a committee of workers had been helping him to organize what he calls the "Golden Rule" crusade and together they assembled the group which pledged allegiance to his cause. Probably no more varied personalities ever expressed opinions from one platform than at this gathering, but they were 100 per cent in unison in indorsing the Golden Rule.

At this meeting a Knight of Columbus was the toastmaster and he introduced two Protestant clergymen. Their talks were followed by a short speech from a former chief of police. The coroner made the excellent main address of the day, a well-known actor delivered an eloquent appeal, and a real estate man was master of ceremonies. Speeches were made by a Chinaman, a Scotchman, an Irishman, a Russian. The Lieutenant-Governor pledged his support in person and a professional financial adviser vouched for the soundness of the principles of the undertaking. Club women, judges, social workers, bankers, social leaders, professional men and women along all lines were there to offer support and pledge devotion to the cause.

The aims of this organization are high and diversified. It is to be a tremendous organization in which groups of people may work for ends which seem most important to them. Some are going to try to have the Golden Rule put into effect on the highway so that there will be more logic and less lawlessness in driving, so that there will be fewer lives snuffed out by recklessness and stupidity which ignores the rights of others.

Some are delving fearlessly into immediate needs and are trying to feed the hungry. Some are undertaking rehabilitation work among unfortunates of all kinds, delinquent girls, incorrigible boys, those who have served prison terms and are unable to get work. Some, even, are going to try to carry the Golden-Rule principle into city government and State politics, and while all of these various departments expect to be busy with their own particular project, the universal and ultimate aim of the entire body is international peace.

MY TRUST

I do not trust the glamour of the world—
The fleeting shadows on the screen of time,
The race for wealth and fame, the tinseled prize
Awarded to the victor in the strife.
I put no faith in transient things of life—
The wine of joy that leaves its fevered brood
To aggravate the body, mind and soul;
The beauteous forms that make the senses reel,
Then vanish with a laugh of mockery,
The lovely forms that pass before the eyes,
Leaving the heart more hungry than before.
Not even unto Knowledge can I give
My heart's supreme devotion and my trust—
For that which yesterday I took for truth,
Today is but a golden theory—
And even Memory betrays my trust,
Deserting me when most I need her aid.
Nay, not on these things do I pin my hope
For happiness and the sweet peace of God—
But rather in those things intangible,
Formless, yet beautiful beyond compare,
Those tender sentiments that fondly creep
Into my heart when all the world is still—
Those gentle, nameless thoughts that find their way
Into the labyrinth of restlessness,
The forests of the mind that men call life.
For these bright moments are the best of time—
Bringing the angels of a brighter world,
With promises of glories yet unseen.
These moments do I trust, for them I live—
And for them I shall hope and pray until
The restless stream of time shall find its home
Within the blue depths of Eternity.

JAMES WARNACK.

Royalty in Edinburgh

Never within living memory have so many members of the royal family visited Edinburgh, Scotland, as in 1930. King George passed through the city twice in recent months. The Queen was there several times while in residence at Balmoral, and visits also have been paid by the Prince of Wales, Princess Mary, the Duke of York, Princess Helena Victoria, the Duchess of York and Prince George.

PEN POINTS

A prominent astronomer says that the center of the universe is located in Sagittarius. New York papers please copy.

There is just as much money in this country as ever before, but it seems to be wearing a false beard and traveling incognito.

A scientist says there is no such thing as a perfect climate. Californians will retort that there is no such thing as a perfect scientist.

There's one consolation. If there's no business during the day, you don't suffer so much when the Joneses drop in for bridge at night.

With modern methods of warfare it's not hard to predict where the world will be in 1950. Either in peace or in pieces.

The modern youth is a genius at dodging work. If his father won't help him he invents a jimcrack. It's "Do Dad or doodad."

"Thirty thousand homeless in New York." An American citizen is truly in a bad fix when he has no home to stay away from.

Americanism: Yelling, "These gangsters ought to be hanged!" while grabbing the telephone to order liquor from a Capone speakeasy.

As a final solution, Chicago might put all its innocent citizens in jail so the racketeers can't get at them.

Another improvement. By reducing the legal size of taxicabs in New York it is now possible for one pedestrian to be hit by three cabs at the same time.

Mr. Coolidge gets a dollar a word for his writings. Who remembers the old days when a President had no chance for promotion?

It's ten to one Bobby Jones won't make any golf films. If those goofy directors run true to form he'll be playing croquet with a baseball bat.

Experts say that women's feet are two sizes larger than they were twenty years ago. From trying to fill men's shoes?

Correct this sentence: "My mother advised me wrong," said the high school boy. "If I had used my own judgment instead of listening to her I wouldn't be in this mess."

What women really need are wrist watches that will run and hosiery that won't.

For one man who wakes up to find himself famous there are thousands who oversleep themselves.

Experience is the great teacher, but just about the time she hands us a diploma we are ready to die.

RIPPLING RHYMES by Walt Mason

FREE ADMONITION

No matter what we're eating, some friends will come along, old arguments repeating, to show us where we're wrong. "The proper food is carrots, they're good for man and beast;" they talk like looced parrots about that kickless feast. And if we have no gumption we'll do as they advise, and cut out the consumption of wholesome cakes and pies. We'll find ourselves devouring varieties of hay, the blood within us souring and giving place to whey. No matter what we're reading, some fellows will insist it is the wrong proceeding—the good things we have missed. "Let rubbish be forsaken," say these indignant men; "get back to Francis Bacon, read Gibbon once again. The book you're now perusing is merely fit for swine; by reading it you're losing respect for all that's fine." And if we're so constructed, so short of mental thews, that we may be conducted wherever people choose, we'll fire the books we cherish, brisk yarns and things like those, and then of boredom perish o'er old moth-eaten prose. No matter what we're playing, upon the phonograph, some alecks will be saying, with loud, discordant laugh, "That Verdi stuff is phony, designed to irritate, and Chopin's the bolony, but Wagner's truly great." We turn on Wagner's racket, as these kind friends demand, and they applaud and back it, and say it's truly grand. So, this and that way turning, we stagger down life's pike; and all the while we're yearning for things we truly like. But we accept the doses prescribed by Tom and Dick; they lead us by the noses, and we're too weak to kick.

SEPARATION COOLS ROMANCE OF STAGE

Fifi Dorsay

FIFI DORSAY BACK AGAIN, FOOTLOOSE

Actress Returns From Stage Tour and Says Troth to Berrens Off

Fifi Dorsay's name was again placed on Hollywood's eligible list when she returned yesterday from a personal appearance tour of the East to announce that she has broken her engagement to Fred Berrens, New York master of ceremonies.

Absence in this case didn't make the heart grow fonder, according to the vivacious French actress.

"We had been separated so long and our careers will keep us apart so we decided to break our engagement," Miss Dorsay stated.

Woman Killed by Auto While Crossing Street

Mrs. Golda O'Bryan, 24 years of age, of 2606 North Rockaby street, died last night soon after being struck by an automobile as she, with her husband, was crossing Vermont avenue near Second street.

The two were bound for a motion-picture theater. They had parked their car near-by, and attempted to cross the street in the middle of the block, witnesses told police.

Howard Wesling, San Diego salesman, drove the car that struck Mrs. O'Bryan and dragged her several feet before she fell dying in the street. Her husband received only a glancing blow. Wesling was questioned by Detective Lieutenants Milton and Bergeson and released.

DISPUTE ON CARUS BODY TERMINATED

Husband of Actress Pays for Crypt as Litigation Ties Up Estate

Payment of an account with Forest Lawn Memorial Park yesterday settled forever the resting place of the remains of Emma Carus, famous comedienne, as the original crypt where the body was placed following her death in 1927.

Tangled affairs of the estate of the actress, which has been in litigation through claims of German heirs, prevented payment of an account of $892 for two and a half years. At one time it was reported that further delay in settlement would result in the removal of the remains to other burial grounds.

A check for $1160, the amount of the account, plus interest, was received by Forest Lawn yesterday from J. Walter Leopold, husband of the deceased.

Leopold obtained permission from the co-administrator of the estate to make the payment. He announced that Dr. Paul Schnitzler, representing the Germans heirs, is now opposing the payment of funeral expenses, as well as the account of the former guardian, Mrs. Leona Thurber, who attended the deceased as guardian for a year and a half before her death.

"Emma Carus and I appeared in vaudeville many years together," explained Mr. Leopold in New York, where he is a feature radio entertainer, "and our salary averaged from $1200 to $1500 per week. It is an outrage that I can't spend $2600 of our own money to present as a last rite to the deceased a decent burial. I feel very badly that I must go through all this humiliation to satisfy strangers whom I do not know and have never seen."

Rolph Inaugural Board Selected

Nine prominent Los Angeles men were named yesterday by Mayor Porter as members of a committee to make arrangements for this city's participation in the inaugural ceremonies at Sacramento January 4, 5 and 6 when James Rolph, Jr., is inducted as Governor.

John C. Austin was elected chairman; John G. Bullock, vice-chairman, and James R. Martin, secretary-treasurer. The other members are George Pepperdine, E. J. Fleming, Joseph Scott, Rabbi Edgar F. Magnin, J. A. H. Kerr and Orra E. Monnette.

Painter Hurt in Fall May Die

Film Writing Change Urged

Declaring that the present hit-or-miss method of writing motion picture stories is responsible for many of the failures of talkies and that a complete revolution in story writing in Hollywood is necessary to turn out perfect pictures, Harry Ellis Chandlee, writer and "play-doctor" of New York, spoke yesterday before the Southern California Women's Press Club at the Friday Morning Clubhouse.

Not until stories are written with regard to their reaction on the audience instead of with the subject matter in mind will they lift themselves from the hit-or-miss class, Chandlee said.

Film Actress' Death Explained

Diane Ellis, motion-picture actress of Hollywood, who died in Madras, India, last week, succumbed to an operation, according to word received yesterday by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ellis of 655 Heliotrope Drive. Miss Ellis died unexpectedly while on a honeymoon with her husband, Stephen C. Millett, wealthy clubman of London and New York.

"We received a cable from Mr. Millett's mother that Diane's death followed an operation, but she did not state what the operation was for," Mrs. Ellis said yesterday. "We are so anxious to find out what it was because she had said in a recent letter to us that she was feeling so well."

Miss Ellis, who married Millett abroad two months ago, played in many pictures in Hollywood. She was a graduate of Fairfax High School and 21 years of age.

Engineer Given Planning Office

A.E.WILLIAMSON

Williamson, who has been zoning engineer of the County Regional Planning Board is also a member of the industrial zoning committee of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce. He received his early training in the work in zoning at Chicago. He has about twelve years' experience in both the United States and Canada.

Wife's Drinking Due for Inquiry

Whether Mrs. Estelle P. Beck's asserted consumption of alcoholic liquors was such as to render her unfit to care for her young child will be decided by Superior Judge Valentine after an investigation by a probation officer.

Mrs. Beck has filed an answer denying cruelty charges of her husband, R. O. Beck, and has asked for a decree on similar grounds. Mrs. Beck names as co-respondent a dead woman, who, however, was said to be alive when the Becks were living together. Each party charged the other with drinking too much.

SHRINERS WILL VIEW SHOW AT LUNCHEON

More than 1200 Shriners will be entertained tomorrow noon at the weekly luncheon of Al Malaikah Temple at the Biltmore by the cast of the plologue to "Morocco," the current film attraction now being shown at Grauman's Chinese Theater. The presentation is made as a Christmas gift show through the courtesy of the Fox West Coast Theaters, Inc., Nobles Marco of Fanchon and Marco; "Rasty" Wright, manager of the Chinese Theater, and Sam Silverstein, stage manager. George Stoll and his orchestra will play. The Shriners plan an Al Malaikah Temple night at the theater, the 22nd inst. The oriental atmosphere of the theater and film will be added to by Shriners wearing their red fezzes.

NEWS OF THE CAFES

Al Levy's Tavern, new Hollywood restaurant at 1627 North Vine street, adjacent to the Vine-street Theater, will make its debut tonight on the film capital's rialto with a brilliant "first night," which it is expected will attract large throngs. Designed and constructed in exact replica of an old English inn, the Tavern will be operated by Al Levy, well known as a leading restaurateur of this city for forty-four years, who in that time has catered to three generations, and John Manny, his business associate, with whom he now operates Levy's Grill in Spring street.

The new restaurant, it is declared, will particularly feature a large and varied menu, including a number of delicacies which are served in no other Los Angeles cafe, and will cater to the most discriminating patronage. The same policies which have marked Levy's previous restaurant ventures in this city will be in effect at the Tavern. This evening's "premiere" is to be marked by a number of special events, notably the serving of a de luxe "opening night" dinner at 7 o'clock, the distribution of souvenirs to feminine guests, lights, music and other features. Following the opening, according to Mr. Levy, a standing invitation for the public to visit the Tavern and its culinary department to inspect the latter as one of the most modern and fully equipped of its kind, will be in effect at all times.

BYERS GOES TO ROOSEVELT

Peewee Byers, dance orchestra conductor, this week was named musical director of the Roosevelt Hotel Orchestra in the Blossom Room, and now is wielding his baton every evening. Under this director the orchestra, which has undergone no changes in personnel, will at once be put into special rehearsal in anticipation of a gala New Year's celebration, which will mark the advent of 1931 and which it is expected will be one of the most brilliant of the kind ever staged in the Blossom Room.

"Collegiate Night" is still to be featured every Friday in the Roosevelt supper-room, and "Carnival Night" on Saturdays and the smart tea dansant on Saturday afternoons. On Sunday during the serving of the Chef's Special Dinner in the Blossom Room, Byers will be heard directing the Roosevelt Orchestra in semiclassical program.

POPULARITY GROWS

Wednesday nights at George Olsen's Washington Boulevard Cafe have become "Movie Nights" in every sense of the word, and on these occasions there is invariably a large attendance of motion-picture celebrities who, it is reported, find the dining and dancing facilities much to their liking. Each Wednesday evening finds a screen star in the role of guest of honor and visitors to Southern California have found the popular rendezvous an ideal place to see their favorite actors and actresses in person.

NO COVER CHARGE

Because of the splendid success which attended the special Thanksgiving dinner offering of the Cafe Vienna on North Fairfax Boulevard, near Beverly, plans now are underway for an elaborate New Year's Eve entertainment. The dinner will be a twelve-course array of delicacies and there will be a fine orchestra, a high-class program and dancing. There will be no cover charge and the ample parking space is free.

This cafe was a rendezvous for crowds of young people following the football game last Saturday. All appreciated the excellent food, the friendly atmosphere, and the futuristic decorations.

BALLROOM INNOVATION

Electrical novelties never before attempted in a local ballroom will be used by Fred H. Solomon at the Penny Dance de luxe to usher in 1931 on New Year's Eve. Solomon recently had the pavilion entirely redecorated and refurnished, and at the same time had special electrical equipment installed with a view to presenting bizarre effects for special events.

These will be tried out for the first time at the coming of the new year. Solomon also is making elaborate preparations for a Santa Claus ball on Christmas Eve and a Merry Christmas fiesta on Christmas night.

Chef Wyman's RECIPES

Every Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

FISH SOUFFLE

Mix two cupfuls of thick white sauce with two cupfuls of flaked cooked fish, two teaspoonfuls of chopped parsley, two teaspoonfuls of table sauce, one tablespoonful of lemon juice, a seasoning of salt and paprika, and the stiffly beaten whites of two eggs. Place in a buttered baking dish, fill two-thirds full with the mixture and cover with two cupfuls of fresh bread crumbs, that have been mixed with two tablespoonfuls of grated Parmesan cheese. Bake until nicely browned in a medium oven and serve with a tartar sauce.

FIG PUDDING

Sift two cupfuls of sifted flour with half a cupful of sugar, four level teaspoonfuls of baking powder and half a teaspoonful of salt; beat two eggs, and add to them two-thirds of a cupful of milk and four tablespoonfuls of melted butter, add this to the flour mixture, and beat until smooth. Fill buttered muffin tins two-thirds full with the mixture, cover with a thick layer of chopped dried figs, dot with bits of butter, and bake in a moderate oven for twenty minutes, unmold and pour over an orange custard sauce.

CHINESE CHICKEN

Cook one medium-sized can of crushed pineapple which has been well drained in four tablespoonfuls of butter or melted chicken fat, and allow to cook for five minutes. Then blend in slowly six level tablespoonfuls of flour, sprinkling it over the pineapple, one tablespoonful at a time, gradually add to the mixture one and one-half cupfuls of chicken stock, season with salt and paprika, and allow the mixture to come to a boil, being careful that it does not burn. Add three cupfuls of cold cooked, diced chicken, and allow the chicken to heat through, arrange around the edges of the platter thin crisp slices of toast, that have been slightly buttered, sprinkle the toast with chopped salted almonds, place the chicken in the center, sprinkle over it chopped parsley, and serve.

APPLES DELTA

Boil until clear one cupful of sugar, and three-quarters of a cupful of water, peel and core six even-sized apples, and place in the baking dish, pour over the syrup to which has been added a tablespoonful of grated lemon rind, cover the baking dish and bake in a slow oven until the apples are tender, but not broken. Boil half a cupful of the rice in one and a quarter cupfuls of milk until soft. Add to it two tablespoonfuls of sugar and half a teaspoonful of lemon extract. Place the apples on a serving dish, fill the centers with the cooked rice, mound the remainder of the rice around the apples, pour over the syrup and garnish each apple with a candied cherry.

Mrs. Wyman does not reply to letters, but requests for recipes are answered in the department, PRACTICAL RECIPES, published every Friday.—(All rights to reproduce reserved by A. L. Wyman.)

AUTO INJURIES FATAL

Mrs. Augustine Avieta, 35 years of age of Atwood, died yesterday at Downey Hospital as the result of injuries received in an automobile accident near Norwalk Sunday. The same mishap claimed the life of Antonio Ruiz, 35, of Atwood, who was driving the car in which Mrs. Avieta was a passenger.

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

by THORTON W. BURGESS

STUMPY BECOMES AFRAID

Times there are when it is clear
The foolish only do not fear.
—Old Mother Nature.

For awhile Stumpy, the crippled young Muskrat, thought the snow as wonderful as it was beautiful. It had made such a change in his small part of the Great World that it was hard for him to believe that he was living right where he always had lived. Only when he dived and swam back under the ice that covered the Smiling Pool did things seem real.

He liked the snow. He liked the feel of it. It wasn't too deep, and he liked moving about in it. He liked to make tracks. Even his tail left a mark. That there could possibly be any danger in this he didn't once suspect. It was his father, Jerry Muskrat, who first warned him.

"I see you want everybody to know that you haven't but three legs," said Jerry.

"I don't want anything of the kind," retorted Stumpy. "The fewer who know it the better."

"Then why are you trying to tell everybody about it!" asked Jerry.

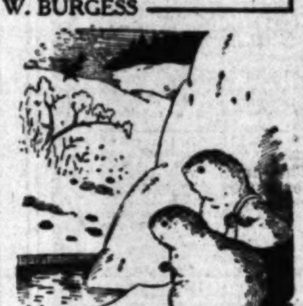
"What do you mean? When have I ever tried to tell anybody about it?" demanded Stumpy.

"It is all written out in the snow," replied Jerry. "If Reddy Fox should happen along and see those tracks of yours he would know in a minute that a three-legged Muskrat lives around here and climbs out on that tussock over there. He might not pay much attention to my tracks because he has seen them before and there is nothing unusual in the prints of four feet. A trail with the prints of three feet is another matter, however. Yes, sir, it is quite another matter. Reddy would be interested in that. So would Old Man Coyote. By the way, I would keep pretty close to the open water if I were in your place. You can be seen from a long distance now."

"Why can I be seen any farther than usual?" asked Stumpy, looking puzzled.

"Because," replied Jerry, "you are dark and everything about is white. Unless I am greatly mistaken there comes Reddy Fox down from the Old Pasture this very minute. If it were not for the snow we could not see him from here. Just look for yourself and see how plainly he shows up."

Stumpy looked. Sure enough there on the edge of the Old Pasture a dark form was moving. It was so far away that he wouldn't have known who it was had there been no one to tell him, but now that he had been told he didn't doubt that it was Reddy. Never before had he been able to see any one so far away as the Old Pasture. Stumpy began to be afraid.



"I—I don't believe I like this snow," said he

"I—I don't believe I like this snow," said he, moving toward the open water of the Laughing Brook.

"It's not so bad when you get used to it," replied Jerry. "You know it works both ways."

"What do you mean by working both ways?" demanded Stumpy.

"Why, if it enables our enemies to see us from a long distance it also makes it easy for us to see them before they get too near, doesn't it?"

Stumpy thought this over. "You may be right," said he. "I guess you are, for we can see Reddy Fox over there now. Just the same, I would rather not be seen at all."

Jerry nodded his head approvingly. "That is sound sense," said he. "There is no danger in being unseen, but there is a great deal of danger in being seen. Unless I am greatly mistaken we have already been seen. That looks like Hooty the Owl just leaving the edge of the Green Forest. He must be hungry to be hunting in the daytime. If anyone thinks that Hooty can't see excepting in the dark they don't know him. He has seen us all right and it is time for us to go."

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Another Economy

If you still use the old-fashioned sad irons for ironing, turn a saucepan over them while they are heating and they will heat much sooner, thereby saving time and fuel.

Hard Butter and Thin Bread

To spread butter easily on thin bread during the cold weather, have a cup of boiling water on the table and each time before cutting the butter, dip the knife into the boiling water. It will make the butter just the right consistency for spreading.

Practical and Sanitary

The new ironing board covers have eylets and lacers and can be removed from the board readily in order to wash. Be sure and ask for this sort when buying a new cover and avoid ironing on a soiled cover. It is made of a durable unbleached muslin.

Too Slippery

If the food chopper is inclined to skid around the table when you go to use it, before fastening the grinder to the table, slip an iron holder under the clamps and then screw on this padded surface. The chopper will be tight and the soft pot holder will protect your table.

Paper on Varnish

Paper that has stuck to the polished surface of the dining-room table can be removed by rubbing gently with a cloth moistened with a few drops of sweet oil.

Your Baby and Mine

by MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, styes and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

SOME DON'T FOR ALL THE RELATIVES TO HEED

I have ceased being surprised when my mail reveals a half dozen letters with identical problems. Today it happens to be bothersome relatives again, relatives who cannot or will not be told anything, but go their sweet way in the face of the young mother's disapproval and actual misery.

One poor mother so fears making her relatives angry that she does not even want her initials used in the paper. She says: "They would be so mad at me." Yet these relatives come to her home, toss the baby about, tickle the bottoms of his feet until he is hysterical and afterward cross and nervous.

MOTHER MUST PROTECT BABY

This sort of weak-spined sufferance does not win my sympathy. If the mother isn't strong enough to protect her baby from such ill treatment, who will? Mothers are their helpless babies' natural protectors from unwise feeding, unwise handling and unwise methods of entertainment. Tickling a baby is a cruel pastime and any adult capable of it isn't sensitive enough to have his feelings considered.

Such relatives lose sight of the fact that they have all the fun and the baby and mother are the sufferers. Of course, babies laugh; we all laugh when tickled and could cheerfully kill the tickler. A baby cannot register his own feelings. He grows limp and hysterical and afterward reacts by extreme nervousness. By this time the playful relative is far away. If she happens to be there she can usually find any excuse except her own behavior for baby's ill temper.

Another relative begged me to write a leaflet that could be handed to relatives when they arrive. Here it is. Any mother whose relatives are about to descend on her can cut this out, paste it on cardboard and hang it in the guest room.

DON'TS FOR RELATIVES

Don't say with a sniff of disapproval, "I did it this way." Remember that you had your opportunity with your children; let this young mother have hers.

Don't feed small children. Ask their mother's permission before offering any foods. Baby's routine and the older children's diet should be maintained. You can help.

Don't insist on rocking baby while you are visiting. Remember that after you leave the mother hasn't time or inclination to keep up the bad habit.

Don't insist on hugging and kissing children, even if they are your relatives' children. Most children detest being mauled. Let the child himself indicate his desire for such symbols of affection.

Don't talk baby talk to children. Their parents dislike it.

Don't criticise children or talk about them in their presence. Too much attention, either good or ill, simply forces the child to do something either good or bad to acknowledge it.

Don't be a relative the family will be glad to have go.

BOY SCOUT LORE SAVES PAIR MISSING ON HIKE

Bringing to its close a search which was assuming large proportions, two Altadena Boy Scouts, missing for more than twenty-four hours in the wilds of Eaton Canyon, yesterday morning succeeded in making their way homeward.

Putting to use their Scout training the two boys, Gordon Goble, 13 years of age, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Goble of 2940 Ewing avenue, Altadena, and Douglas Bean, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Bean, 2927 Morton Place, Altadena, spent the night in the canyon and emerged just as county and Federal forest rangers and deputy sheriffs under Capt. Allen of Altadena were launching an extensive search.

The youths were reported missing Monday night when they failed to return home from a hike to the vicinity of Mt. Wilson in search of the school letter of the California Institute of Technology on the mountainside. With them they had young Bean's bulldog, Pet, two doughnuts, two sandwiches and a canteen of water.

Confronted with an impassable barrier in the canyon, the boys retraced their steps yesterday morning after a night of fitful sleep in the cold. Pet appeared much the worse for his adventure than either of the boys on their arrival home.

MONO BASIN BILL BACKED

City Water and Power Board Orders Evidence Gathered to Support Land Withdrawal

Preparation of evidence in support of the bill now before Congress confirming the withdrawal from public entry of 371,000 acres of land in the Mono Basin as a protective measure to the Los Angeles water supply was authorized yesterday by the Board of Water and Power Commissioners.

A bill is now before the Committee on Public Lands in the House of Representatives, approving the action of President Hoover in withdrawing the last parcels during the past few years. A telegram from Congressman Swing to members of the board said that in all probability a hearing on the measure will be held before the House committee about January 20 and advised the gathering of evidence showing the need of Los Angeles for this protection to its water supply. All lands mentioned are above the Mono watershed basin.

Deputy City Attorney Scott was authorized to secure what data are necessary to present a strong case and to induce residents of Inyo and Mono counties to accompany a delegation of Power and Light Bureau officials to Washington at the time of the hearing. Scott explained that the purchase of this land by Los Angeles, which was first contemplated, is not necessary, as an act of Congress, confirming President Hoover's action, will accomplish the same purpose and forever prevent its settlement. An act of Congress in 1928 authorized President Hoover to make the withdrawals.

Cancellation of a lease by the Green Cattle Company on 16,000 acres of desert land owned by the city in Mono basin was ordered. Commissioner Johnson declared the lease was made without proper authorization and the rental money of $1500 was ordered returned to the cattle company. Almost the entire day was passed in approving contracts for supplies and discussing leases of land in the Mono and Inyo county basins.

WOMAN BURNED IN SAVING PETS

Miss Mildred Stoddart of Redondo Brings Animals From Blazing Home

REDONDO BEACH, Dec. 16.—Rushing back into her burning home to save two cats and a dog put Miss Mildred Stoddart, 25-year-old cook at the Hermosa-Redondo Hospital, in that institution as a patient instead of an employee this morning and almost cost her life.

As it was, she was brought from the burning building at Flagler and Spreckels avenues here with difficulty by Fire Chief Ed Hull, who had responded to the alarm.

Her face and hands are severely burned but she will recover.

The two-story house and its contents were a total loss.

Miss Stoddart told the fireman that she was awakened by the cats and dog and after determining that her friend was safely outside, returned for her pets.

BEET SUGAR FIRE LOSS IN ANAHEIM

Seed and Fertilizer Also Burns in Old Factory and Damage Totals $150,000

ANAHEIM, Dec. 16.—Fire of undetermined origin yesterday destroyed upward of $150,000 worth of beet sugar, beet seed and fertilizer stored in the old sugar factory in the northern part of this city. The sugar and beet seed was owned by the Holly Sugar Corporation. The property was fully covered with insurance, according to T. J. Lillie of the Holly company, whose offices are in Santa Ana.

The fire was reported at 4:30 a.m. and it was five hours before the fire department pronounced the blaze as out. A great deal of the sugar was scorched and what was not damaged in this manner was ruined with water. Lillie does not expect to be able to salvage much of the sugar, he said.

In addition to the sugar, 7000 pounds of beet seed, valued at 20 cents a pound, was stored in the building. Some of this seed can be salvaged, Lillie said.

The Triangle Express Company, which used part of the building, reported its loss in stored fertilizer at $2000. A portion of the roof of the structure was destroyed.

Fire Chief R. Nyboe was of the opinion that a burglar protection system might have developed a short circuit, igniting the building.

TONS OF ALFALFA GO UP IN SMOKE NEAR TALBERT

TALBERT, Dec. 16.—Two hundred tons of alfalfa hay was burned yesterday at the Swift ranch near here. It is believed by the Huntington Beach fire department that the blaze was caused from spontaneous combustion.

The fire fighting force made the run of several miles here and prevented spacious buildings near by from being destroyed. John Turner, who had leased the property, was the owner of the hay.

City Pays Widow for Death of Her Husband

PASADENA, Dec. 16.—The Board of City Directors voted today to pay the sum of $5150 to the widow of Edgar Talbot, local fireman who contracted a fatal illness while fighting a midnight fire last spring.

In setting aside the money, the City Board announced that it recognized that Talbot virtually had sacrificed his life in the line of duty.

Of the sum provided, $150 will be applied to funeral expenses, $200 will go to Mrs. Ida Talbot's attorney, the balance being paid the widow in weekly installments of $25.

ISTRICT TO CUT EXPENSE

...Irrigation Board Plans $300,000 Reduction ...in Operating Costs in Coming Year

...Dec. 16.—That the Imperial Irrigation District, during ... to reduce its operating expenses more than ... was indicated today when the board of di... involving sharp curtailments in nearly every ... income for 1931 will be $3,030,000, and the ... to $2,848,900, according to figures submitted ... and approved by members of the board. The ... overhead was $3,165,577.

A recent report submitted by the engineer shows that there has been a shrinkage of $200,000 a year in the returns from water sales to Mexico during the past two years. The sales to Mexican farmers formerly were in excess of $600,000 annually. The reduction, it was said, is due to decreased acreage under cultivation in Lower California and to the fact that a large tract of land in the Colorado delta area now is being irrigated with water pumped direct from the stream. This water does not flow through the district's canal system, and is therefore not subject to charge by the district.

GOVERNING COSTS SCORED

Special Audit Report Secured by San Diego County Grand Jury Unearths Startling Facts

SAN DIEGO, Dec. 16.—Charging excessive cost of government here, the grand jury's special audit report was received from L. S. Everts & Co., public accountants, and presented to the jury's audit committee today. The audit revealed in particular the high cost of educating students in many city and county schools.

In a directory prepared by Ada York, superintendent of county schools, it is shown that the "average cost to educate one pupil per year per average daily attendance is $239.33 in high schools, $77.88 in elementary schools and $94.82 in kindergartens."

In the audit it was shown by actual examples in schools at Julian, Oceanside and Fallbrook that the education costs are considerably higher.

According to present indications the jury's recommendations on ending its duties this year will be based on information provided in the special audit, which scores several county offices for high operating costs and possible inefficiency.

The facts contained in the audit are of such startling nature that it is said the grand jury members are divided on the matter of making the report public.

Half Century Since Mackerel Arrived Here

OCEAN PARK, Dec. 16.—To those followers of the sport designed by Brother Izaak Walton some years ago, and in particular they who have been in on the annual mackerel run, so productive to visitors of the Star of Scotland, off the Lick Pier at Ocean Park, during the past fortnight, th efact that they are just 51 years of age in Southern California may not be generally known.

However, just five decades and one year ago the "greenbacks" first rated recognition, having previously to the late '70s, been utterly unknown in Southern California waters or the west coast of the United States.

Just where these finny denizens originated has not yet been explained, but the fact that they are here in ever-increasing schools proves that they made no mistake in selecting a future home, as from a scattered school in the late '70s the abundance of these fish has exceeded that of any other in local waters.

Tomcods, otherwise known as "Pasadena trout," and sold on the market as "kingfish," once placed well in the favor of the angler, but of late years have proved the anticlimax of those who go down to the sea to fish, but for some reason or other they do not hobnob with the mackerel, according to visitors of the big Alaska packer off the Lick Pier at Ocean Park.

Tire Explosion Causes Serious Hurt to Driver

SOUTH PASADENA, Dec. 16.—When a tire exploded, causing the automobile to leap the curbing at the Huntington Drive and Marengo-avenue intersection and land on the Pacific Electric tracks, Franklin C. Graham of 1518 West Fifty-first Place, Los Angeles, incurred critical injuries today.

The victim was taken to the Pasadena Hospital, where, due to his semiconscious condition, he was able only to mumble a disconnected account of the accident.

He indicated that the tire exploded when the machine struck a culvert and that the car skidded over the curbing when the impact with the culvert broke his grip on the steering wheel.

"Men Only" Do Holiday Buying

UPLAND, Dec. 16.—Believing that the men should be given greater assistance in selecting Christmas presents without feminine interference, the J. J. Atwood store this week set a precedent that was gleefully received by the men purchasers of the community.

All female clerks were told to go home, or elsewhere, and a sign was posted that only men were to be waited on in the shop during a certain period.

That gave the men a chance to look things over in all departments of the store, without embarrassment, and they made selections of feminine garb they would not do if accompanied with a lady friend, according to the store management.

AUTO CRASH LEADS TO CASE IN COURT

UPLAND, Dec. 16.—An automobile crash of one year ago was to be echoed in Superior Court this week, when M. E. A. Spahr and Ethel Spahr open suit for $25,000 against Dr. A. B. Dunn and Helen Dunn of San Bernardino. In their suit, Mr. and Mrs. Spahr assert that Dr. Dunn, then a resident of Nebraska, failed to bring his car to a halt at a boulevard stop at Mountain avenue and Arrow Route Highway. The two automobiles collided and Mrs. Spahr asserts she suffered serious injury. Dr. Dunn and his wife assert that the Spahr automobile was exceeding the speed limit.

HUNTINGTON PARK, Dec. 16.—With the cold winter evenings coming on, some one probably in need of a heating stove, visited the residence of A. E. A portrait of Bolivar will be unveiled. Prof. Maro Beath Jones of the romance language department of Pomona College will make the introductory remarks.

Taxpayers of Ontario Favor More Schools

ONTARIO, Dec. 16.—A poll of local taxpayers taken by C. W. Randall, superintendent of the city school sysetm, and the board of directors, to learn the sentiment of the public regarding an extensive school expansion program, showed them to be four to one in favor of building and enlarging the school system.

Supt. Randall reported that 1109 votes were cast by parents of children in Ontario schools. The ballots were distributed through parent-teacher organizations, and 889 voted in favor of the proposed building program and 220 opposed the plan.

Supt. Randall will present the figures to the school trustees at an early meeting and definite action may be taken by the board when the sentiment is learned.

The suggested program of building includes a new school structure at Sixth street and Sultana avenue, cost to be $40,000; a new building in the southwest portion of the city, cost to be $40,000; an auditorium for Lincoln school at cost of $20,000, and two additional rooms added to the junior high school building at cost of $8000.

HAWTHORNE, Dec. 16.—This city is in receipt of a handsome Christmas present in a check for the sum of $6270.39, representing earned fees from the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation, unpaid since the city incorporated in 1922.

The sum has been computed at a rate of 2 per cent on gross business transacted within the city limits by the corporation during that period.

COUNTY SUPERVISOR IN AUTO CRASH UNHURT

UPLAND, Dec. 16.—County Supervisor John Anderson of San Bernardino escaped serious injury when his automobile figured in a collision with a car driven by Wayne T. Elgin, Jr., 16 years of age, of 3358 Garden avenue, Los Angeles. The crash occurred at Foothill Boulevard and Mountain avenue. Both cars were considerably damaged, but neither driver was hurt, according to police report.

WOMAN LOST IN HILLS RESCUED

Search Party Finds Florence Kay at Suicide Rock

Suffering From Cold and in Exhausted Condition

After Night of Wandering, Nears Starting Point

RIVERSIDE, Dec. 16.—Lost for nearly twelve hours in the San Jacinto Mountains, Miss Florence Kay of Los Angeles was found nearly exhausted, and suffering intensely from the cold, early today, by Frank Gray and Game Warden Ted Jolley at Suicide Rock on the edge of Fern Valley and only a short distance from the home of Albert M. Lobaugh, where she had been visiting.

Miss Kay had left the Lobaugh home in Fern Valley yesterday morning to walk to Idyllwild, a mile away, for a visit with Miss Beulah Adams, teacher of the Idyllwild school, and a friend of Miss Kay's. When she did not return to the Lobaugh cabin by dark, her friends began to get worried, but it was not until 8 o'clock that a general alarm was spread through Idyllwild and vicinity and searching posses organized from residents of the mountains and from men and boys attending a Boy Scout winter camp at Camp Emerson.

Searchers learned that the last seen of Miss Kay in Idyllwild was when she left to return to the Lobaugh cabin early in the afternoon. The posses spread out over the mountainside and their search was rewarded at midnight, when she was found seeking what shelter the big rock, known as Suicide Rock, could afford from the cold breezes.

Losing her sense of direction after leaving Idyllwild, Miss Kay had lost the trail and for hours wandered on the mountainside vainly seeking familiar landmarks.

The young woman had only a sweater in the way of heavy outer clothing, and suffered considerably from exposure to the cold but was otherwise unharmed, excepting for minor scratches and bruises received when she lost her footing on the mountain slopes after dark.

Manslaughter Count May Be Faced by Youth

VENTURA, Dec. 16.—Manslaughter charges against Jack Kitley, 20-year-old death-car driver, may be presented before the next session of the county grand jury, Dep. Dist.-Atty. M. Arthur Waite revealed today.

Kitley was in Big Sisters' Hospital today, recovering from a wrenched spine suffered when his speedy red roadster overturned early Sunday on the Coast Highway 100 yards east of Telegraph Road, killing Tex Udell Crowther, 20-year-old schoolmate of Kitley, and fellow-member on the 1931 Ventura Junior College football team.

At the inquest over Crowther's body held last night, a Coroner's jury found death due to a broken neck from the overturning of an automobile, and recommended further investigation by the grand jury.

Possible charges against Kitley may be based on reckless driving, Dep. Dist.-Atty. Waite said.

Fellow football players will bear Crowther's coffin to a grave in Ivy Lawn Cemetery following services at 2 p.m. Wednesday. They are Joe Guzman, Albert Eddy, Charles Moore, Kenneth Shannon, Roger Burum and Joe Martin.

Creamery Again Burglar Victim

ONTARIO, Dec. 16.—For the second time within three months the office of the Ontario-Upland Creamery Company was entered by burglars, and $800 in cash and checks stolen, Thomas White, manager of the plant, told police.

The money was hidden in the office, as in the previous robbery the combination to the safe was battered off, but no money was in the safe at that time either.

White is of the opinion it was an "inside" job, as there were no indications of anything else having been disturbed in the office, except the hiding place for the money and checks.

Considerable loot ranging from automobile accessories to groceries has been taken in a series of petty thefts, according to police.

MISSING BOY HIKERS SAFE

Gordon Goble, Douglas Bean, Trapped by Darkness in Canyon on Mt. Wilson, Return to Toll House

PASADENA, Dec. 16.—Trapped by darkness and the precipitous walls of the canyon in which they wandered last night, two missing Boy Scout hikers, Gordon Goble, 13 years of age, and Douglas Bean, 14, trudged into the office of the Mt. Wilson Toll House today, cold and hungry, but uninjured. At the toll house, the boys were greeted by Goble's aunt, Miss Clara Goble, with whom he resides at 2940 Ewing avenue. Young Bean lives at 2927 Norton avenue.

Dressed in light clothing and neglecting to bring coats, the youths left here yesterday with the intention of hiking to the big "T," California Institute of Technology symbol, cut in the brush on the slopes of Mt. Wilson. They planned to return via Eaton's Canyon.

When the hikers failed to return, relatives and Boy Scouts organized a searching party at 10:30 p.m. yesterday under the leadership of Arnold Kriegbaum, patrol leader of Troop No. 3, of which the boys are members.

The search party, after a fruitless hunt, was joined today by deputies from the Altadena Sheriff's office. When the missing youths arrived at the toll house, more than a score of searchers were combing the brush in the vicinity of Henniger's Flats.

Because their clothes had been soaked when they fell into a pool of water in Eaton's Canyon, it was feared the boys might contract pneumonia, so when they returned to their homes, they were tucked into bed with hot water bottles, despite their desire to tell all their friends of their adventure.

MOUNTED SCOUTS WILL MARCH

Sherman Oaks Boys Ready to Parade

SHERMAN OAKS, Dec. 16.—The San Fernando Valley Boy Scouts will be represented in the Tournament of Roses parade by the Sherman Oaks mounted troop. In the New Year's Day parade this mounted troop will have the leading position in the Boy Scout section of the parade.

C. C. Albright has announced his intention of presenting the troop with a stand of colors which will be used for the first time in the parade.

COIT GIVEN HEARING AND DISMISSED

Suspended Santa Barbara Police Lieutenant Appears Before Commission

SANTA BARBARA, Dec. 16.—By a vote of two to one, the Police Commission today dismissed Lieut. Harry S. Coit from the Santa Barbara police department for asserted misconduct. Attorneys for the dismissed officer announced their intention of carrying the decision to Superior Court on a writ of certiori.

The lieutenant was suspended from the force the 11th inst. upon recommendation of President Tom B. Clark of the commission, who declared he had proof of several "acts unbecoming to an officer." Clark's charges were never made public.

Today's meeting was called to make public the charges but the commission refused to make known its complaints against the officer when James Delwiche, Coit's attorney, refused to ask for specific charges. The refusal to demand the charges, according to the attorney, was on grounds that his client had insufficient time in which to answer.

Following a debate between the City Attorney and Attorney Delwiche concerning legality of the dismissals, Commissioner Edward Abbott moved to dismiss Coit, and on the vote, President Clark and Abbott were in favor of the move while Commissioner Maher voted in the negative.

Providing Lieut. Coit's writ of certiori is carried into court as threatened, the police commissioner will be forced to make public its charges. If successful in his legal battle to regain his position on the force, Lieut. Coit today announced that he would institute a damage action against the city.

Edison Company Plans Outlay in Vernon District

VERNON, Dec. 16.—An expansion program for 1931 which will necessitate the expenditure of approximately $412,000 in the Vernon district, has been announced by J. R. White, district manager of the Southern California Edison Company, this program to consist of new construction and electric distribution, service expansion, and betterments in the local district. Besides this sum, approximately $208,000 will be expended in the distribution of pay rolls throughout the coming year.

The Edison Company for the coming year anticipates new industrial, agricultural and domestic business amounting to 250,000 horsepower, from present consumers and the 27,000 new consumers expected to apply for service during the year.

Program of new work to be done in the local district, in addition to general distribution system reinforcements and the extension of service facilities to both old and new consumers, includes the improvement of facilities at the Bandini, Laguna-Bell, Vernon and South Gate substations. Approximately 27,000 horsepower of new service capacity will be added in the district's substation during the new year, continuing the expansion that has been moving along continuously over a long period.

CHRISTMAS ORANGES SHIPPED BACK EAST

REDLANDS, Dec. 16.—The last of the Redlands oranges to be sent out for the Christmas season were shipped yesterday and brought the total for the Christmas stocking up to 220 cars of fruit. And in these 220 cars were enough oranges to put one in the stocking of more than 17,000,000 children, so there is every indication that the youngsters of these United States will have oranges this year.

Because of the heavy shipments, and the large crop, the price of the fruit is more reasonable for this holiday than it has been for several years, and people will be getting good oranges in the East for 30 cents a dozen. This does not sound so good to the growers, but it is probable that it will all be for the best, according to the "ultimate consumer."

The shippers say that it is just as well to have some fruit in the market at a reasonable price or people will not be so willing to buy.

Robber of Store in Ventura Gets Long Sentence

VENTURA, Dec. 16.—David Adams, charged with robbery on two counts, was sentenced yesterday by Judge Fletcher Bowron to San Quentin penitentiary. Adams held up the employees and customers of the Thompson-avenue branch of the Safeway Stores on October 18 and again on November 29, forcing them, at the point of a gun, to get into the ice chest while he made off with the money in the till. The two attempts netted him about $300.

Each count for first-degree robbery carried a sentence of from five years to life imprisonment.

Adams was caught in a Los Angeles rooming-house by Undersheriff Howard Durley and Deputy Sheriff Ed Hearne. He confessed to Dep. Dist.-Atty. Arthur Waite and pleaded guilty, but asked for probation.

Probation was denied by the judge when it was learned that probation could not be granted as Adams had used a gun.

Owner Trades Two Teeth for His Overcoat

PASADENA, Dec. 16.—John Hodges, who presides at the Hotel Maryland dining-room, traded two front teeth for an overcoat last night.

Out of the corner of his eye, Hodges saw a man snatch his coat from a hook and run west on Colorado street. The owner of the coat gave chase and arrived at the Santa Fe depot, half a mile away, in time to grab the thief's leg as he was boarding a moving train.

The leg kicked backward, knocking out the teeth, but Hodges held on, "teeth or no teeth," and dragged the stranger to the platform, where, assisted by porters, he succeeded in giving his quarry a severe drubbing.

The suspect, who gave the name of Robert W. Lauden, 30 years of age, of Chicago, was sentenced to serve 180 days in the County Jail by Police Judge Leonard Riccardi today.

Ontario Man in Crash Injured

ONTARIO, Dec. 16.—J. O. Henderson, long identified with local financial institutions, was a patient at San Antonio Community Hospital today, suffering from serious cuts about the head and neck, incurred in an automobile crash at the intersection of Hellman avenue and Foothill Boulevard.

The right temporal artery was severed by a piece of flying glass and other deep cuts were made in his head. Before he could be taken to the hospital Henderson had lost considerable blood. Henderson's car figured in a crash with one driven by William C. Kellar, local automobile dealer.

WORK ON LINE TO DAM BEGINS

Construction Camp Set Up at Victorville

It Marks Start of Electric Transmission Project

Current Will Supply Power for Boulder Enterprise

SAN BERNARDINO, Dec. 16.—Establishment of a construction camp near Victorville today marked the start of a $1,500,000 electric transmission line to the Boulder Dam project, it was announced by Robert E. Neuman, district manager of the Southern Sierras Power Company.

The new line will supply electrical energy from the San Bernardino substation of the Southern Sierras for construction work at Boulder Dam and probably will be subsequently used to return power from the Federal water and power works to the San Bernardino Valley.

A field crew of sixty men was established near Victorville today to begin the immediate assembling of heavy steel bases that will support the power line towers. Their work is supplemented by that of a small crew of expert line builders brought by the company from its Mono Basin works.

The next camp will be established at Stoddard Wells and the third base will be located either at Yermo or Daggett. Then camps will be placed at Manix, Cove Canyon, Cromise, Holleran Wells, Valley Wells, State line, Roach, McCullough and finally at Las Vegas Valley.

Equipment to be added at the San Bernardino terminal of the transmission line will cost about $35,000 and terminal facilities at Boulder Dam will add another $250,000, according to Neuman.

California citizens are being given preference throughout the job, according to advices received from the main offices of the Southern Sierras.

Glendale Pair Observe Golden Wedding Date

GLENDALE, Dec. 16.—Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Horn of 107 East Chestnut street gathered today to congratulate the pioneer couple on the occasion of their fifty-first wedding anniversary, which occurred today.

Mr. and Mrs. Horn were married December 16, 1875, in Indianapolis, their marriage uniting two families that ranked among the early settlers of the Middle West.

For almost forty years they lived in Indianapolis, but owing to the failure of Mr. Horn's health, they came to California, settling in Glendale sixteen years ago.

Among the guests who were present for the dinner and reception tonight were their daughter, Mrs. Mildred Horn Stockman, Glendale; Henry J. Horn, Jr., Long Beach, five grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Many Given Jobs at Montebello

MONTEBELLO, Dec. 16.—As a part of the work to relieve the unemployment here thirty-five men are at work today as the result of a special drive staged by Mayor William H. Cook and S. R. Macbeth, superintendent of streets, who cooperated with the local chamber's employment department in placing the men.

These two contacted the large oil companies, the nurseries and the factories, and arranged with City Manager J. P. Walker to add extra men to the park and street departments. Then an SOS call was sent out that all unemployed men should register at once with the chamber.

The chamber has maintained a free employment department for the people of the community for six years, to the entire satisfaction of employer and employee. The work of this special committee is in accordance with the national drive to relieve unemployment as sponsored by President Hoover and others.

SCHOOL BOARD DEFIES CITY

Santa Ana Trustees Select Site for Building in Face of Council and Planning Body Objections

SANTA ANA, Dec. 16.—The Santa Ana Board of Education has decided to defy the City Council and the City Planning Commission in the matter of selection of a site for a new grammar school and voted to take immediate steps to purchase a five-acre site at the southeast corner of Flower and Santa Clara streets.

Five times this site has been proposed to the planning commission by the board and five times the commission had recommended against it to the City Council, the latter body upholding the commission.

Recently the Board of Education had suggested an alternative site, located at North Flower and Santiago street, but when it was pointed out at last night's meeting that this location had not as yet been given approval, the board decided to return to first love and buy the original site, in spite of the Council's wishes.

It is expected that the matter will reach the courts and that the case will test the validity of the law under which school districts are required to get the consent of the City Council before purchasing a school site.

The board will pay $4500 an acre for the location, known as the Greenleaf tract, and will erect thereon a $60,000 school to replace the old Jefferson school.

FIGHT ON CRIME FIGURES LISTED

Police Detective Division Reports on Arrests

Total of 141 Bandit Suspects Taken in Custody

Bureaus Have Cleared Up 157 Robbery Cases

Evidence of what the detective division of the police department is doing to combat this year's unprecedented increase in crime is set forth in a report released yesterday by Captain of Detectives McCaleb of the Central police robbery squad covering the first fifteen days of this month.

The report shows 141 bandit suspects arrested, with fifty-seven complaints filed. As a result of investigations following these arrests, 157 robberies occurring since the early part of last summer have been cleared, according to the report.

During this same period 179 robberies have been reported by victims of bandits.

Analyzed, the report gives an interesting illustration of the work accomplished by the detective bureaus of the various police divisions.

Other divisions reported as follows: Lincoln Heights, seven arrests, no cases cleared, no complaints filed; University division, ten arrests, seven cases cleared, four complaints filed; Hollenbeck Heights, seven arrests, five cases cleared, no complaints filed; San Pedro, five arrests, four cases cleared, four complaints filed; Georgia, twenty arrests, six cases cleared, three complaints filed; Seventy-seventh street, three arrests, three cases cleared, three complaints filed; Hollywood, no arrests, no cases cleared and no complaints filed; West Los Angeles, four arrests, two cases cleared, four complaints filed; Wilshire, five arrests, thirty-one cases cleared, three complaints filed; Newton-street, ten arrests, two cases cleared, one complaint filed; Highland Park, no arrests, three cases cleared and one complaint filed as result of arrest made in Hollenbeck Heights. The Venice and Valley divisions made no arrests.

NORMAND ESTATE $73,835

The estate of Mabel Normand, screen comedienne, amounted to $73,835 when she died February 23, last, according to an appraisal of her property, on file yesterday.

The home of the actress at 526 Camden Drive, Beverly Hills, was valued at $20,000, and its furnishings, including Miss Normand's jewels, were worth $35,702. Promissory notes and real estate made up the rest of the list. Lew Cody, the decedent's husband, is administrator. He was left $1 with the explanation that he is well provided for in his own right.

The remainder of the property was left to Miss Normand's mother, Mrs. Mary Drury Normand, of Staten Island, N. Y.

Now It's Bill for Each De Coo

Superior Judge Hahn yesterday ruled that C. A. De Coo, former Police Commissioner, and his wife, Katherine De Coo, chiropractor, must pay their own attorneys' fees pending trial of their joined divorce complaints. Each had asked that the other be ordered to pay attorneys' fees.

De Coo seeks divorce on grounds of cruelty and desertion. He asserts his wife struck him and called him "an old fool."

Mrs. De Coo's cross-complaint sets up that her husband called her a "dirty little gold-digger" and that he once knocked her down on a street.

VIADUCT MOVE SPEEDED

A resolution directing the City Attorney to proceed with the condemnation of land necessary for the construction of the Sixth-street viaduct was introduced in the City Council yesterday by President Sanborn and, under suspension of the rules, immediately adopted. The piers for the viaduct are now under construction, and the land will be needed by the spring.

ACTOR ASKS FOR QUIZ ON $50,000 LOSS

Trusted Agents Declared by Barthlemess to Have Misappropriated Fund

District Attorney's investigtors yesterday were requested to attempt to fix responsibility for the loss of $50,000 which Richard Barthelmess, motion-picture actor, asserts was misappropriated by agents whom he had trusted with power of attorney to handle his affairs.

The complaint was laid before William McKay, chief of the District Attorney's complaint department, who declined to take immediate action stating that it first will be necessary to make an investigation.

Barthelmess charges that he owned $50,000 worth of gilt-edged stock carried in an account by a prominent Los Angeles broker. Several months ago a trusted employee who held the power of attorney, borrowed $37,500 on this account and lost the sum in speculating on other stocks, Barthelmess told McKay.

Since then the man whom Barthelmess accuses of misusing his confidence, has been discharged from his employ. But it was not until recently that the shortage was discovered, according to the actor.

Barthelmess was accompanied to the District Attorney's office by Kenneth Grant, his attorney.

Those accused of handling his affairs irregularly also appeared at the District Attorney's office. After hearing the complaint, McKay asked attorneys representing both factions to prepare complete briefs setting forth their position to be submitted within five days. Meanwhile an investigation will be made.

Burned Hull of Palatial Yacht Goes to Bottom

The charred hull of the yacht Valiant, partly destroyed by fire at Avalon Harbor, Catalina Island, Saturday night, plunged to the bottom yesterday afternoon when efforts were made to tow it ashore for salvage.

The yacht was owned by C. S. Howard of San Francisco and was valued at $300,000. Saturday night a fire in the galley partly destroyed the craft. Five persons were injured slightly. The hull remained floating at anchor. Yesterday when Francis McGrath, harbor master, sawed through the anchor chain the bow shot high in the air and the craft slid stern first beneath the waves.

Coil Funeral Set for Today

Funeral services for Mrs. Amelia May Coil, wife of Ernest B. Coil, Los Angeles attorney, will be conducted at 2 p.m. today from the funeral chapel of Todd & Leslie, Seventh and Arizona streets, Santa Monica. Interment will be made in Oroville, Colo.

Mrs. Coil died yesterday morning at the family residence, 1228 Nineteenth street, Santa Monica, after an extended illness. She had resided in California for more than twenty years. She leaves her husband and one grandson. She was the daughter of the late Judge Freer or Lyndyl, Utah.

Police Contempt Case Due Today

Congestion of Superior Courts again caused postponement of the contempt hearing citing Police Chief Steckel, Detective Lieutenant Hynes and members of his "Red squad" for arresting vendors of a labor newspaper after a temporary restraining order against such action had been issued.

Superior Judge Gates transferred the case to the court of Superior Judge Vicini, where it will be heard this morning. Judge Vicini is from Amador county, sitting in Los Angeles by appointment of the judicial council.

ORANGE COUNTY MAN URGED FOR HECKE POST

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Dec. 16. (Exclusive)—Recommendation that A. A. Brock, director of agriculture for Orange county, be appointed by Governor-elect Rolph as State Director of Agriculture was made in a resolution passed tonight during a joint meeting of the Association of Orange County Chambers of Commerce in the City Auditorium.

Nearly 200 persons voted unanimously that the resolution be forwarded to Rolph tomorrow.

Another resolution, addressed to State legislative heads and highway directors, recommending that money derived from State gasoline tax be used only for highway construction and improvement, also was adopted.

COUNCIL WILL STUDY LOS FELIZ ZONE ROW

Ordinances permitting S. M. Sinsabaugh and the Security-First National Bank to continue to maintain temporary real estate offices along Los Feliz Boulevard were refused adoption yesterday by the City Council upon first reading, but will come up for consideration next Tuesday. An attack upon these ordinances, which run for only two years, was started by supporters of the Ben Frank business spot zone at Los Feliz Boulevard and Lowry Road, which was denied Monday.

"FRONT PAGE" PLAYERS SIGNED

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

MARY BRIAN

Now that he is about to start production on a talking version of "The Front Page," that brilliant, if profane epic of newspaper life which started the avalanche of film and stage newspaper stories, he is adhering still to his notion of making of this fascinating yarn the best talker possible.

One of the most important features, of course, is the cast, and many noted names were announced yesterday.

Mary Brian in the first place is being borrowed from Paramount, to play the heroine. There is also a heavy feminine role, that of the girl from the red-light district, calling for the most skillful acting powers, but this is not cast as yet, so far as I could learn. Mary Duncan or Estelle Taylor should be superb in it, it seems to us.

Several of the reporter roles are filled by noted actors.

Edward Everett Horton will play the part of the hypochrondriac reporter, and will doubtless get more out of it than any other living actor could.

Walter Catlett has been signed for the role of the reporter Endicott, a wise-cracker. Matt Moore is to have the part of the happy-go-lucky, drawling, banjo-playing scribe, and Louis Wolheim, as heretofore announced, will have an important role.

The hero, Hildy Johnson, has not yet been selected.

LASKY SIGNS PRIZE WINNING WRITER

Paramount is going in strong for youthful writers apparently. At any rate, hard on the heels of signing the demure but keenly observing Carmen Barnes, young author of the sophisticated Broadway play, "School Girl," that organization yesterday announced, through B. P. Schulberg, the signing of still another young lady writer.

This time the happy girl is Betty White, 18-year-old writer of the prize-winning novel, "I Lived This Story," for which she won over all competitors in a magazine story contest.

Miss White arrived in Hollywood yesterday, already to begin work on her first assignment. While negotiations are not yet completed for the acquiring of the rights to "I Lived This Story," it is reported that there is every likelihood that Paramount will make a film of the novel.

CLAUDIA DELL WILL SIGN WITH RADIO

It is on the cards that Claudia Dell, who lately finished her contract with Warner Brothers, will sign a long-term contract with Radio Pictures.

CLAUDIA DELL

In the meantime, Miss Dell has been signed by Radio for a featured role in "Bachelor Apartments," in which Irene Dunne and Lowell Sherman have the leading romantic roles.

Miss Dell came originally from the New York stage, and appeared in a number of Warner films, including "Sweet Kitty Bellairs."

M.-G.-M. Signs Stage Actor

It looks as though Ralph Bellamy, recently of Broadway, isn't going to have many idle moments to look around him, now he has arrived in California.

Bellamy was seen by United Artists' officials in New York, in the principal male role in the Arthur Hopkins stage production of "Road Side," and was signed up at once. But before he could be given a role by that concern, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer snapped him up by borrowing him for a feature part.

The actor is to play the role of a newspaper reporter, a buddy of Johnny Mack Brown in "The Secret Six," in which Marjorie Rambeau and Wallace Beery have important roles.

Sue Carol Goes East

That lively young pair, Sue Carol and Nick Stewart, are going to spend their Christmas in New York, according to present calculations.

SUE CAROL

Miss Carol and her husband, Nick, left hastily a few days ago for Chicago, on receipt of a telegram that Miss Carol's mother was ill. On arriving, however, according to word received at the studio yesterday, the mother was greatly improved. So the young people expect to go on to New York for a holiday, arriving back here a little after the first of the year, when Miss Carol will start work on a new Radio picture.

Three With Warners

Three players yesterday were added to the cast of "Red Hot Sinners," which is soon to go into production as a costarring picture for Winnie Lightner and Olsen and Johnson, under the Warner Brothers' banner. Claude Gillingwater, Vivien Oakland and George Byron are the three players in question. Lloyd Bacon will direct.

Actress's Brother Weds

There is to be a wedding up at Esther Ralston's home on Whitley Heights tomorrow night at 8 o'clock, when Miss Ralston's brother, Clarence Ralston, will wed Miss Eleanor Boyle, head of the public school kindergarten department in Beverly Hills.

Rev. Neal Dodd will perform the ceremony.

Miss Ralston is to be bridal attendant, with Mrs. Bradford Ralston also officiating in like capacity. Blanche and Marion Webb, daughters of George Webb, Miss Ralston's husband, will be bridesmaids, and Mrs. Donald Grow will be matron of honor.

O. P. Heggie With Radio

O. P. Heggie, that very skillful and noted character star of stage and screen, has been assigned one of the principal roles in "Madame Julie," Victor Schertzinger's first directorial vehicle for Radio Pictures.

O. P HEGGIE.

The signing of Heggie was announced yesterday by William Le Barron. The actor is the first player secured for the cast of the Schertzinger picture, which is scheduled to go into rehearsal in two weeks.

COUNCIL TO AID LEGION

The City Council yesterday accorded its co-operation to the Los Angeles County Council, American Legion, in its effort to halt "panhandling" by unauthorized men representing themselves as veterans.

Whispers in the Wings

BY MURIEL BABCOCK

"TOPAZE," which Belasco and Curran have been jealously guarding these past three months, will see production immediately following "Up Pops the Devil." In the first weeks of January, to be specific.

RAYMOND HACKETT

The gentleman who hears all the rialto doings confided this bit of news yesterday. He didn't know the cast. He said, however, an expert leading man, one of the caliber of Edward Everett Horton, Roland Young or Alan Mowbray, is being sought for the title role.

For you must know, if you didn't already, that Topaze is not a precious stone. It is the name of the leading character in this comedy from the French of Marcel Pagnol, the character played in the New York production by Frank Morgan.

"Up Pops the Devil," comedy of a group of Greenwich Villagers, is in final rehearsals. It goes to Santa Barbara Sunday night for a dress rehearsal, opens in two tryout performances at the Lobero Theater there Monday and Tuesday evenings, takes Wednesday and Christmas Eve off, and opens here Christmas Day.

This "Up Pops the Devil" is the show that brings Raymond Hackett, last seen on the stage here in "The Trial of Mary Dugan," back to the local boards.

No Radios in New York?

Moss Hart, author of "Once In a Lifetime," says he is finding Hollywood just about as expected.

He went to a barber shop to be shaved yesterday morning and heard an organ recital. He visited a department store in the afternoon with the idea of buying some things and heard another concert. So much music in so many places would have baffled him, if he hadn't heard tell that such things occurred regularly on the Pacific Coast.

On Monday he went to United Artists' studio and there met Charles Chaplin. They had a fine talk, he said.

As to "Once In a Lifetime," "I hope that we will have it in production in about five weeks. We are bringing the principals from New York, but expect to do the rest of the casting here."

From King to Butler

It seems rather strange, but Alan Mowbray, who was the weary King in "The Apple Cart," and who will probably direct "Porgy" for the Civic Repertory Theater, may be caught on the Warner Brothers lot these days, playing the role of a butler.

ALAN MOWBRAY

According to a production schedule, he is cast as Auguste in "The Devil Was Sick" adapted from a French farce. Frank Fay, red-headed ex-master of vaudeville ceremonies, has the leading part with Marian Marsh opposite.

Writers' Club at Work

Here's the correct and complete list of four-one-act plays which will open the season for the Writers' club this evening: "An Artist's Model," in which Tempe Pigott, for whom the play was written by George Patrick, will have the role of a charwoman who poses for an artist. She will have as co-players, Chester Dudley and Gloria Gordon.

George Bernard Shaw's "The Dark Lady of the Sonnets," will be presented by Helen Freeman, Perry Ivins, Carmelita Geraghty and Lionel Belmore.

"Women Without Men" by Lenore Coffey and William Cowen with Mary Forbes, Cecil Cunningham, Tina Marshall, Virginia Kami and Ruth Rennick.

Teachers Hear Play

Attendants of the Teachers' Institute now in progress had musical revue, "Crinoline Days" given by the Los Angeles Kindergarten Club for their special benefit at the Manual Arts auditorium last evening. Principal parts were played by Genevieve Arth, Mrs. Geraldine Clarke and Mrs. Florence Stuart.

Those New Year's Shows

"As usual the prices of tickets for New Year's Eve in New York will be elevated by most of the playhouses, but the advances this year out of respect to things in general will be more modest than has formerly been the custom. For some of the shows in demand the maximum New Year's Eve charges will be as follows: "Girl Crazy," $7.70; "Fine and Dandy," $9.90; "There's a Crowd," $11; "Grand Hotel," $6.60; "The Greeks Had a Name For It," $5.50; "The Vinegar Tree," $5.50; "Once in a Lifetime," $6.60, and "Smiles," $11."

U.C.L.A. Choir Sings Tonight

The University A Cappella Choir of U.C.L.A. will sing a program of Yuletide motets and traditional carols at Royce Hall tonight. The motets, in Latin, are of the classical Roman school. The carols are translations and arrangements of continental Noels by David Stanley Smith of Yale.

The University Choir is in its third year. This will be its twenty-seventh concert.

"Ex-Flame" Features Petite Player

Marian Nixon

VIRILE YARN TO PLAY AT TWO HOUSES

"River's End" Begins Run Friday at Hollywood and Downtown Theaters

The popularity of the novel "River's End," which Warner Brothers have transferred to the screen, and which starts at both Warner's Hollywood and Downtown theaters Friday, is said to be proof that stories of action, hardship and romance in the far corners of the world have not lost their universal appeal.

"River's End" is a dramatic yarn of the great Northwest, where life is treated lightly and romance seriously. It brings to the screen Charles Bickford in his first dual role. Evelyn Knapp, David Torrance, J. Farrell McDonald, Zasu Pitts and Junior Coughlan enact supporting parts.

Action is said to be the dominant theme of the film, which has as a background the unfriendly ice of the Arctic Circle.

Michael Curtiz directed "River's End."

Short Subject Shows Unusual Catch of Tuna

Stirring adventure is not usually associated with an innocent-looking can of tuna, and consequently "Fisherman's Paradise," an unusual short subject on the program with "Min and Bill" at the Carthay Circle Theater, is proving a revelation to many patrons.

This adventure picture was filmed on a tuna-hunting expedition off the coast of Southern Mexico, and depicts the catching of the giant fish that range from eighty to 250 pounds. The fish are landed at the rate of one a second.

"Min and Bill" continues its successful engagement at the Carthay Circle. Marie Dressler and Wallace Beery enact the name roles.

Humorous Skit Will Head New Vaudeville Bill

In addition to "Captain Thunder," the change of program tomorrow at the R.-K.-O. Theater includes a vaudeville unit headed by Jack Norton and Lucille Haley.

Norton and his winsome partner will offer a merry skit called "They're Funny That Way." The two have been featured in Ziegfeld's "Follies," Carroll's "Vanities," and "The Five O'Clock Girl." Musical comedy also is represented by Ralph Olsen and his girls. Jack Major, recently of the London Kit Kat Club, and "The Purple East," a revue farce, complete the unit.

Million-Dollar to Sponsor New Italian Picture

"The Queen of the Spartans," Italian film which has a cast of over 20,000 players, will have its American premiere Saturday midnight at the Million Dollar Theater.

The regular performance of "Fast and Loose," Paramount's comedy of youth, and a new program of vaudeville will also be presented.

The Italian premiere has aroused the attention of the local film colony, it is said, and several celebrities have made reservations for the event.

BEERY AND GILBERT COSTARRED IN FILM

Wallace Beery and John Gilbert are co-starred in the current offering at the Boulevard Theater, "Way for a Sailor." Others in the cast are Leila Hyams, Jim Tully and Polly Moran.

COMEDY TO BE KEYNOTE OF PROGRAM

Mitzi Green Heads New Offering at Paramount Theater Tomorrow

A stage and screen program full of humor is scheduled for the Paramount Theater starting tomorrow. Mitzi Green will appear on the stage for one week at all performances.

In addition to the child comedienne, Publix will present a New York-produced stage show, "Hello Paree."

"Follow the Leader" will be the screen entertainment. Ed Wynn, Stanley Smith and Ginger Rogers are the leading players. The Paramount comedy was directed by Norman Taurog from the stage play, "Manhattan Mary."

The Rhythm Boys will be held over for another wee, and a production overture will be offered by Oscar Baum and the orchestra.

Irving Fisher Cast as Singer in Stage Farce

Irving Fisher, one-time leading man in "Sunny" with Marilyn Miller, will be among the players in "Stepping Sisters" when Henry Duffy presents the farce-comedy at the Hollywood Playhouse beginning with the matinee on Christmas Day.

In the principal male role in the comedy, Fisher finds himself cast as a musical comedy singer, and the part offers him an opportunity to sing some of his own numbers.

May Boley plays the part of the most abandoned of the burlesque queens who meet for a hectic week-end on Long Island, while Kathryn Givney and Frances Woodbury are other members of the trio. Barbara Luddy has the ingenue role. Others in the cast are Robert Adams, William Lloyd, Myra Marsh, William Macauley, Muriel Rothermel and Frank Perry.

Actor Remains at El Capitan for Next Play

Joseph De Stefani will not move his make-up box from El Capitan Theater after "Michael and Mary" closes Saturday night, as he has been cast for the forthcoming production, "Elmer the Great," starring Joe E. Brown.

Joseph De Stefani was in the "Laff That Off" company with Henry Duffy and Dale Winter when this production opened the El Capitan under the Duffy banner.

"MESSIAH" OFFERED BY TWO GROUPS

S. C. Students and Local Choral Union Both Heard in Same Oratorio

BY ISABEL MORSE JONES

The Christmas season of music had an auspicious beginning last night with two productions of Handel's "Messiah." One was the University of Southern California presentation at Bovard Auditorium under the direction of Alexander Stewart. The other was given by the Los Angeles Choral Union and conducted by John B. Trowbridge at the Philharmonic Auditorium, with Helen Morse Steinell, soprano; Alma K. Moss, contralto; Howard S. Swan, tenor, and Gordon Weatherill, basso.

The University Semi-centennial Chorus of several hundred well-trained singers gave a good account of the celebrated Christmas oratorio. The university orchestra had been well rehearsed with the chorus and the excellent quality of its string tone contributed largely to the performance. The good results of having a student orchestra able to give this difficult work adequate rehearsing with the singers outweigh any advantages of a professional orchestra. Dean Walter F. Skeele assisted at the organ and his solo in the Pastoral symphony was outstanding.

Lisa Roma, soprano; Elizabeth Monser Biehl, contralto; Fred Scott, tenor and Clifford Lott, baritone, were the soloists. They are all singers of experience and their respective arias were stamped with authority. Miss Roma's clear voice easily penetrated the cold auditorium but her words failed to carry. Clifford Lott, whose oratorio singing has often pleased Los Angeles audiences, sings the beautiful words of the Scripture with a fine regard for their meaning and the individual beauty of sound. Miss Biehl sang deliberately and impressed her audience with her poise. She has the right musical feeling for oratorio. Fred Scott, tenor, displayed an unusually attractive tone quality. The needed musicianship for exceptional oratorio singing can not be expected in the beginning of a singer's career.

Alexander Stewart brought this performance to a fine fruition and he deserved a larger audience from the university students. "The Messiah" should be part of everyman's cultural knowledge whether he majors in football or science.

Menjou Plays Familiar Role in "Morocco"

Adolphe Menjou

His only other audible work in English films was as the star of "Fashions in Love," following which he went to Europe to star in French-made films.

Upon his return to the United States a few months ago, Paramount placed him under contract for French and Spanish versions of their films. His first English-speaking role under his new contract was as the millionaire citizen of the world in "Morocco." He makes use of the opportunity as the dilettante, perfectly poised and well-dressed man of leisure.

Santa Claus to Distribute Toys at Loew's State

As a special feature of the gala Christmas week show bill at Loew's State Theater starting tomorrow, Santa Claus will be stationed on the mezzanine floor at all performances, and will distribute toys and gifts to the children visiting the theater.

Another special attraction will be the appearance on the stage of the Meglin Kiddies in song and dance offerings, in addition to Fanchon and Marco's "Icy Hot" idea, staged by Larry Ceballos. Bert Hallowell is the new master of ceremonies.

In addition to the Fox picture, "The Princess and the Plumber," featuring Charles Farrell, a Laurel and Hardy comedy is included in the program. "Holiday" is current at Loew's State. Ann Harding, Mary Astor and Robert Ames are featured.

NET CLOSING ON EXTORTIONISTS

Deputies Get Clews to Men Who Threatened Banker

One Believed Wounded in Battle Monday Night

Intended Victim and His Mother in Hiding

With arrests expected momentarily last night, deputy sheriffs were working to solve the extortion plot against Harry Reed, Compton banker, which was climaxed by a gun battle in the darkness between the two men who are believed to have written death threat letters to Reed and six deputies Monday night in an open field near Orange avenue and Bixby Road, North Long Beach.

CLEWS OBTAINED

A checkup on the touring car abandoned by the pair who traded shots with the officers revealed that it had been stolen in Long Beach from Raymond Wiley some time after noon Monday, it was stated by Capt. Norris Stensland, head of the Sheriff's robbery and burglary detail, who is in charge of the case.

The deputies are in possession of clews which Stensland declared probably will lead to the arrest of the gunmen-extortionists.

First moves to capture the pair were made on the 6th inst., when Reed received a letter at the Compton National Bank, where he is manager, demanding that $10,000 be left in a satchel and sack at the base of the eleventh telephone pole on Orange avenue north of Bixby Road.

Threats were made against the banker and a woman whom the extortionists believed to be his wife. It was learned, however, that Mrs. Reed died three weeks ago and the white-haired woman referred to in the note is Reed's mother. She and Reed have been ordered into hiding by Stensland until the case is cleared up for fear the criminals will carry out their threats to "cut your eyes out and your ears off and your fingers."

OFFICERS' TRAP FAILS

Three letters and a telephone call were received by Reed at the bank. Deputies hiding out at the appointed spot were unable to apprehend the gunmen when they came in darkness and fog twice to get messages and a small amount of money left at the spot by Reed on orders of Stensland and Police Chief West of Compton.

Their third visit to the spot resulted in the gun battle, but the pair escaped when the deputies and two Compton police officers had to cease firing for fear of wounding one another in the darkness Monday night. One extortionist is believed to have been wounded, for he fell to his knees under the first volley of buckshot fired from shotguns by the deputies.

The extortion letters were written on cheap paper in pencil evidently by the same person. They were mailed in Long Beach and indicated as a motive for the plot the losses suffered by the writer's mother in financial dealings.

Reed told Stensland he could recall no such transactions at the bank and that he knew of no enemies who would want to harm him.

NEW TERM STARTS SOON

The University of Southern California school of citizenship and public administration will start its winter semester the 29th inst. The appraisal course, including condemnation, will again be given under the instruction of George L. Schmutz, Los Angeles real estate man. The classes are held from 5:40 to 8 p.m. each Tuesday.

NEW JAPAN DESIGNATED AS OUR LITTLE BROTHER

Japan is a second United States and it considers this country as its big brother. Thus H. B. Van Brunt, Far Eastern representative of the May Company, who returned recently from a tour of the Orient, describes the new Japan.

"Japan is growing in tremendous strides," Brunt said yesterday, "new buildings and industries are seen everywhere. The Japanese merchant probably is one of the most progressive in the world. He is quick to adopt new methods and to study how business is conducted in foreign countries. Japan is sending her future business leaders to the United States and to England to have them learn our business principles."

One of the most important single projects of the Japanese government today is the improvement of its educational system, according to Brunt. New elementary and higher grade school are continuously being built and teachers from all over the globe are being imported to help educate Japanese students.

"Open-air schools and other modern improvements are being adopted," Brunt said. "Baseball is the national sport. Rugby also is popular and it takes the place of football in America.

"Possibly the greatest single factor in the development of Japan has been the showing of American motion pictures. The Japanese try to imitate the people of the United States and the films help them to do so by showing them how we dress and act. The old Japan as we knew it in our schoolbooks, no longer exists."

JOB GAIN IN HOLIDAY LINES HERE

Federal Survey Points Out Program of Improvement Costing Millions

Preparations for the holiday trade created an increase during November in employment of shop help and workers in radio, metal fixtures and some small manufacturing lines in the Los Angeles district, according to the monthly survey issued yesterday by the employment service of the United States Department of Labor, Pacific division. Practically all the principal industries in this area, however, operated with curtailed schedules or forces.

The survey calls attention to the fact that municipal improvement work costing $9,774,646 is under way in this district, in addition to the $15,000,000 County Hospital, the $1,250,000 State office building, a $2,000,000 soap factory, a $1,000,000 City Auditorium, an $800,000 school building, a $100,000 telephone building at Long Beach, a new theater at San Pedro and a $200,000 reservoir and a $180,000 public highway at Glendale. It states also that the harvesting of navel orange and lettuce crops in the county soon will require some workers.

Schmidt Rites to Be Private

Private funeral services for Mrs. Hulda Francisco Schmidt, widow of Gottfried L. Schmidt, pioneer resident of Southern California, and mother of Superior Judge Ruben Schmidt, will be conducted at the residence, 3440 Wilshire Boulevard, today at 9 a.m., under the direction of Garrett Brothers, morticians. Interment will be in the family plot at Inglewood Park Cemetery.

Mrs. Schmidt died Sunday at her home at 84 years of age. She was born in Copenhagen, Denmark, and came to California in 1869.

Besides Judge Schmidt she leaves two daughters, Mrs. Harriet Sparks and Mrs. Stella Hatch, both of Los Angeles.

Despite his age, Father Neptune is a gentleman and gallant. Which may or may not account for the fact that Miss Patricia Parker of Hollywood, a young woman of personality, is enjoying her voyage on Mr. Neptune's private waters, the Atlantic Ocean, en route to France.

Miss Parker is one of a group of winners in a personality contest sponsored by Gloria Swanson, motion-picture actress, and has received as a reward a trip to France. She sailed last week from New York City with the other winners in the contest.

DE PALMA MUST PAY ALIMONY

Auto Racer's Wife Faints at Court Hearing When He Refuses to Return

Mrs. Clara De Palma, wife of Ralph De Palma, automobile race driver, wept so bitterly when her husband declared to Commissioner Doyle he would not go back to her that she collapsed and had to be revived before her alimony hearing could proceed yesterday.

At the end of the session Mrs. De Palma was awarded $200 a month temporary alimony pending trial of her suit.

De Palma testified that although he used to make $25,000 a year, his recent earnings were down to $15,000 per annum.

"And I'm lucky if I make that much," he declared. "In my last three races at Ascot I've made only $2000."

In addition, however, De Palma said he got $1000 a month as adviser for an automobile manufacturer.

SMILING BANDIT ADMITS THREE HUNDRED HOLDU

Facing an amazed throng of robbery victims that completely filled Municipal Night Court, an obliging bandit-suspect last night pointed out forty persons he said he had held up, and when any of the victims seemed in doubt as to the accuracy of his statements, supplied details as to amounts taken and conversations that ensued that completely convinced victims and police that what he said was true.

But John R. Williams, 28 years of age, of 158 North Douglas street, the self-confessed bandit, did not stop there.

He fairly bewildered Detective Lieutenants Swindle, Beeson and Burris by calmly, chattily and cheerily informing them that in the last two months he had held up 175 persons in Los Angeles without the assistance of a confederate and 140 more with the help of Wilbur La Rue, 24, of 158 North Douglas street, who also is in custody.

Williams and La Rue were part of a police show-up of forty suspects last night in the Night Court. Cougar Stars of 1915 Plan Meeting Here

Washington State gridmen of fifteen years ago will rally at the Alabama-Cougar game New Year's Day in the Rose Bowl. Members of the famous 1915 eleven that defeated Brown, 14-0, in the first Tournament of Roses game January 1, 1916, who have signified their intention of gathering in reunion for the 1931 classic, include Capt. Asa Clark, Ray Loomis, Dick Hanley, Bert Brooks, Ralph Boone, Pat Herried and Bull Durham.

BABY JOE GANS EARNS VERDICT

Babe Anderson on Short End of Olympic Decision

San Jose Battler is Easily Outpointed in Ring Go

Don Petrin Takes Nod Over "Bad News" Johnson

BY PAUL LOWRY

Eastern jaunts act like tonic to Baby Joe Gans. Back from New York after eighteen months in and around the big town, the black welter put up one of the best fights of his career in the Olympic main event last night.

BABY JOE GANS

Only Anderson's fighting heart saved him from a knockout twice in the third round.

Each time he was down for the count of nine from crashing rights to the jaw.

He just made the rising grade on the second canvas trip. Lieutenant Referee Jack Kennedy's mouth was open for the "out" when Anderson gained his feet from a kneeling position.

GAME TO CORE

The San Jose boy was game to the core, and after his final knockdown in the sixth round he came back to win the seventh with a vicious splurge of fighting.

But Gans crowded on steam and won the last three sessions handily, outboxing, outspeeding and outhitting the up-State lad. He won seven rounds to two with one even.

The preliminaries were all good. Don Petrin copped the eight-round skit with Bad News Johnson,

GOLF CHAMPION WILL GET A.A.U. MEMORIAL AWARD

Links King is Decisive Winner in Balloting; De Mar is Second, Helen Wills-Moody Third

NEW YORK, Dec. 16. (AP)—Bobby Jones's international golfing triumphs have won for him the Sullivan Memorial Award, the Amateur Athletic Union announced today.

The award, given for the first time this year in memory of the late James E. Sullivan, A.A.U. pioneer, goes to the athlete who by his performances and by his example and influence as an amateur and as a man, has done most during the year to advance the cause of sportsmanship. The award, a gold medal, will be presented to Jones at a time and place to be decided later.

BOBBY JONES

Some members of the memorial committee felt Jones's recent action in signing a motion-picture contract had automatically disbarred him from the contest, but this view was not shared by the majority.

LARGE MARGIN

Jones won by an overwhelming margin, receiving more than twice as many votes as the runner-up, Clarence De Mar, famous marathoner from Melrose, Mass. Jones received 1625 votes and De Mar 800. Others in the contest, with the votes cast for them, were:

Mrs. Helen Wills Moody, tennis champion, 666; Helene Madison, Seattle, Wash., swimming, 375; Barney Berlinger, all-around athlete from the University of Pennsylvania, 255; Thomas Hitchcock, famous polo ace, 236; George Simpson, Ohio State, national 220-yard sprint title-holder, 232; Harlow Rothert, all-around athlete at Stanford University, 156; Raymond Ruddy, Columbia, long-distance swimming champion, 149, and Stella Walsh, Cleveland, women's spring champion, 61.

The committee, in announcing the award, summarised the reasons for its selection as follows:

"Foremost golfer of today, probably of all time. Winner of open and amateur championships of Great Britain and the United States this year, an unprecedented achievement. High ideals of amateurism and strength of character were ex-

ORDER MAX TO DEFEND RING TITLE

New York Board Notifies Schmeling to Take Action in Sharkey Challenge

BY EDWARD J. NEIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 16. (AP) — The emperors of maul swung the big stick today and scattered the doldrums that have settled over the heavyweight division in the past few months.

MAX SCHMELING

The three members of the New York State Athletic Commission accepted the challenge of Jack Sharkey for a championship battle, and notified Max Schmeling in Germany he must agree within fifteen days to defend his crown against the Boston biffer.

"There is on file in this office a challenge directed to you by Jack Sharkey," Chairman James A. Farley cabled Schmeling in Berlin on behalf of the commission. "Your six months' period in which to defend the title expired December 12. You are directed to advise within fifteen days from date your acceptance of the above challenge."

The action of the commission dispelled any idea another long-drawn-out elimination series would be fostered to bring out a worthy challenger.

Sharkey will not be forced to prove his strength once more by disposing of Young Stribling, considered by many the outstanding heavyweight; boxing of any of the highly ballyhooed foreign threats or meeting the younger menaces as typified

KNUTE ROCKNE TO HOLD OPEN PRACTICE SESSION AT COLISEUM NEXT WEEK

BY LEIGHTON EARLY

Charged with wizardry, witchery and black magic, Knute K. Rockne, the mystery man of Notre Dame, will go on the witness stand in his own defense, and offense, at the Los Angeles Coliseum, next Tuesday. Rockne will face a jury of several thousand experts, before whom, it is freely predicted here, he will break down and confess everything.

KNUTE ROCKNE

An amazing record of thirteen years of major crimes, that staggering story of nation-wide murder and destruction, alleged to have been committed by Rockne, will be laid bare here in open court at the Coliseum. The public is invited.

The slaughter of the Trojan horse, the mystery of the death of Northwestern, the holocaust at Pennsylvania, the destruction of the Army and Navy, and the hamstringing of the Southern Methodist Mustangs—all will be explained by Rockne next Tuesday.

HERE MONDAY

Rockne is bringing more than twenty of his thugs and assassins to Los Angeles on Monday. The following day, he will hold an open workout at the Coliseum, and demonstrate before however many football fans care to see, just how he does it. All the mysteries of the unbeatable Notre Dame passing attack, the hidden ways and means used by the Irish to break into open field when apparently trapped, the cryptic systems of scoring from the 20-yard line, are scheduled to be reviewed and demonstrated by Rockne and his Irishmen.

Rockne's Irishmen go up against a selected football team of Pacific Coast, midwestern, Rocky Mountain and southern athletes in that same Coliseum on the 27th inst.

But in actual combat, you never can tell how it happened. Somebody gets the ball and gives it to somebody else, after which it passes from sight to reappear again some five or fifty yards distant. Nobody knows how or why.

Rockne's Irishmen will run through the whole repertoire of plays in an open session at the Coliseum. Rockne doesn't care how many people see him. The plays work anyway. He feels confident that they'll work against the West-South boys even though the majority of them will be in the Coliseum on Tuesday to see them in practice.

"What's this," I asked Rockne some time back, "about you being a 'mystery man?'"

"Oh that," he said, running a mother-of-pearl Spanish comb through his bushy locks, "is only a rumor."

"All right then," I argued back, "how come nobody knows how your plays work?"

"Well," he said, "that's probably because they never asked me."

At the same time, Jimmy Phelan, coaching the West-South eleven, and the Elks' committee, sponsoring the game, have not been idle. The signing of two Texas boys was announced yesterday. "Seed" Caraway, who made his fame and fortune at guard in Texas University, and Paradeaux of Baylor, agreed telegraphically to play.

They leave today, accompanied by Pest Welch, former Purdue all-American, from the Texas ranges for Los Angeles. Welch has been on a ranch in Texas since the close of the Washington University football season.

Tickets for the game are reported selling rapidly at the downtown store of B. H. Dyas Company. Prices of $1.50 to $2.50 all seats reserved, are prevailing.

IRISH SUCCESS SECRET IS TOLD

Friendship Responsible for Victories, Says Rockne

BUFFALO, Dec. 16. (AP) — "The secret of Notre Dame's success this year was friendship," Knute Rockne, famous gridiron mentor, told Canisius College students, graduates and friends, assembled tonight for the institution's annual football banquet. "Every man liked every other man on the squad."

The Notre Dame coach related anecdotes of his team, described great plays in various games, told how he introduced his boys to the game and stated that the 1928 Notre Dame team was the greatest, in his opinion, because it suffered defeat early in the season and later rose to great heights.

The A B C of football is the first instruction the Notre Dame candidates receive, and it deals entirely with mental factors, Rockne said. A stands for ambition, B for backbone and C for concentration.

YOUNG RUBIO VICTORIOUS

ATCHISON (Kan.) Dec. 16. (AP)—Fernando Ortiz Rubio, 19-year-old son of the President of Mexico, won his first public fight to a decision here tonight, easily outpointing Ernie Verschelden of St. Mary's, Kan., in three rounds.

TRINE RESIGNS COACHING JOB

Redlands Football Mentor Quits Athletic Staff

REDLANDS, Dec. 16.—Lee Trine, for five years a member of the University of Redlands coaching staff and for four years head varsity coach, late this morning tendered his resignation to Dr. Victor Leroy Duke, president of the university, effective at the close of the present school year.

LEE TRINE

Coach Trine, a graduate of the university in 1920, returned to Redlands in 1926, following several years of coaching, to take over the freshman football squad. In 1927 he was elevated to varsity mentor and has served four seasons in that capacity.

In addition to his coaching duties, which have included track and two seasons of freshman basketball, Trine has conducted a number of classes in the physical education department, of which department he is a faculty member

During his four years of service, Trine has built the varsity up to a place where it has been a constant threat to opposing schools, and while the Bulldog ratings have been only average as regards final standings, the past two seasons especial-

TENNIS ASSOCIATION HEAD TO QUIT

NEWARK (N. J.) Dec. 16. (AP)—Louis B. Dailey of South Orange, N. J., who became president of the United States Lawn Tennis Association last February to the accompaniment of a ringing declaration for strict standards of amateurism, will not be a candidate for re-election, he said today.

Louis J. Carruthers, a New York lawyer, and first vice-president of the association, is slated to succeed Dailey at the annual meeting here February 14.

Reports current in tennis circles that Dailey's action was due to dissatisfaction with progress made in putting his program into effect brought denial.

"I have declined to be a candidate for re-election solely and strictly because I cannot continue to devote the necessary time to tennis," Dailey said.

In a straightforward address following his election at St. Louis early this year, Dailey called upon tennis clubs and players to stamp out commercialism, advocated funds for development of young players throughout the country and recommended "open" competition between amateurs and professionals.

The "open" tennis proposal was turned down subsequently by the International Federation.

THE ALL-AMERICAN-ALL-AMERICAN---READ IT IN SUNDAY'S TIMES

Here you have it—just what you've been waiting for. The All-American of All-Americans. Clip it out and give it to the kiddies to tear to pieces on Christmas Day. It will save you the trouble. Read it to your deaf mother-in-law, it's sure to put her to sleep. Other all-Americans have appeared (including Hap O'Connor's) but there's never been one like this. Look at the men who chose these players—Howard Jones, Knute Rockne, Tad Jones, Bill Alexander, Bob Zuppke, Bill Roper, Walter Trumbull, "Red" Cagle, Tom Thorpe, Dan McGugin, and 487 sports editors affiliated with the Associated Press, the United Press, the Consolidated Press, and the Pants Press. Have you an all-American in your home? In your school? Your community? Your neighborhood? Your coat pocket? Or the hen house? Joe Savoldi carried bricks, and HE made all-American. "Red" Grange carried ice, and HE became all-American. Maybe your garbage man was all-American. Read The Times—Sunday!

Coach Sam Barry Faces Serious Problem in Remoulding Southern California Quint

TRIO OF STAR PLAYERS GONE

Mortensen, Lehners, Smith Are Missing

Mentor Has Hopes for Good Cage Season

Utah Aggies Coming to Face Trojan Tossers

Having directed the University of Southern California basketball squad to a Pacific Coast Conference championship last season, Coach Sam Barry is faced with numerous serious problems this year as he strives to build a Trojan team that will repeat.

SAM BARRY

HOPES FOR BEST

The amiable Barry is not the type to turn on the weeps, despite the fact that all does not look rosy for the coming season. On the contrary, he is quite confident that despite dark prospects the Trojans will be able to give some satisfactory exhibitions of plain and fancy basketing this year. In fact, if Southern California is not very much in the championship race as it nears its close the hopeful Sam will be the most disappointed follower of the Trojan team despite the handicaps he knows he is now facing.

Sixteen men now comprise the Trojan varsity squad as named by Coach Barry. While the squad personnel may vary at times during the season, the S.C. mentor is planning on keeping the number at from fifteen to seventeen.

To fill in the tremendous hole in the team left by the absence of Mortensen, who led the Trojan attack last year from his position at center, Barry is now using Frank (Peggy) Hopkins, former San Pedro High and Long Beach Jaysee player. Hopkins is six feet two inches in height, but is slender, weighing 168, and whether or not he can stand the fast pace remains to be seen.

Replacing Lehners at guard, Barry is now using Clif Capps. In contrast to Lehners, who was six feet one inch in height, Capps is only five feet ten inches tall. He subbed for Lehners last season and was an exceptionally active player, although not physically the best type for basketball.

To take the place of Smith at forward, the Trojan coach is using Bill Pierce, who won a letter as a sub in this position last season.

Capt. "Web" Caldwell at guard and Jack Gardner at forward are holding down the positions they won last year as sophomores. Caldwell, Gardner and Pierce are the only S.C. monogram winners of 1929-1930, back on this year's squad.

Among the reserves who may make a good showing this season are Gordon Boelter, midget forward; John Frank, another small, fast boy at forward, and Jim Truher and Ray Harris, guards, who have gained experience on the varsity reserve squad for the past two years.

FACE AGGIES

The Trojan squad will see its next action the 22nd inst., against the Utah Aggies in the new S.C. gym. Games with Montana, January 2 and 3, next, will close the practice season, and the nine conference contests will begin January 10 when the Trojans will meet the University of California at Berkeley.

Coach Barry has lined up the present Trojan squad as follows: Right forwards—Bill Pierce, Azusa; Gordon Boelter, Los Angeles; Albert Powers, Phoenix; Milton Thompson, Long Beach. Left forwards—Jack Gardner, Redlands; John Frank, San Pedro; James Rimmer, Bellflower. Centers—Frank Hopkins, San Pedro; Joseph Claridge, Safford, Ariz. Right guards—Clifton Capps, Pasadena; Ray Harris, Huntington Park; Clarence Anderson, Aurora, Ill. Left guards—Capt. Wilbur Caldwell, Phoenix; James Truher, Seattle; Roderick Thompson, Los Angeles; Raymond Brown, Compton.

Although he is qualified to teach both chemistry and physics, Trine is still undecided as to future plans. Coach Ashel Cunningham, director of athletics, said that no consideration had been given to the problem of a possible successor.

COURTNEY BATTLES RANKINS TONIGHT

George Courtney, Oklahoma light-heavyweight, makes his third appearance in a Southland ring tonight when he engages Oscar Rankins, sorrel-topped Negro, in the ten-round main event at the Wilmington Bowl. Among those present who will witness the battle will be Coach Howard Jones and several members of his University of Southern California football team. Other bouts carded are Bud Baker vs. Sailor Maxwell, light-heavyweights, six rounds; George Hanford vs. Pete Saapeda, featherweights, six rounds; Mickey McLaughlin vs. Don Conn, welterweights, four rounds; Chick Peralto vs. Melvin Bobo, welterweights, four rounds; Cruz Gomez vs. Ted Goedders, welterweights, four rounds.

The Northwest Reports

One way and another, the Northwest continues to keep in the picture. When the records of 1930 are checked up there will be at least two outstanding performances from that section—the record of the Washington State football team with the west coast championship in tow, and the twenty-eight or more records won by Miss Helene Madison, the Seattle marvel.

Miss Madison broke more records in one year at a greater number of distances than any swimming competitor in history, male or female, animal or fish. Her contribution will go down in competitive history as one of the greatest ever made. And there is a big chance that she will keep on breaking records through 1931. There are no late reports yet on the Washington crew for 1931, but it is about time these oarsmen return for another victory.

Time Defiers

It has been just twenty years since Connie Mack's great infield first crashed into public notice as one of the greatest of all time.

But when you take a look at Collins, McInnis, Barry and Baker, you wouldn't believe that much time has slipped by.

Eddie Collins was around headquarters through the recent league meeting and he looks just about as he did around 1915. The same is true of McInnis and Barry, who still insist on defying the years.

That infield had youth when it came to the front and it has carried youth with it ever since.

Dempsey and 1931

Jack Dempsey will go to New York in a few days and this should bring out his plans for 1931—the final word as to whether or not he will fight again. The odds are that he won't, three years after his last start. The one tempting point is the class of the heavyweight field, or the lack of class—plus the money he could rake in at a time when money is no longer hanging from wayside bushes. Dempsey has kept in good shape and even after a three-year rest he could annoy most of those now hanging around. But the three-year gap is a wide one, especially after one has passed 33 or 33.

BRUIN CAGEMEN TACKLE CLUB QUINTET TONIGHT

One of the most thrilling of the early practice games is promised local basketball fans tonight when the strong U.C.L.A. quintet meets its toughest opposition to date in the Hollywood Athletic Club five. The game will be played in the gymnasium, starting at 8 o'clock.

The Hollywood A.C. is undefeated to date, with victories registered over the University of Southern California, 29 to 26; the Los Angeles Elks Club and Pomona College, 47 to 20. "Chuck" Kearney, old stand-by of the Movie City quintet, and Sammy Balter, former star running guard and captain at U.C.L.A., are the star players for the club team, and should give the collegians plenty of trouble.

Coach Caddy Works's Bruins are also undefeated at the present time. The Westwood Villagers trounced Whittier College 57 to 23 and Pomona College 45 to 15 on successive nights last week in the opening of the practice game schedule. Dick Linthicum, All-Coast forward two years ago but out of school last year, and Capt. Carl Knowles, All-Coast forward last year, are the big guns in the Bruin offensive, while Frank Lubin, the 6 ft. 5 in. "leaping Lithuanian," is the backbone of the collegians' defense. Dick Von Hagen, forward, and George Broterarkle, running guard, complete the first-string quintet.

The Bruin cagers will play the potent Los Angeles Athletic Club next Saturday night to officially open the basketball season at the Olympic Auditorium this season. The Mercuries, headed by Charley Hyatt, forward, and Carl Shy, old running guard for the Bruins, defeated the University of Southern California five Monday night, 30 to 24, in an overtime game.

NORTH DAKOTA ELEVEN ON WAY HERE FRIDAY

North Dakota football players leave Grand Forks Friday morning for Los Angeles, Fire Department officials were informed yesterday. The Nodaks are coming here for an intersectional tilt with the Firemen at the Coliseum Christmas Day. The game will wind up the season for both teams.

To date the Firemen have won nine games and lost one. The North Dakota team has been beaten but three times in three years. The only team that got by this season was the West Point Cadets.

In that game the Nodaks uncovered Red Jarrett and eastern writers picked him as one of the finest players that had played before them all season. Jarrett will hold down the quarterback berth in the game with the Firemen. He has scored on every team the Flickertails have met this year.

Besides Jarrett, North Dakota has John Burma, a fullback who was selected on a number of the Midwest mythical elevens. He stands 6 feet 2 and weighs more than 190 pounds. Burma can run the 100 in 10s, the advance notices state.

Bill Blewett, coach of the Firemen, will not be without some football dynamite himself for the game. He intends to release Don Moses, Boots Beyers, Les Grimes and Milt Nolan with everything they have in the clash.

DE PALMA MAKES FOURTH TRY FOR WIN AT ASCOT

So says Ralph De Palma, dean of American race pilots and hero of the Italian colony who will make his fourth attempt to crash into the first-place money when he drives next Sunday afternoon in the 100-lap sweepstakes at the Legion Ascot Speedway.

De Palma, admitted by the youngsters to be without a peer on the nation's ovals today, has had difficulty getting started at Ascot, mainly because of motor trouble on his No. 17 Miller.

Oil pressure trouble caused him to finish only fifth in his season's debut. He placed even father back the next time out. Last Sunday he was flagged down fourth.

That he is still a master driver was proved by the Latin ace two weeks ago when he fought viciously with "Stubby" Stubblefield in the Italian Helmet Dash. That race silenced some of the boys who were hinting that De Palma lacked the daring of the younger crop.

Last Sunday, another exhibition of the Italian's keen eye and coordination of muscle and mind at the wheel was the way in which he passed around Walt May when the latter's car went into a skid on the south turn.

CUBS' OUTFIELDER MAY PLAY INFIELD

CHICAGO, Dec. 16. (AP)—After hunting all over the baseball landscape for another first-baseman, the Cubs discovered they bought one from Baltimore last summer although they purchased him for an outfielder. Vincent Barton, a 22-year-old prospect, played in the outfield because Baltimore had a capable first-baseman and needed an outfielder. Manager Rogers Hornsby says he will be given plenty of opportunity to prepare himself to understudy Charlie Grimm and George Kelly.

CLAUDE VARNER PICKED TO DEFEAT SID TORRES

Claude Varner of Bakersfield carries too much artillery for Sid Torres, Filipino bantamweight, according to boxing dopesters who have made Varner favorite to win the Hollywood American Legion stadium main event Friday night. Varner is a wicked body puncher and Filipino fighters haven't been able to stand up under this kind of attack. Torres has fought some good boys, but he doesn't figure to win from Varner. The Hollywood stadium has been the scene of many upsets, but this week the favorite should cop.

There isn't a better fight on the card than the semi-wind-up. Young Sport and Jimmy Mack, bantamweights, are the principals. Mack may be a bit heavier than Sport and the weight may be the thing that beats the Pasadena lad. Mack was beaten in a great fight by Ernie Hood his last start at Hollywood.

Augie Curtis, local boy and a former amateur now managed by Willie Rooney, fights Pepi Sanchez in the special and Curtis should win. He has been fighting in the Northwest and San Francisco. Rooney intends developing him slowly like he did Jackie Fields. According to Rooney, Curtis shows signs of becoming a champion.

FLEET AWAITS TROPHY AWARD

West Virginia Gobs in Lead for "Iron Man"

"Mountaineer" athletes of the dreadnaught West Virginia have brought their ship into a commanding lead for the coveted "Iron Man" trophy, emblematic of general athletic supremacy of the battle fleet, it was announced yesterday by Lieut. L. P. Lovette, squadron athletic officer. Final results of the race for the "Iron Man" will be delayed, however, until after the fleet returns to San Pedro next April from the cruise to Panama.

Excellent performances of the West Virginia's athletes in football, boxing and wrestling this fall have thus given the ship her first chance at the all-fleet trophy since she went into commission in 1923. Much of the credit for her high standing is being given Lieut. J. E. (Pop) Jones, veteran Navy sports authority, who is her athletic officer. Standings of the five leading battleships in points to date for the "Iron Man" follow:

West Virginia	.4552
Nevada	.3909
Maryland	.3845
Tennessee	.2464
Mississippi	.2434

The race among the three leading ships is much closer than the figures indicate, says Lieut. Lovette. The Nevada's boat crews have shown outstanding class in all pulling races and continued success in this division would give the "Sagebrush" ship the title. The U.S.S. Maryland can also nose out the West Virginia by victories in baseball, sailing races and rifle and pistol matches, still to be run off.

Sports interest in the fleet this week is centering on the two sailing races to be staged off the anchorage Friday afternoon, a boat from each of the nine battleships here to be entered in each event. The first race, starting at 1 o'clock, will be for whaleboats, using regulation dipping lug rigs, while at 1:30 o'clock the nine motor sailing launches, hoisting schooner rigs, will get under way. Both events will start and finish off the U.S.S. Oklahoma, sailing once around a six-mile triangular course.

COUGARS WILL ARRIVE MONDAY

lace Wade's athletes will not reach Pasadena until next Tuesday morning, however, as a side trip to the Grand Canyon has been arranged following arrival in Phoenix Sunday.

Never in the history of Rose Bowl competition have two visiting teams planned such extensive training on the actual battle ground. One week has usually been enough and on several occasions teams have come here only two or three days in advance of their contests. With both elevens on deck for nine full days prior to the struggle there will be ample opportunity to get a good line on the players. This the press will appreciate. It might be a good idea, from a ballyhoo standpoint, if both Hollingbery and Wade would hold open house one day next week and invite the public in to have a peek at their charges.

Ten seniors and one sophomore form the first-string line-up of Wade's Crimson Tide.

The ten will be playing their last game on New Year's Day, but the sophomore, according to those who have seen the team, will continue for two years and before leaving school prove himself one of America's greatest field generals.

Because of Cain, Coach Wade abolished the huddle system this season. As Wade explains the situation, "Cain is good enough to direct any team. I knew that if the team used a huddle, his judgment of plays might be outvoted on a good many occasions, because the ten seniors might overrule him.

CAIN INVALUABLE

"Without the huddle the team has been a success, as its record shows. Cain has proved invaluable to me and to the team and he has full charge of the men while they are on the field. It isn't often a sophomore is able to fill the first-string quarterback bill."

Besides doing the brainy work for Alabama, Cain is the team's punter and leading pass thrower. He kicks with his left foot and throws passes with either hand, being more effective with his left.

The fact that he can toss the ball with either hand, however, makes him a more serious threat and it is against this that Washington State must guard on New Year's Day.

Chandler of Georgia was unanimously acclaimed to be the best punter to perform this season in the East. When the Dixie lads invaded Yale Bowl, Chandler staged a brilliant exhibition.

Against this same Chandler, when Alabama met Georgia, Cain matched the Georgia star's efforts nearly kick for kick. Chandler punted twelve times for an average from the line of scrimmage of forty-five yards. Cain punted fourteen times for an average of forty-four yards from the line of scrimmage. Each man punted against a heavy wind for two quarters. Cain's average dropped when he booted one only thirty-four yards out of bounds. It was the poorest kick of the contest.

Counter sale of tickets for the New Year's classic opens this morning at both B. H. Dyas stores and at the game headquarters, 26 South Marengo street in Pasadena, and at the chambers of commerce of San Bernardino, Ontario, Whittier, San Fernando, Ventura, Pomona and Glendale. In addition, agencies in San Diego, Santa Barbara, Bakersfield and Long Beach are distributing seats.

RABBIT PUNCHES

by PAUL LOWRY

THE FISHING SEASON

POP WARNER fishes at San Clemente and the Stanford alumni wonder what they'll do if they have to go fishing for a new football coach.

The Old Fox has been at the Farm for seven years. His system has been thoroughly installed. So effectively, in fact, that during his regime Southern California is the only school with a majority of victories.

However, the good Stanford folks may be worrying needlessly.

It is unlikely that Pennsylvania or any other university is going to put $25,000 a year on the line for a football professor.

When the University of California sent Mr. Bill Monohan forth in quest of a coach to succeed Nibs Price it was distinctly understood that $15,000 was the limit.

And it wasn't desirable to offer the new man the limit. That's all Dr. Robert Sproul, president of the university, receives.

So while the boys talk about Dick Hanley, who teaches the Warner system, coming from Northwestern, and Ernie Nevers, ex-Stanford star, taking the job, there probably is more smoke than fire.

Anyway, installation of the graduate system in the case of Nevers is not literal. The big fullback quit Stanford at the end of his last football season to accept a $25,000 professional offer when the country was going Grange crazy.

ABOUT THE RACKETEERS

WHAT'S all the shooting about?

Mr. James Woods, one of our boxing commissioners, wrote an article for an annual sports review.

He called boxing a racket.

And said racketeers were connected with it.

Nothing new about that, but it started the wolves to howling.

It appears that Mr. Woods tramped on somebody's corns.

But why worry about the little racketeers that hang on the fringes of boxing when the $8,000,000 racketeers get away with everything but murder.

THE GOLF BRIGADE

BOB HARLOW, the 10 per cent king, is resigned to the collapse of his pet theory.

But says the professional golf leaders of the United States will be here for the L. A. $10,000 openand the Agua Caliente $25,000 regardless.

With the exception the touring brothers, Wild Bill Mehlorn and Wee Bobby Cruickshank, all of the best known lights will soon be with us, according to Harlow.

Hagen, Smith, Diegel and all the other greats will be here. Also awarthy Gene Sarazen, who made the Mexicans like his victory at Caliente last year because of his color.

THE FOOTBALL FOLD-UP

LOYOLA of Chicago and Kentucky Wesleyan have folded up and abolished football because of falling gate receipts.

That isn't the reason given, but you can read the handwriting on the wall.

The reason for the little fellows falling by the wayside isn't hard to fathom.

Overemphasis on the so-called "big games" has weaned away even ardent alumni of the little school. Like sheep they follow the leader, and scramble for tickets to the sellouts.

MAXIE ORDERED TO BOX AGAIN

by such willing huskies as Bax Baer of San Francisco.

The commissioners likewise disposed of the rumors that Madison Square Garden was planning to stage a Stribling-Carnera match in Miami, Fla., this winter, with an eye toward pitting the winner against Sharkey here in April.

The presence in town of "Pa" Stribling, manager of the Macon Terror, representatives of Carnera and Frank Bruen, who is interested in various promotions in Miami and Havana, seemed to bear out the rumors but the commission's demand for an explanation brought a complete and immediate denial from Bill Carey, Garden president.

Carey wrote Farley the Garden had no intention of matching Stribling and Carnera in the South or anywhere else, and was not dickering for Carnera's services.

Carnera was indefinitely suspended and his license revoked following the scandal that broke out after his engagement with Bombo Chevalier in Oakland, Cal., several months ago. The penalty for negotiating with a fighter suspended by the commission includes revocation of the club license among other things.

Unless word is received from Schmeling within fifteen days accepting Sharkey as his next opponent, the commission will suspend the champion.

Schmeling promised the commissioners last June, following the unsatisfactory match in which he won the title from the Boston sailor on a foul, that he would meet Sharkey within a few months. Managerial complications prevented the return match at that time.

To add another bit of life to the heavyweight situation, Jack Dempsey applied through his secretary for renewal of his referee's license and the request was granted. The old man mauler plans to spend the Christmas holidays in New York and meet some of the Yuletide expenses with a bit of work here and there about the State.

"MOXIE" GIVES SCRIBES SLIP

BERLIN, Dec. 16. (AP)—Max Schmeling led reporters a merry chase tonight as they sought him for comment on the New York State Athletic Commission's ultimatum, ordering him to accept a challenge from Jack Sharkey within fifteen days.

Schmeling first was reported at Hamburg, where his mother is sick in a nursing home but later he was traced to Bad Saarow, a popular resort in Brandenburg. By the time news men had arrived there he had left for Berlin and they gave it up as a bad job.

SWIDERSHI HIT HARD

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 16. (AP)—Paul Swiderski, New York light heavyweight boxer, disqualified in the seventh round of his bout with Maxie Rosenbloom, titleholder, here December 2, was suspended for six months and his $550 purse declared forfeited by the Missouri State Athletic Commission after a hearing today.

JONES AWARDED SULLIVAN MEDAL

emplified in his refusal to accept a gift of $50,000 raised by popular subscription in Atlanta with which he was to buy a home.

"Has often been acclaimed at home and abroad as an unofficial ambassador of the United States to foreign lands. During the several years that he has been in the public eye, there has not been a single reflection on his sportsmanship or amateur status. By his excellence of performance, retiring nature, disdain for acclaim, helpfulness to and generous spirit toward his opponent and fine examples under many trying situations, he has endeared himself to all lovers of amateur sport."

Over 150 names originally were nominated by the selection tribunal for the award.

THREE CHOICES

From among those nominated, the Sullivan memorial committee of the A.A.U. selected the ten considered the most worthy. These ten, together with a summary of the reasons for their selection were sent back to the tribunal for final vote. The members of the tribunal, some 600 outstanding leaders in the world of sport, were asked to vote for three in the order of their choice, the first to receive five votes, the second three and the third one.

The Crimson Tide special train will carry eighty-two persons in the official party when it leaves Friday. Coach Wade said he would take thirty-five players and eight assistant coaches. Nine prominent southern sports writers, university officials and Gov. Bibb Graves will accompany the party.

DOUBLE MAT MAIN EVENT ON OLYMPIC CARD MONDAY

Promoter Lou Daro plans to make his final mat card of the year a double main-event one, it was reported yesterday with the signing of Ed (Strangler) Lewis to appear in the second bout of Monday night's program at the Olympic.

Nick Lutze and Henri De Glane will meet in one of the feature events, while Lewis's opponent is expected to be named today. The Lewis battle will also be a three-fall event.

The grappler, who is seeking the match here with Lewis is Joe Stocca, powerful 225-pound Italian, who arrived on the Coast from the East a few days ago, looking for matches with the local topnotchers. He is said to be after a match with Lewis, in particular, and Daro hopes to close this bout today. It is reported Stocca was sent here from the East to test Lewis's ability at this time.

Dan Koloff, who has been after a bout with Lewis here for the past few weeks, turned down the bout yesterday when he learned it would be a three-fall match. He was ready to meet the former champion in a one-fall battle. The Balkan declared he would need several warm-up bouts before taking on Lewis in a finish battle, so Daro signed him to meet "Wild" Bill Beth, the rougher from the Northwest, in the opener.

Beth returns to the Coast in wonderful condition for the time. He was a ... the East during the past ... months, appearing ... events in many of the big ... pling centers in that section ... the country.

circling around his heavier foe at will and keeping an inquisitive left in Bad News's face.

Johnson chased his elusive foe all over the ring, but couldn't catch him, and naturally couldn't hit him. Petrin had Johnson's face a gory mess when the bout ended.

Tommy Huffman had Leo Hernadez on the floor momentarily in the fourth round from a right to the head, and dragged down a six-round decision.

MILLER STARTS EARLY

No time was wasted by Hymie Miller in going to work on Midge Wiswell and at the end of the first round Wiswell had been badly battered about the face and body.

In the second round Wiswell hit the floor and the count had progressed to six when the bell sounded. Between rounds Wiswell's seconds asked to stop the fight because of their boy's condition.

Coiff Burris won by a technical knockout from Henry Meriscal in the second round. Meriscal was on the floor with knees off, but hands down. He was on dizzy street.

Firemen Band to Play at Bouts

The Firemen's band will add some peppy rhythms to the fistic stage, vaudeville and wrestling show, which will go on at the Pasadena arena tomorrow night as a Christmas benefit for the newsboy friends of Morrie Cohan, promoter. This extra program is being put on in addition to the regular Thursday night program this week.

The main scrap on the professional card will be fought by the Mexican puncher Joe Pimenthal, who will meet Lew Title. The bout is billed for eight rounds.

Bobby Reister will appear on the special exhibition program with Jimmy Sullivan in a four-round battle. Reister knocked out Baby Sal Sorio at the arena last week. "What a Man" Shires will referee this match, and Jim Jeffries, former world's heavyweight champion, will exhibit himself for the benefit of the crowd. "Terrible" Swede and Ad Herman will put on an exhibition wrestling match, and a big bunch of musical, stage and screen stars will do their best stuff using the ring as a platform for their acts.

RAMIREZ TO MAKE DEBUT HERE SOON

Bobbie Ramirez, a Filipino recently arrived from the islands, will make his American ring debut at the Main-street Athletic Club Saturday night when he meets Bobby Pacho. The latter will be the toughest kind of a test for the newcomer. The Mexican is a knockerout and a very fair boxer. Carlo Curtis has lined up three other six-round bouts on the card. They are Tony Cadena vs. Joe Bitto, 170 pounds; Ad Cadena vs. Homei Gaines, 133 pounds, and Louis Ramos vs. Bartola Magino, 130 pounds. Manual Davila and Sailor Nebres, 160-pounders, will box in the four-round curtain raiser.

BERRY TO LEAD POMONA ELEVEN

Center Is Elected Captain; Murdy Wins Trophy

CLAREMONT, Dec. 16.—Tom Berry, for two years an outstanding center on the Pomona College grid team, wil lcaptain the 1931 Blue eleven, it was announced tonight at the annual football banquet in Frary Hall. At the same time Don Murdy, versatile fullback, was awarded the Ace-Essex trophy as the most valuable man on the Sagehen aggregation.

Both of these men are graduates of Huntington Beach High School, where they played together before entering Pomona. Berry first proved his worth when he pinch-hit in great shape for John Judy at center during his sophomore year. Because of his work then he was named as all-star caliber. Rival coaches this last season have selected Berry as one of the outstanding linesmen in the Southern California Conference.

Murdy, a three-year letterman, has been a steady player throughout his collegiate career. As a sophomore he was a fullback. The following season Coach Eugene Nixon shifted him to guard to fill a vacancy, and this past year he was switched again to fullback. Murdy headed the interference most of the time, but he proved to be a strong ball carrier. His consistent punting classed him as the leading kicker in the circuit during the last campaign.

The banquet served as a farewell to the 1930 grid season. Truman Douglas, '23, was speaker of the evening and Charles E. Bent, '03, acted as toastmaster.

Varsity and freshmen players were guests of the student body at the event, which was planned by Dorothy Davison, vice-president. It served as a farewell to eight varsity men who graduate this year. They are Capt. Al Putnam, Murdy, Bob Baynham, three-year letter men; Curt Inman, Stew Hagestad, Nip Walker, two-year letter men; George Stancer, a letter man from the 1929 season, and "Shorty" Ingram, a scrapping reserve man. Stan Hahn served as senior manager during the season.

Preps Tangle in Basketball Meet Thursday

Basketball teams from exactly twenty-three Southern California high schools will participate in the second annual southern counties basketball tournament scheduled to start Thursday at Huntington Beach High.

The prep meet will last three days, the finals being listed for Saturday.

Coach Harry Sheue, director of athletics at Huntington Beach, announced last night that 312 players, managers, coaches and officials will invade the "Spudders" institution for the tournament.

First-round opponents Thursday will be: Excelsior vs. Fullerton; Brea vs. Whittier; Capistrano vs. Chino; Orange vs. Oceanside; Newport vs. Chaffey; Garden Grove vs. Santa Ana; Anaheim vs. Riverside. Tustin, Sweetwater, Grossmont, San Diego, Hemet, Redlands, San Bernardino, Huntington Beach and Banning all draw byes in the first round.

OAKLAND CHECKERS TO MAKE DEBUT HERE

Kenneth Dyer's Oakland Checkers, a new member of the California Hockey League, will make their first appearance of the season tomorrow night at the Winter Garden Ice Palace. They are scheduled to face the Los Angeles Millionaires, with women free.

Owner Malwick is well satisfied with the personnel of the Millionaires and believes that with the experience they are picking up they will soon pile up a good lead over the Sheiks. They have a victory and a tie game to show in their last two home appearances. The Checkers and Blackhawks must be faced before the Millionaires take up the road again, and Malwick has high hopes that his team will be leading the league when it goes on the road.

OLYMPIC CLUB FIVE TO FACE MERCURIES

The Olympic Club basketball team, runner-up for the National A.A.U. championship, will play two basketball games in Southern California during the holidays, it was announced yesterday. The Winged O cagers play the Los Angeles A.C. January 2, and the Pacific Coast Club at Long Beach January 3.

Both the Mercuries and the Long Beach Shields have also scheduled games with the Utah Aggies, the local clubmen playing them on the 26th inst., and the Shields the 27th inst.

WHAT'LL HAPPEN WHEN TIDE RUSHES IN TO MEET COUGARS?

JOHN MACK BROWN

Johnny Mack Brown, who played on the first Alabama team to appear in the Rose Bowl, and Ray Loomis, performing on the first Washington State eleven to play at Pasadena, will face each other over the microphone Thursday night from KHJ. Brown scored two touchdowns against Washington in 1926. Loomis played end on the Cougar eleven which thumped Brown University in 1916. Earl V. Foster, graduate manager of W.S.C., will also be on the program Thursday night to tell you about tickets for the Rose Bowl classic. Paul Lowry, sports editor of The Times, will conduct the interview at 9:30 p.m. The broadcast features the regular weekly presentation of the Los Angeles Times sports edition of the air.

EASTERN STARS ON WAY WEST

Hanley and Kerr Entrain With 22 Gridmen; Bruder Likely to Start

CHICAGO, Dec. 16. (AP)—The all-star eastern football squad, consisting of Coaches Dick Hanley of Northwestern and Andy Kerr of Colgate and twenty-two players, entrained tonight for San Francisco, where they will meet an all-star western team in a charity game, the 27th inst.

DICK HANLEY

The squad will arrive in San Francisco Friday morning. No workouts will be held en route.

The coaches sent their stars through a brisk rehearsal at Dyche Stadium, Evanston, this afternoon and were fairly satisfied with the workout. They were not certain about their starting line-up, but Hanley said it was likely he would try this combination:

Baker, Northwestern, and Gantenbein, Wisconsin, ends; Lubratovich, Wisconsin, and Van Bibber, Purdue, tackles; Woodworth, Northwestern, and Linehan, Yale, guards; Siano, Fordham, center; Baker, Pittsburgh, quarterback; Bruder, Northwestern, and Hart, Colgate, halfbacks; Macaluso, Colgate, fullback.

Special plays have been devised and long "skull" sessions have been programmed to break up the monotony of the journey.

Other players making the trip were: Ends, Rosenzweig, Carnegie Tech, and Bates, Western Maryland; tackles, Ely, Iowa, and Vincent, Yale; guards, Selby, Ohio State, and Doyle, Colgate; center, Bernard, Syracuse; quarterback, Brockmeyer, Minnesota; halfbacks, Wheeler, Michigan, and Fogarty, Brown; fullback, Gardner, Villanova.

Mercuries Cop Double-Header From Bengals

With its offense clicking in almost perfect unison, the Los Angeles Athletic Club basketball team rolled up a 68-to-32 victory over the Occidental cagers last night on the Tigers' floor. Despite the large score, the game was extremely hard fought, with several of the clubmen being taken out of the game on fouls. In scoring 32 points the Tigers did much more in an offensive way than most of the other teams the club has met.

Hyatt, Pickell and Wilcox were the main cogs in the visitors' offense. This trio alone piled up 44 points. Hyatt was not only the individual high-scorer with 19 points, but also figured prominently in his team's defense. Pickell and Wilcox scored 14 and 11 points, respectively, for the L.A.A.C. Elliott led the Tiger scorers with 11 points.

In the preliminary game between the Occidental second team and the L.A.A.C. reserves, the clubmen again came off the court with a victory, the score being 43 to 18. The L.A.A.C. also used its first team for awhile. McHose of the winners took high-point honors with 17 markers. The line-ups:

The choice offered him slowly filtered through the black's stupid brain. At last he answered: "I will lead you to the woman." "Lead on then," said Tarzan, "and I will follow you." As they went through a maze of corridors and rooms the ape-man wondered how the Bolgani had learned of his presence in the tower. He was forced to the conclusion that the old man had betrayed him. Finally they stopped before an entrance and the black gently separated the heavy curtains. "She is in there," he said. "Is she alone?" asked Tarzan. "No," replied the black, "look!"

The chamber was lighted by hundreds of cressets burning a substance that gave forth the heavy fragrance which had assailed Tarzan's nostrils since first he entered the domain of the Bolgani. Upon either side of a central aisle were carved benches facing the dais. On these sat some fifty Bolgani. Among them Tarzan saw the old man of the tower. Tarzan felt sure now that he was the cause of his betrayal. But what riveted the ape-man's attention was something else! At the foot of the stairs, between two Gomangani guards, stood La, High Priestess of Opar!

BANDITS BOOST TALLY OF CRIME

Robberies and Burglaries Go to New High Marks

One Pedestrian Knocked Out by Pair of Gunmen

Many Shop Owners Held Up by Bold Invaders

Proprietors and clerks of two drug stores, two ice cream parlors, a cafe, a delicatessen, a shoe store and a clothing store and two pedestrians were victims of bandits operating between 6 p.m. Monday and noon yesterday. At the end of the fifteenth day of this month the robbery total stood at 179. Last month at the same time it was 132, and in December a year ago 83. Burglaries increased to 315 as compared with 304 last month and 275 in December last year.

One of the pedestrians was struck on the head and knocked unconscious when he made an effort to resist two bandits who held him up in an alley between Oakwood and New Hampshire avenue. He is Fred Hicks of 3918 Beverly Boulevard. He told police he had just drawn a semimonthly pay check and was walking toward his automobile parked in the alley when the bandits stopped him.

MONEY TAKEN

As one of them commanded him to throw up his hands he swung a blow to the chin of the other, knocking him off his feet, and was then promptly knocked senseless by bandit No. 1. When he came to the bandits and $67 in his pockets were gone.

Sam Valenti, husband of Rose Valenti, who is serving a life sentence in San Quentin prison for burning her baby to death a year ago, was arrested on suspicion of robbery and assault with a deadly weapon shortly after Galliano Prusutto of 1540 Ricardo street reported being held up by a bandit armed with a butcher knife at 689 Moulton avenue, and robbed of $60. Prusutto identified Valenti as the bandit, according to Officer Curry, who made the arrest.

Victims of the drug-store robberies included Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Streer at 3201 Temple street, who were robbed by two bandits of $60, and J. Lofsky, at 1100 South Western avenue, who lost $122 to a bandit.

Three hours after the robbery of Lofsky two bandits entered the Chapman Ice Cream Company's shop at 1111 South Western avenue, almost directly across the avenue, and robbed the manager of $11.

At 5511 South Vermont avenue two bandits held up J. B. Ferguson in Hayden's Ice Cream Parlor and robbed him of $32.

Gus Rosenburg reported he was robbed of $70 by two bandits in his clothing store at 806 South Grand avenue.

OTHER HOLD-UPS

At an early morning hour Carl Dupzler was held up in the Central Cafe at 229 West Ninth street and robbed of $50 by two bandits.

Shortly before 9 a.m. yesterday a bandit threatened W. R. Jaques, manager of Young's Shoe Company at 6672 Hollywood Boulevard, with a revolver, tied him up with towels and then left with $50 from the cash register.

Heading the list of thirty-four burglaries reported while the above robberies were taking place was that which occurred at the Bower Eastside Company at 635 Stanford avenue. Entrance was effected through a trap door in the roof. Through a rear door burglars carried out $5000 worth of cigarettes and cigars, according to the police report.

Newsboy Dinner Will Get Aid of Police Officers

Los Angeles police will co-operate with the fire department in assisting Fred H. Solomon to give the fifteenth annual Newsboys' Christmas Dinner in the Biltmore Christmas morning.

One hundred officers will be detailed by Jack Finlinson, assistant Chief of Police, to co-operate in seeing that the 3000 news vendors enjoy themselves. In addition, a police motorcycle escort will clear the route for the parade of the newsboys from the respective newspaper offices to the Biltmore.

Members of the fire department, which has been delegated by Solomon to carry on the annual newsboys' dinner after his death, and for which he has provided a trust fund, will be posted at the various newspaper offices to load the youngsters, and also will assist at the hotel.

F. Richard Jones, Film Director, Laid to Rest

Hollywood paid its last tribute to F. Richard Jones, film director and former executive for the Hal Roach studios, when funeral services were conducted from the parlors of Gates, Crane and Earl yesterday morning. The rites were followed by cremation at Forest Lawn Memorial Park.

Jones, who was 36 years of age and considered a veteran in the film industry, died Sunday from a tubercular infection after an illness of about a year. He leaves his widow, the former Irene Lentz, fashion designer, and a daughter. The home is at 3096 Lake Hollywood Drive.

ELECTRICITY RATES CUT

Edison Company Makes Slash

BY FLOYD J. HEALEY
"Times" Staff Correspondent

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 17. (Exclusive)—Southern California Edison Company offered its consumers a Christmas present today in the form of electric rate reductions aggregating $775,000 annually, effective May 1, next. The action was proposed by officials of the company some time ago and announcement of the reduction was made by the Railroad Commission after the latter body had voted to approve the offer.

The reduction is only one of several to be made by the company, in each case voluntarily, over a period of years and is in keeping with that organization's desire to keep rates to a point where earnings are commensurate with the commission's rulings on a fair return.

BENEFITS TOTAL $3,000,000

By means of this latest rate move, Southern California consumers of gas and electricity benefit to the extent of almost $3,000,000 this Christmas. Reductions of $1,350,000 have been ordered by the commission, effective January 1, to consumers of gas supplied by the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation and the electric rates of that company, reduced $750,000 annually as an experimental measure, have been made permanent, effective January 1, also.

The proposed new reductions apply to industrial and agricultural consumers of electric energy throughout the entire Southern California Edison system in Southern and Central California. The number of agricultural consumers who will benefit totals 13,464, and [illegible] industrial consumers will share in the reduction.

The agricultural consumers were represented in the negotiations which resulted in the formal offer by J. J. Deuel, manager of the public utilities department of the California Farm Bureau Federation, who approved the offer.

THIRD REDUCTION

This rate reduction will constitute the company's third major voluntary reduction since 1927 and the eighth of a series of voluntary reductions inaugurated in 1920, according to R. H. Ballard, president of the company. The last voluntary reduction, which became effective November 1, 1929, lowered
